We received a pleasant call on Tuesday from Mr. A. E. Edwards of Bristol township, some three miles south of Rockville. Mr. Edwards is one of the good republicans of that populist township and well informed on the issues of the day. He adds the Northwestern to his list of papers.

Thanks to Adolph Rettenmayer for another year's renewal for the Northwestern.

H. P. Ferdinandt this week moved into the Odendahl cottage vacated by Geo. Stork.

Glen Farnsworth, on the route, renews for another year of the Northwestern. Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McDonald left for Strawberry Point, Iowa, Monday, to remain for the winter.

The ladies' aid society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. H. A. Sleeth next Wednesday afternoon.

All day services will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. Special music and a cordial welcome.

Mrs. Eva Kendall returned to St. Paul Monday, after a week's visit with her brother, E. G. Taylor, and family.

Many thanks to our good friend, Geo. Keeler, for a renewal for another year's reading of the Northwestern.

Miss Maude Hinman arrived from St. Edwards the first of the week to visit her niece, Miss Kathryn Ellen Hinman.

The ladies of the G. A. R. held another of their delightful surprises at the home of Mrs. Clemma Conger last Thursday afternoon.

The Marvel sale last Thursday was said to have been one of the most successful and with the best prices received of any sale of the season.

Joe Rozniarek took charge of the Geo. W. Marvel farm Monday for the coming year, which he will work in conjunction with his large holdings adjoining.

Don't forget the next number of the lecture course this week Friday night, S. W. Gillilan, one of the greatest humorists on the lecture platform today.

Jno. W. Long returned last Friday from his trip to Arkansas. He left certain business matters, which he went to look after, in a very satisfactory condition.

Mr. C. E. Hatch of Webster township is a new subscriber to the Northwestern. Mr. Hatch came to Sherman county from Hamilton county about a year since. He will spend the most of December at his old home.

The supper given at the Presbyterian church parlors last Friday evening was the most successful and the best supper ever given in the church parlors, or else we were more hungry than usual. The receipts were about $55.

Have you seen that fine 17 months' old colt of Stewart Conger's, that he will sell at his big sale on the 4th of December? If not, he will be on the streets Saturday on exhibition. He is about the finest piece of horseflesh of that age ever on our streets.

We received a pleasant call on Wednesday from the Misses Anna, Ella and Marie Schneideret, charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schneideret. They are at present enjoying a visit from their cousins, the Messrs. Fred Bloomer and John Schweger of Davenport, Iowa, who will continue their visit for a few weeks.

A little difference between the draymen and a number of teamsters was aired before the village trustees last Thursday evening, the former objecting to the latter infringing on the privileges of the drayman for which they claim a monopoly, because of paying a license therefor. The outcome was a winner for the teamsters, we understand.

While Judge Kay and family were returning home one day last week from town and going down a steep hill, the tongue of their buggy came down, throwing the judge, Mrs. Kay and their little daughter violently from the vehicle, breaking one of the little girl's collar bones, severely injuring Mrs. Kay and for a time rendering Mr. Kay unconscious. We have heard no further particulars.

Last Thursday evening, Dr. A. S. Main was made happy by the arrival of his good mother, Mrs. Sarah Knowlton from Dale, Indiana, who comes to make him an all-winter visit. She was accompanied by a niece, Miss Ella Carlton, who is a trained nurse of many years' experience, who takes this occasion of making her cousin, the doctor, a visit, and enjoy a holiday from her duties as nurse. She will only remain a couple of weeks.

The union temperance meeting at the Methodist church last Sunday evening filled that building to overflowing, standing room being at a premium. As a straw, showing the sentiment in Loup City on the temperance question, it was an eye-opener. A year ago it would have been impossible to have secured an attendance of more than a small number of our people at such a meeting. Addresses were made by Revs. McEwen and Hawk, recitations by Miss Pearl Needham and Raymond Kearns, a duet by Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Leininger, a solo by Miss Beth Zimmerman, a ladies' quartet by Mrs. J. A. Angier, Miss Edna Moon, Mrs. L. Holcomb and Miss Cora Fross, and an anthem by the Presbyterian choir, all the numbers being of most pleasing interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dodds, who have been visiting at the editor's home for the past two weeks, left yesterday morning for the south part of the state to continue their visit for a short time with relatives. From there they will go to Los Angeles, via the Southern Pacific, to spend the winter, probably making Long Beach their temporary home. Mr. Dodds has not determined as to his future movements beyond the winter, but as he is a born and bred-in-the-bone Californian, so to speak, they will make their home somewhere in the Golden State. Mrs. Dodds and the editor's wife being sisters and veritable chums, the parting was with sincere sorrow and regret.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Marvel left Tuesday morning for Omaha and Bellevue, at the latter place visiting their son, Mr. Jess Marvel, and witnessing the football contest on Wednesday between Bellevue and Peru, which was to settle the inter-college championship. From there they will leave for the Pacific Coast to spend the winter. Mrs. Marvel will go straight to Oregon to visit her niece, Mrs. Rae Searle, but Mr. Marvel may not go there till later, taking in other points on the coast first. We wish them a vacation and visit of unalloyed pleasure. It was undecided whether Jess will leave school to accompany them this winter, or wait till spring before taking his trip to the coast.

