J. W. BURLEIGH, Ed. and Pub.

According to the editor's observations while absent on his trip last week, crop prospects in Iowa were not nearly so good as in glorious Nebraska, a fact which was as displas-ing to Iowans as pleasing to Nebraskans.

The host of friends of Sheriff Williams over the county lose no opportunity to congratulate him over the salary plum of $1,100 per year fixed by the board under the new law, giving to sheriffs salaries instead of the unsatisfactory fee plan.

The writer was fortunate in being in Omaha last week Tuesday, on the occasion of Secretary of War Taft's visit to that city, and hearing him speak in the magnificent new temple erected by the Y. M. C. A. While Secretary Taft is not an orator, so to speak, he impresses one as being a great government officer, one of the greatest this country has ever known.

Candidates for election or re-election to office in this county do not seem in a hurry to announce their candidacy, and outside of Uncle Lou Williams for sheriff, we have not heard of any pronounced candidates. Of course, the "little dinky" is accredited with bringing out some names preferable to its would-be dictator, but outside of its perennial wall and murdering of the king's English, there seems to be no responsible or irresponsible mention of possible candidates.

District court convened here Tuesday noon in adjourned session, lasting till about Wednesday noon, to finish up the work of the docket. Court sessions in Sherman county as a rule are short and sweet, Judge Hostetler finding in court here the smallest amount of litigation of any county in his district. Judge Hostetler allows no waste time in the sessions over which he presides, every moment of time being utilized to the very best possible advantage. He makes one of the best judges in Nebraska, and as he is up for and entitled to a re-election, it is our opinion he will have very little opposition, if any, for another term as presiding judge of this district.

Rockville Items,
A small crowd attended the dance ville on the Fourth of July.

tin last Sunday to play ball. Six to will be here next Monday to visit his good man down.

W. F. Clark received word from Arcadia that Grant Rogers' boy had almost cut his foot off with a hoe one day last week. Mrs. Clark went up to see him. Grant Rogers lived on route last year.
Miss Kate Cross, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Andy Coppersmith, last week received word that her sister at York was very low with
