Dragged to Death.
J. Q. Pray brought us Tuesday the details of a horrible accident and death in his neighborhood. An eight-year-old son of Lawrence Ross, living on Oak Creek, about ten miles northeast of Loup City, had been sent to the pasture to drive in some horses. Not returning, search was instituted and the body was found in the pasture with the skull crushed, back broken and otherwise horribly mutilated. A horse was quietly brouching by the still form, with a headstall on and the end of the halter tied around the boy's body, which told the sad story.

One Accident, No Fatalities.
The Fourth passed off quietly here, only one accident being recorded, that of Miss Orpha Outhouse, who while walking on Main street about noon received the contents of a blank pistol in her face, about the eyes, fired by a reckless boy, but fortunately not severely injuring her as she closed her eyes opportunely and perhaps saved total blindness. Grand Island, Sargent and Wiggle Creek received the bulk of those going elsewhere to celebrate, while those who remained at home, including the band boys, celebrated at Jenner's Park and with various picnic parties there and points along the river. Rain in the afternoon interfered somewhat with picnickers, but not being heavy nor lasting only dampened the grounds and ardor of the people for a short time. All in all it was a very enjoyable day.

Nebraska People Profit by the Great Earthquake and Fire at San Francisco.
Two of the largest San Francisco piano companies were forced by the great catastrophe to forfeit heavy contracts with eastern factories. The Schmoller & Mueller Piano Company, of Omaha, were successful in securing one hundred and twenty of these instruments at a great sacrifice by acting promptly and paying spot cash. They now propose to give the benefit to their customers by disposing of them quickly at a slight advance over cost, as follows:
Handsome new upright pianos of New York and Boston manufacture in Colonial cases of dark Mahogany or French Burl Walnut finish (several makes to choose from, perhaps your favorite) and none made to sell for less than $300. will be closed out at the remarkable cut price of $175. Do not delay. Call or write at once for catalogues and complete information. Over six hundred pianos in stock. Address The Schmoller & Mueller Piano Co. Established 1859. 1311-13 Farnam St., Omaha
