J. W. BURLEIGH, Ed. and Pub.

Gov. Mickey has broken all former records of Nebraska executives in his leniency toward criminals. His total pardons in four years have been fifteen in number, four of which were for murder, has commuted the sentences of 65 inmates of the penitentiary and paroled a large number of lesser criminals. Is it any wonder crime is on the increase, when governors will undo the work of the courts and turn criminals loose about as fast as the courts convict and sentence? The record made by Gov. Mickey in this respect may be all right, but to a very large body of law-abiding citizens it looks in the nature of a bid for increased lawlessness.

Our readers need not be surprised should the coming legislative session be the shortest in the history of the state. If, as it seems likely now, the members will have no passes home or elsewhere, there will be little of the homecoming, which in former sessions has comprised one-fourth to one-third of each week in the earlier part of the agony, and we may expect few recesses, except for the purpose of committee work. Heretofore, the legislative session has always been lengthened into about ninety days, for which the members have received only sixty days' pay, the actual days of legislative meetings being an average of four days per week, the other three days being taken to go to their various homes under pretext of private business, the courtesy of yearly passes to the members making such vacations from their strenuous legislative labors very pleasant pastime. Now, however, if the members will have to dive down into their unmentionables for the necessary to enable them to go home to "consult their constituents," so to speak, or otherwise, they will undoubtedly find it more convenient and cheaper to stay in Lincoln and attend to business and shorten the session one-third.

Along R. R. No. 1
Roy Eaton went to Loup City last Thursday.

John Heapy was hauling wheat to Litchfield last week.

Col. J. J. Frey returned from his Christmas trip Saturday.

John Bell came home from school at St. Paul for the holidays.

Miss Eva Tykwart is at home for a two weeks' vacation on Clear Creek.

Max Leschinsky and Martin Price broke the road along their line Monday.

The school taught by Miss Carrie Douglas will not commence till Jan. 7th, 1907.
Clyde Hawthorne and nephew of Arcadia visited at S. S. Reynolds' last Thursday.

Austin Hendrickson, mail clerk on the B. & M., visited his parents and brother during the holidays.

Messrs. and Mesdames W. Shettler and Thos. Parsley of Clear Creek were trading in Loup City Friday.

Romeo Conger and wife have been staying at A. J. Budler's during their absence at Aurora for the holidays.

S. S. Reynolds and family ate Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pinckney's on Pleasant View farm.

John Kratzer is here from Missouri visiting E. Driscoll on Clear Creek. He thinks this is a fine country and who doesn't? He is thinking very strongly of locating here.

Joe Korolewski's sons went over to F. A. Pinckney's with four teams the morning before Christmas and finished husking his corn. Mr. Pinckney was surprised to see them there when he got up as it was not yet daylight.

H. S. Conger had quite a time last Friday morning getting one of his horses out of a manger where it had been kicked by one of the other horses the night before. It's back was hurt so that they took a block and tackle and raised it on its feet and is now all right.

Don't forget to order those trees for along the route to make the country look better, also for those weedy drouths on the farm, and grow your own wood in five years. Now would be a good time for every township to set aside $100 for breaking the sod on the bad hills in the spring, so when the fall road work commences they will not be bothered with the tough sod. The hardest job is to get the sod off when working the roads in the fall and some time that is all they get accomplished. By breaking the sod in the spring it will mean better roads next fall.

AND THESE WERE WED.

Thompson-Gasteyer.
Married, at the home of the bride, in Loup City, on the evening of December 31st, 1906, at 8:30 o'clock, Mr. Earl W. Thompson and Mrs. Blanche M. Gasteyer, Rev. G. H. Wise of the Methodist church performing the ceremony. Mrs. Thompson has long been one of the principal merchants of our city, and has been a resident of this city from early childhood. The groom has for the past two years or more been head clerk of the Gasteyer mercantile establishment and is a business man of good ability. The marriage comes in the nature of a surprise to our people, but they none the less extend their warmest congratulations and best wishes for the future for the happy couple who left the following morning on a short visit to the groom's former home in Kansas.

Johnson-Koch.
The parlors of the St. Elmo hotel was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday afternoon, when Mr. Erick Johnson and Miss Hilda Koch both of Rockville township, were united in marriage, Rev. L. C. McEwen officiating. The groom was supported by Mr. R. H. Mathew of this city, and Miss Mary Benton of Rockville performed the duty of bridesmaid. Miss Beth Zimmerman presided at the piano and at the close of the ceremony sang most sweetly the very appropriate song, "I Love You Dearly." Just a few intimate friends were present.

Vance-Cupp.
At the county judge's office, Monday morning of this week, Newton E. Vance, who formerly clerked for C. W. Conhiser, but lately with Boyd Burrows' show company, appeared before his honor, Judge Angier, and was quietly married to Miss Jessie Cupp of Palmer, this state, who will be remembered as being engaged in the dressmaking business here about two years since. Mr. and Mrs. Vance succeeded in getting away on the afternoon train east before their many friends were made aware of the happy event. However, best wishes follow them.

Blaschke-Draper.
A very pretty little wedding took place at the home of E. A. Draper in this city on the first day of the new year, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank Blaschke, Jr., and Miss Nellie Draper, Rev. G. H. Wise officiating. The relatives of the bride and groom were there to offer congratulations and well wishes and incidentally to partake of the splendid dinner so invitingly set before them. This was indeed a joyous affair. Many beautiful presents were brought by the guests. We trust the happiness of their lives may be beyond the reach of storm and cloud.

Squier-Blaschke.
Last week Wednesday at the home of Mr. Frank Blaschke, Esq., of Webster township occurred a very pretty wedding when their daughter, Antonia, and Harvey Carl Squier were united in marriage. At the hour of high noon the young couple attended by Miss Nellie Draper as bridesmaid, and Mr. Frank Blaschke as groomsmen, took their places beneath a wedding bell, when Rev. H. S. Wold of the Baptist church performed the ceremony that made them one. The bride was daintily dressed in cream silk, while the groom wore the conventional black. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The bride is quite well known and is a lady of many accomplishments and winning ways. The groom is one of our finest young men. They received many beautiful and costly presents. They will make their home with the groom's parents, until the first of March, when they will begin housekeeping on a farm two miles west of Loup City.

It is hardly to be wondered that the average Omaha takes kindly to alcoholic beverages, when we consider the endless trouble they are having over the public water works question.

At Topeka, Kas., the other day, Willing Jennings Bryan signified that he would accept a third nomination for the presidency at the hands of Dame Democracy. Well, who ever thought he would not?

An exchange is of the opinion that the best speech ever made on the Tariff was delivered by Abraham Lincoln. It was brief, but to the point, and here it is: "I do not know much about the Tariff, but I know this much, that when we buy manufactured goods abroad we get the goods and the foreigner gets the money. When we buy the manufactured goods at home we get both the goods and the money." Statesmen who pretend to know more about the Tariff than Lincoln did have made long speeches on the subject, but it is plain as day that, as the exchange insists, old Abe's argument has never been surpassed for telling effectiveness.

Tool Cost

The cost of a tool isn't settled at the time you buy it. Its real cost depends as much upon its length of service as upon its price.

KEEN KUTTER TOOLS

are not the lowest priced but they're cheapest in the end because they last so much longer. Thirty-two years for a hatchet and twenty years for a saw are two Keen Kutter Records.
