The populist county convention is dated for the second Friday in August, the 10th.

From all points of view it is evident the senatorial fight will be between Rosewater and Brown, with all other forces eliminated.

As it is yet two years before the presidential fun begins, Bryan coyly reserves his mind about the buzzing of that particular bee in his bonnet.

The prohibitionists will hold their state convention at Lincoln July 31st, and Sherman county will be entitled to three delegates. Are there three in the county?

Millard says he is in the race for U. S. senator and he don't care a tinker's dam about the action of the state convention, but looks to the legislature rather.

Rosewater captured the Douglas delegation last week and starts in the senatorial race with 83 votes from his own county. It begins to look as if the old man was in to win.

We hear it whispered that Hon. E. H. Kittel of Rockville will be a strong candidate before the populist convention for state senator, with the best evidence pointing to his nomination.

A rate of one fare plus 50 cents will be given over all railroads in the state on account of the coming Republican state convention on August 22nd, so we are informed.

A few men who label everybody on the outside of their little circle as "thieves" and "enemies" of the dear people will stand just a mite of watching. Instances have been known when the man who said "Amen" the loudest never saw the contribution box at all.—Arcadia Champion.

In the Buffalo county convention held at Kearney, July 29th, R. M. Thomson of Ravenna was declared the choice of his county for state senator. Sherman county concedes to Buffalo the nominee for that office, hence undoubtedly Mr. Thomson will be the Republican state senator from Sherman and Buffalo counties in the coming state legislature.

Dr. J. B. Conway of York is the latest addition to the gubernatorial field of candidates. Grandpa Steele, formerly acting lieutenant-governor by the elevation of His Accidency Gov. Savage, and a mighty nice old man, got into the running just preceding him. That makes seven active candidates for governor—Wall, the winner; Weston, the Northwestern pedestrian; Nix Com a Rouse; Miles, little known, of Adams, and George L. Sheldon of Nemaha, who wants it bad.

The report emanating from the "Loup City Life Factory," that W. R. Mellor and John W. Long went out to see Mr. Carl T. McKinnie the day preceding the convention and "fixed" up the matter of his nomination for representative is emphatically denied by all the gentlemen, as a wilful, malicious fabrication. Such report is an insult to the gentleman who nominated Mr. McKinnie, and to the convention which gave him the unanimous vote for the office of representative. It is needless to make further comment over the matter.

Sherman county paid John Wall a fitting tribute at its republican county convention on last Friday when it accorded to him the privilege of selecting his own delegates from that county to the state convention. Mr. Wall settled in Sherman county when he first came to this state years ago, and has held a position of trust there at one time being county clerk. The people there know him and that he should be paid such a compliment by his old neighbors who take this method of expressing the faith they hold in him is a source of gratification to him.—Arcadia Champion.

Fatal Accident From Fire.

Word was received here Wednesday morning that Leo Fletcher, aged 18 years, a son of Milton Fletcher living some four miles from Comstock, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fletcher of this city, had been seriously burned while assisting a woman and her 3-year-old child whose clothes had become ignited through the explosion of an incubator lamp, and whose death followed. The case of the young man was reported alarming and Grandpa and Grandma Fletcher immediately left for his bedside.

Aftermath comment on the work of the republican county convention bears out the wisdom of the delegates in all respects. The resolutions are considered with the most supreme pleasure as covering the sentiment of the republicans of the county, while the candidates selected are satisfying to the party as a whole and will without doubt receive the hearty support of the voters at the polls in November and be overwhelmingly elected. Mr. Robert P. Starr, who was unanimously chosen as our candidate for county attorney, is a bright, self-made young lawyer, has shown good legal ability since coming among us, has acquired a flattering practice in our courts, and has a large and constantly increasing clientele. His nomination is a compliment to the young republicans of Sherman county, and his consequent election assured. Mr. Starr, though a comparatively young man, has led a most strenuous life. At the tender age of 13 years he was thrown upon his own resources, and from that time to the present has had to rely upon his individual self in making a living, gaining for himself a good legal education, and building up a law practice that might well be the envy of lawyers of much greater years and more wide experience. Mr. Starr was for years a trusted employe of railroad companies in the capacity of telegraph operator and station agent. He held the secretaryship of important committees in two sessions of the Iowa senate some years since, and was a trusted clerk in the office of Gov. Jackson, during that executive's administration of Iowa affairs. He was secretary of the committee on printing in the Nebraska senate the session of 1882-3, and in all of the places of honor he has filled has been highly commended as a faithful and competent man. He was a student of law at the Nebraska State University, graduating with high honors, and after a year in the law practice at Aurora, came to Loup City, where his life has been an open book to our people, and shows the success he has accomplished and the record made in his unanimous nomination for the county attorneyship in the county convention lately held. The convention made no mistake in calling Bobb. P. Starr from private life to accept the nomination for the above responsible place, and we believe he will be a faithful servant of the people in that office, to which he will be elected this fall.

It is claimed that Hon. Frank Curry has withdrawn from the senatorial race.

Corner-Stone Ceremonies.

The laying of the corner stone of the new Catholic church of this city took place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, with very impressive ceremonies and an immense crowd in attendance. Six priests took part in the ceremonies. Rev. Winibald Wolfe of Grand Island conducted the ceremonies in laying the corner stone. Rev. Joseph Augustyn of Ashton was the celebrant at high mass, assisted by Rev. Stanislaus Jaszczynski of Posen as deacon and Rev. Renaeus Jorka of Ashton as sub-deacon and Rev. Boleslaus Radka of Ashton as master of ceremonies, which occurred just previous to the laying of the corner stone. After the above ceremonies, Rev. Wolfe preached a sermon in English, followed by Rev. Edward Soliwoski of Elba, in an address in Polish. The church, when finished, will have cost upwards of $22,000.

Lost and Found.

After spending the 4th of July celebration in Ord including the fireworks, Jay Hain and Bertha Vance, aged respectively 19 and 15 years, started for home, supposing they were following close behind their companions who were also in top buggies. After leaving the hills and coming into Mira Valley Bertha thought they were going in the wrong direction, but trusting to their friends whom they heard laughing and talking ahead they followed on until one by one the teams stopped by the way, when they realized their mistake, but still drove on supposing they could find their way, until daylight revealed a strange country. Still on they went confident of finding some road or place they knew until four o'clock Thursday afternoon the horses became so exhausted they were forced to stop and rest them. One horse then became sick and they were delayed till nearly night when they crossed the river and seeing a town in the distance which they thought was Ord. Finally they drifted into Arcadia after day break inquiring if it was Scotia. There a constable who had been notified of their absence, found them in a store eating a lunch, both children so frightened they could hardly talk. Friends and neighbors took them home to their anxious parents, where they arrived about five o'clock Friday evening. Both of the young people are well and favorably known and are of respectable families who live about 18 miles southeast of Ord.
