Had he not had his belt around the pole at the time he would have been thrown to the ground and possibly injured. As it was he luckily escaped without further injury. Last evening occurred the wedding of Miss Gladys O'Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. O'Bryan, at her home in this city, to Mr. Joe Thompson, also of this city, and an employee working at the Ravenna Creamery Company. Rev. Father Jarka, resident priest, tying the nuptial knot. Some seventy-five invited guests were present and showered congratulations upon the happy couple, and numerous and costly were the tokens of esteem presented by their many friends. We understand they will make their home in this city. May happiness and prosperity attend them. Mrs. Ashbury Collins of Kearney, president of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the West Nebraska conference, spoke last Sunday morning at the Baptist church, and again in the afternoon at the same place to ladies only. Mrs. Collins will return and be accorded a place on the program at the dedicatory services of the M. E. church next Sunday morning. Mrs. Collins is the widow of Rev. Ashbury Collins, who with the editor's good father, Rev. H. J. Burleigh, also passed into the great beyond, were pioneer Methodist preachers in Iowa fifty years ago, when to be a preacher of the gospel meant untold hardships and privations in the then wilderness of the west, and the fellowship of these two grand old men and their families then followed on down to their death, and lives in the hearts of those yet remaining to never cease in this life nor the life to come.

FOR SALE.—Pilger's Opera House, or the building can be used as a store room. Inquire of Pilger.

J. W. Harper, former landlord of the St. Elmo, was doing business in Loup City last week. Mrs. Geo. McFadden, while in Grand Island last week purchased a new piano for her children. Herbert Nightingale left for Lincoln last Saturday, where he was to enter the Nebraska Agricultural college. J. B. Ford of Washington was in town last Saturday and took home a goodly supply of young fault trees. H. A. Sleeth, the enterprising cash butter, eggs and poultry dealer, is another new reader of the Northwestern. Mrs. August Bechtold was over from Custer county last week on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Row. Walter Wasnicki is preparing to erect a residence in northeast Loup City, the dimensions of which are to be 24x30, at least. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stehr and daughter of Grand Island returned home Monday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ohlsen of this city. J. A. Grella, one of the enterprising young farmers of Ashton township, became a new reader of the Northwestern last Friday. Thanks. John W. Long went to Lincoln last Saturday, returning Monday evening. Mrs. Long and John, Jr., returning with him. Mrs. Long's health being much improved. On account of the re-opening service at the M. E. church next Sunday morning there will be no preaching service at the Presbyterian church. Other services as usual. R. J. Nightingale went to Lincoln yesterday morning, where he goes to argue the Pilger real estate case before the supreme court, and incidentally visit his children in school there. We received a pleasant call last Saturday from Mr. Fred Shipley, living some eight miles north of Litchfield, who called to renew for the Northwestern another year. Thanks. The ladies of the Entre Nous club met with Mrs. Wilbur Waiter last Saturday afternoon, it being her 41st birthday anniversary. You will have to guess out the blank for figures. We don't know. The Royal Neighbors will give a free dance in Society hall, next Tuesday evening to all members of the order. Members and their families are cordially invited to be present. Each member, in addition to the family, will be allowed to invite as guests one couple not members of the order. The young people of Wiggle Creek assembled at Charley Snyder's house on Hallowe'en and of course had a ge-lorious time. Later they took in the greater part of the township perpetrating harmless pranks, which only ceased when the dawn of the day was at hand. Four party lines belonging to the Sherman County Telephone Co., and a through toll line to Loup City, have been brought to Ravenna and connected with the switch board of the Ravenna Telephone Co. There are sixty-five instruments on the four party lines, adding that number of people to the directory of the local exchange. —Ravenna News. Mike Lorcheck, living some eight miles northeast of Loup City, met with a serious accident last Friday while going home from town. By some means his team got the wagon in a cramped position throwing Mr. Lorcheck to the ground, the vehicle running over him and breaking three ribs. Dr. Long was called, reduced the fracture and the patient is doing well. Uncle Joe Pedler thinks the boys didn't use him right on Hallowe'en. Feeling badly, he retired early, for getting to leave the barn door open. Thinking the boys might need Old Granny and the buggy, when Carl came home he had him open the barn door, and then thinking the boys might be hungry at a late hour, had Carl place a pan of apples out for them and they didn't even take the apples. Uncle Joe vows he will get even with the boys yet. While Wilbur Waiter was engaged in stringing telephone wires last week a pole on which he was hanging suddenly swung back, owing to the breaking of a light, and he was thrown loose from the pole to which he was hanging by spurs, and in falling struck his chin on a cross pole, badly damaging that member. While Mrs. G. H. Gibson was engaged in doing the family washing last Monday, she slipped on the damp steps leading to the porch and in falling struck on her side across the porch, breaking one or two ribs, besides badly injuring one arm which struck on a tub. Dr. Bendickson was called and treated the injured woman and at present she is doing as well as the nature of her injuries will admit. Among the new names added to our list the past few days were those of Mrs. L. Gee, and who also sends the paper to her sister, Mrs. Smith at Redding, Iowa. What makes these new names to our list of especial pleasure to the editor, is that Mrs. Smith and her husband, the late James Smith, a wealthy land holder of Ringgold county, Iowa, were in the years past two of the choicest friends of the editor, and of whom he has ever had the warmest feelings of friendship and to find Mrs. Gee is a sister of one of these old and devoted friends, makes the whole transaction one of most pleasure in the usual routine of business life. May these good sisters live to the ripest of old age and have every happiness the years can afford.