Last Thursday afternoon the residence occupied by Jeweler Jeffords in east Loup City was discovered to be on fire, the fire bell giving a vigorous alarm. The fire laddies responded promptly, as did also about all the able-bodied men of the village and soon hearty work, aided by all gathered there got all the furniture from the building safely, and then turning attention to the building saved that from conflagration, with but little loss. Just how the fire started may never be known to a certainty, but it is thought to have caught from some defective work near the radiators. Let us be thankful the fire resulted in as little loss as it did.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Mooney of Tingley, Iowa, arrived in Loup City last week Thursday to visit a couple of weeks with their daughter, Mrs. F. G. Casteel, a few miles up the valley. We acknowledge a pleasant call from Mr. Mooney, whom we knew back in Ringgold county, Iowa, nearly thirty years ago, and who looks as hale and hearty, barren the many years which have passed since, as he used to look in those old halcyon days.

Last week, a few days prior to his sale, Mr. Marvel had one of his fine driving horses taken sick while coming to town. He secured the services of Stewart Conger to get the horse home, and later, the animal not improving satisfactorily, had Mr. Conger to bring the horse to Loup City and taken under his care on Tuesday of this week. Stewart believes he can doctor it into as good a nag as ever.

This is Thanksgiving Day, and we are busy celebrating the day by issuing you your weekly dinner of news happenings in the best town of the best country in the best state of the best country the sun ever shone upon. Let us all be duly thankful for the blessings we have and for all the good things showered upon us from the Giver of All Good.

Gillilan, the humorist, will entertain the Lyceum Course patrons at the opera house, Friday evening, Nov. 29th, in one of his noted lectures, "Sunshine and Awkwardness," or "A Sample Case of Humor." This is the only lecture on the course and all should hear him. His humor has the twinkle of laughter in it and will be a great treat. Holders of tickets and public remember the date.

The big sale of thoroughbred Poland China hogs, dated to be held by H. J. Johansen in February, has been changed to January 16th. Don't forget the date. As everybody in this section of the country knows that Mr. Johansen has a little the finest Poland Chinas ever on the market here, the sale on the date above mentioned, will probably attract the largest crowd of buyers of any sale held or to be held in this section. Watch for the catalogue.

A saddle horse belonging to Burr Robbins was killed in front of Reynolds' meat market last Sunday morning about 10 o'clock. Robbins' hired man had rode to town to get Frank Robbins to go out and shave his brother, leading the animal that was afterward killed. The animal was left at Frank Robbins' house for him, when it got tangled up in a clothes line and breaking away the frightened animal dashed up the alley and across the street to the meat market, where as it struck the cement walk it slipped and fell striking its head against the steps at the market, injuring it so badly it died within an hour.

Obituary.

IRA COPPERSMITH.

Last week, just the evening prior to going to press the word came of the death of our friend, Ira Coppersmith of Elm township, of heart failure. The hour was too late for anything further than the simple announcement of his sudden death. This week we present the following obituary of deceased: Ira Jonathan Coppersmith was born in Decatur county, Iowa, August 16th, 1867, being at the time of his death, aged 40 years, 3 months and 4 days. In the spring of 1892, Mr. Coppersmith came to Nebraska, settling in Polk county, where he lived six years. From there he went to York county, where he lived seven years, and until his removal to Sherman county in the spring of 1904. On the 5th of March of this year he was married to Mrs. Mary Westernhouse, his death occurring last week Wednesday, Nov. 20, 1907, at 11 o'clock a. m., from the Lone Elm school house, near the home, Rev. J. O. Hawk of Loup City, conducting the last sad rites, after which his body was laid to rest in the Lone Elm cemetery. The Northwestern, with his many friends, deeply sympathize with the wife, father, brother and sister in their time of sorrow.
