I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of County Assessor, subject to the will of the Republican voters at the primary election to be held Sept. 3rd, 1907.

The county clerk will place blank lines on the primary tickets, the same as on regular election ballots.
So now you may have the full exercise of your freeman's choice of candidates at the primary. That's right.

We have yet to hear one word in commendation of the new primary law from our readers, as they understand it. According to it, any plugging can become a candidate on any party ticket, provided he is in possession of a few dollars to buy himself a place on the same. It appears to be the rankest, rottenest specimen of the kind ever placed upon the statute books.

If a person is asked why lumber is skywards in price, the usual answer in part is that the tariff is one prime cause. To settle a tariff dispute on lumber the other day, the governor instructed his private secretary to look up the tariff schedules on that article and found that the duty on common lumber was 50 cents per 1,000 feet, while on the dressed or high grade stuff it was $2. This being the case, the prime cause will be looked for elsewhere.

Secretary of State Junkin has received numerous inquiries whether a vote should be counted for a republican who has been voted for in the democratic or some other column, same being written in by the voter.
Mr. Junkin holds this will not count as a republican vote, but must be counted for the party in whose column the name is written—this is, if John Jones is running for a republican nomination and some democrat writes his name on the democratic ticket, the democrat vote will not count for John Jones, republican.— Omaha Bee.

By all political precedent, a man is supposed to be given by his party a second nomination for any office, provided his official acts are in accord with that party. This thought is brought to the fore by the case of State Railway Commissioner Henry T. Clark of Omaha, who was appointed by Governor Sheldon to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Commissioner Cowell, and who asks for a nomination to that office by the republican party. Notwithstanding that by precedent he should be given the nomination by his party, there being nothing against his record since his appointment, there are two or three other men asking for the nomination to the office which so far as we can learn he has filled with entire satisfaction. Just why these other men are up for the office or on what ground they wish Mr. Clark turned down, we are unable to learn, and until we know of some good and sufficient reason for their elevation, to the consequent defeat of the present incumbent, we shall be for Henry T.
Clark, Jr., the present member of the State Railway Commission, for election to that office, and urge the readers of the Northwestern to do likewise. Vote for Hon. Henry T.
Clark, Jr., present member of the State Railway Commission, to succeed himself in that important office. It is but justice to Mr. Clark.

There is strong talk of government investigation into the great telephone monopolies as an outcome of the telegraphic operators' strike. It is well understood that the Western Union monopoly is about two-thirds to three-fourths watered stock and on this they seem to be able to make a 5 per cent dividend every two months or so, which would give at least 30 per cent dividend on the actually invested money. And then when the men working for said monopoly wish a fair remuneration for their work, they are turned down. Our sym-paties are with the working men in this fight and we believe a government investigation would develop startling facts in regard to the methods of this great grasping telephonic monopoly.

If people ever had an itching ear for slanderous stories concerning their neighbors it is not so now. Personal abuse is deservedly unpopular and human nature at the best manifests so many defects that each individual will find plenty of material within themselves if they are of a criticising turn of mind.—O'Neill Frontier.

The State Fair September 2-6 will have "Ducky" Holmes' Lincoln "Goslins" and the Sioux City "Duncaneites" play Western League baseball before the grand stand at the race track at 10:15 a. m., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. This will give an opportunity for our boys to see if Western League ball is superior to our own brand.

Cleoria Items.

Mr. Nelson is building a new house.
Ogle Bros. are threshing in our vicinity this week.

Mr. Fred Weedin is up haying with his twin brother, Frank.

Mrs. A. L. Zimmerman called on on Mrs. Foss Wednesday.

ill last Saturday evening.

Floyd Warrick returned home from Aurora Saturday evening.

last week, but is improving.

and prospects for corn not more than a half crop.

Mr. Tucker of Aurora is here building a house on his farm, the old Tom Burton place.

Mr. Dietz' lost their little one last Sunday. So willeth our Master, but yet how sad.

The DeMarandevill family had reunion last Sunday at the home of Corvin Squires.

Mrs. Bell received word from her brother in Colorado that their crops were all gone and his wife lying near death's door.

We wish to correct a mistake in the Cleoria items last week. Mrs.
Ed. Shipley and brother and Mrs.
Bene were visiting twenty miles north of Sargent where they missed the train, so drove home overland that day.

Hazard Happenings.
F. W. Fuller was a Litchfield visitor Monday.

Fred Fuller spent Sunday (as usual) in Ravenna.

John Cressler of Ravenna was doing business in Hazard Monday.

Mrs. H. H. Thompson is visiting relatives at Amherst this week.

The Norwegian minister has moved into town, adding one more to our quiet burg.

Quite a number of our people attended the Woodman picnic at Litchfield Thursday.

Mrs. Nellie Treadway returned a few days ago after a month's visit at Lincoln and other points.

The B. & M. has changed night operators twice in the past week. It is hard to beat a record like that.

The new bridge south of town is nearing completion. This will be of great advantage to the farmers who live south of town.

Mr. Anthony Ward, who has been visiting in these parts for the past month, left Monday evening for his home in Denver, Colorado.

A large crowd gathered at the home of Mr. Jacob Benson to greet their daughter, Ida, who was married about a month ago and has since been away on her wedding trip.

The new meat market has opened up for business. This fills a long felt want, as the town has been in need of something of this kind. We wish success to the new enterprise.