Severe Winter Predicted.

The weather prophets are already out in full force, providing for the coming winter. If the accepted signs mean anything at all, it will be the severest in twenty years. Cornshucks are reported to be over a foot thick in some localities. Geese, ducks and chickens are growing a heavy coat of fur underneath their feathers. Squirrels are rubbing powdered borax on their feet to harden them. The one-eyed owls are leaving their holes a month earlier than usual. Bob-tailed gophers are laying in sweet potatoes and canned goods, as well as nuts for winter provisions. Auburn barbers report an increased demand for hair restorers for bald-headed men, and several of our smooth-shaven citizens are growing beards. Latest reports from the farming districts indicate that the winter squash will have deep wrinkles in them this year. The last time this happened the weather was cold enough to freeze the handles on the milk buckets. Rabbit's ears are reported to be over a foot thick. If this means anything at all it means at least twenty degrees below zero from November to May. Cows are said to be hunting for pieces of red flannel to wrap around their tails and the wise hogs are rooting their way to the center of the straw stacks. This is said to be a sure sign that the roads will be blocked with snow for whole years at a time inside the Arctic circle. —Auburn Republican.

What to Read.

If you have the blues, read the twenty-seventh Psalm. If people seem unkind, read the fifteenth chapter of Job. If your pocketbook is empty, read the thirty-seventh Psalm. If you are all out of sorts, read the twelfth chapter of Hebrews. If you are losing confidence in men, read the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians. If you are discouraged about your work, read the one hundred and twenty-sixth Psalm. If you can't have your own way in everything, keep silent and read the third chapter of James. —Sunshine Bulletin.

A farewell surprise party was given to Misses Millie and Minnie Hanisch Thursday evening, here the left for Kearney where they will attend the state normal. A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Lay, last Friday. Louie Hanisch went to Dannebrog and back Monday. The new drug store is almost completed and Morrow & Rasmussen are shipping their stock which they expect to open up in a few days. The Omaha Elevator Co. shipped a car of hogs to Omaha Monday. E. Perry came up from Boelus on a business trip. Louis Louck has opened up a barber shop and is ready to serve the public at the same old stand. Claus Plambeck is hauling lumber for a new machine shop. S. H. Branscomb has been on the sick list for the past week. Loup City School Notes. Tuesday afternoon an expert from Omaha came to find the cause of several radiators not working in the schoolhouse. The difficulty was found to be that the valves were filled with paper, and now everything is in good working order. Miss Marie Riemann entered the 11th grade again Monday after an absence of several weeks, owing to the sickness of her mother. The following names have been added to the roll of the 1st intermediate: Johnnie Ingersoll, Retta Gasteyer and Orville Wilson. The 12th grade began review in arithmetic Monday, having finished the work required in grammar. Winnie Gasteyer is in school again after a three months' visit in Mexico. Myrtle Wilson is a new member of the 8th grade. The 8th grade have taken up mental arithmetic and are doing fine. There is a general improvement in that room over last month.
