Mr. Smith was in Loup City a number of years ago, and he expressed the utmost surprise at the splendid improvement that had been made in our town and country around since that time. He said it was marvelous, as seldom would be found a town the age of Loup City that rejuvenated itself in the progressive manner he saw here.

Evergreen Cemetery.
All those interested in Evergreen cemetery, will take notice that there is to be a public meeting held upstairs in the court house, Saturday, June 2nd, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of taking steps to fence the cemetery grounds, make other improvements and to attend to any other business that may come up.

History of Cemetery.
Since there has been much public conversation and inquiry into the history and facts concerning this matter, it is the duty of the association to give the public all the knowledge and information in its possession.
The Evergreen Cemetery Association was organized May 3rd, 1885, with the following officers: J. Phil Jaeger, W. A. Wilson, W. H. Lark, J. D. Eard and Peter Truelsen. The first act of the association was the purchase of ten acres of ground out of David French's farm, where it is now located, and for which they promised to pay $47.50. Then on Sept. 17th, 1885, they borrowed $400.00 with which to pay up the outstanding indebtedness. This debt has never been paid and still stands against the association, they having only been able to pay an interest on the debt to date. There is now $11.00 in the account of the association.
The first burial in the last 27 years, is seven lots bringing $105.00. Since W. H. Lark retired as secretary J. Phil Jaeger served up until the time Louis Hansen has been secretary since that time.
These are the facts briefly stated and those desiring further details call on Mr. Hansen, secretary. Now as long as the debt is on hand and the sale of the lots produce no more than the amount of the debt, it is impossible, without the means, for the association to improve and do such work as is necessary to be done to the improvement of the grounds. This is a matter the public should much be interested in.

The officers of the association very much desire to be released of the duty and responsibility of the debt. No one has, not even the secretary, received one cent for all their pains and care in this matter. We would suggest a good way to do this, that each person buy a lot or lots of the association and with the sales amounting to $500 the association will be free of debt and the proceeds of future sales can then be devoted to improving and fixing up the grounds. Of course the association can do nothing without means, as you know.

Graduation Notice.
The graduating exercises will consist of the Baccalaureate sermon and Commencement. Rev. G. H. Wise will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening, May 27th, at Pilger's opera house. Admission will be without ticket. On Thursday evening, May 31st, the commencement exercises will be held. A class play, "Erin Go Bragh," will be given on this day. Admission will be by ticket and in order to defray the expenses of graduation a nominal fee of 10 cents will be charged. Tickets will be placed on sale to the class and to others in the play on May 25th; to those serving in the military on the forenoon of May 26th, to the general public on Monday, May 28th. No tickets will be sold at the door. In purchasing tickets, card must be presented.

Big Loads

HOW TO LOAD WITH Side Boards

Did you ever see a Manure Spreader using side-boards? Come to our warehouse and we will show you how it is done with a Litchfield Spreader.
It requires an endless conveyer to do this work and as the Litchfield Spreader has the one successful endless conveyer on the market we do not hesitate to assert that this is the only machine capable of hauling extra high loads a long distance and do it in a practical manner.
It looks funny to us sometimes to see a man going two or three miles with a load of light manure just level with the top of his box, when he could, as far as the weight of the load is concerned, just as well handle three or four times as much. He can not load higher, however, on the average machine because he can not distribute it when he gets to the field.
The Litchfield machine will stand loading just as high as you want to, putting on two or three sideboards if you see fit, providing you do not over-load the machine in weight and this is the only limit. Often times light bulky material is to be hauled a long distance, from one farm to another or from town, and the ordinary spreader makes it an expensive job.
Come and see us and we will show you how the Litchfield does this and if it does not appeal to you strongly there is something wrong with your constitution. Haven't you observed a man sitting on the average spreader and driving for miles with a load that a pony could pull, just because his machine would not unload it if it was piled any higher?
We don't furnish side-boards with the Litchfield Spreader, but if you want to put them on when you are hauling light weight manure and hauling it a long distance, there is nothing to prevent your doing it. This is only one of the dozens of valuable points about this modern spreader and we will tell you next week something about that five year guarantee on the 1906 machine.

T. M. REED.
