

Our Loans

The loans of this bank amount to about $160,000, which is being used by good, responsible business men and farmers of this community.

This entire sum is only a part of nearly $200,000 of money that belongs to our depositors. $35,000 of capital stock and surplus besides undivided profits, and private resources of stockholders.

In this way, our bank serves the community in a two-fold purpose; safe-guarding their wealth and loaning it out to produce more wealth for the community. This bank has never failed to take care of the needs and interests of its customers, whether depositors or borrowers.

The art exhibit given by the first primary department presided over by Miss Nettie Conger, created much interest among the patrons of the schools, so much so that it is estimated between 300 and 400 persons visited the room during the exhibit and admired the talent shown by our little people.

Mr. Guy Stout returned from Glenwood, Iowa, a few days' since, where he has been taking a course in the business college, and is now busily getting ready for heavy work in the cement business, with which he has an interest with A. O. Zimmerman, in their new plant just west of the St. Elmo hotel.

Dr. S. A. Allen, our popular dentist, arrived home from Philadelphia, Saturday evening, where he has been for some months' past taking a post graduate course in dentistry. Dr. Allen is looking and feeling fine and comes home better prepared than ever to please his patrons by skilled knowledge in his chosen profession.

Waste paper flying over the streets and into the faces of Tony Trebo's team last evening during the high wind, caused the horses to take French leave of the town and make tracks for home, some seven miles up the valley. This should be a hint to those allowing waste paper on the streets to stop it before a suit for damages is instituted against the city.

That prince of Irish gentlemen, Ed Flynn, of Wagon Creek, is one of the latest to add his name to our growing list of readers. Thanks.

Next Sabbath will be Easter Sunday and we have not yet been able to get a new Easter hat to cover our same old bald head. Tough.

Rev. Joseph James went to Shelton last Sunday and preached for the Baptist brethren there that day. He is highly pleased with that little town.

Conhiser's Red Tag Sale will last only a few days' longer. Don't miss the bargains offered. Don't take our word for it, but visit the store and be convinced.

J. B. Draper returned from Lincoln Tuesday, where he was a few days' since for an operation on his eyes. Mrs. Draper going down Saturday to accompany him home.

Lorentz, the Clothier, has received a big consignment of mens' and boys' spring suits and furnishing goods, which is one of the finest and most up-to-date ever received in our city.

Mrs. J. A. Danielson returned Monday evening from a visit to the west part of the state, near Wallace, where Mr. Danielson recently invested in land, and thinks he did the wise act.

Get ready for the Easter parade by calling on Lorentz, the Clothier. He will fix you out in short order in one of those nobby spring suits just received. Bring the boys also, and he will treat you all right.

Miss Ida Draper, who has been a faithful typist in the Times for the past year, has resigned her position with that office, and Miss Iva Henry has taken her place in the office to solve the mysteries of the Art Conservatory of Arts.

Services are being held each evening this week, except Saturday, it being "Passion Week." Rev. Montgomery having secured a stereoscope with which to illustrate his lectures. It is very interesting, and everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Katie Bartunek of Wolbach, mother of Mr. Jas. Bartunek of this city, died last week Wednesday, aged 72 years and 6 months, of cancer of the stomach. His many friends will deeply sympathize with him in the loss of the dearest friend man has on earth.

Rev. D. W. Montgomery of the Presbyterian church in County Attorney R. H. Mathew have made arrangements to take a two months' trip abroad, leaving here for Washington about the 10th of May for a few days' sightseeing and then on to Romania for a pleasant sea voyage to Johnny Bull's domain.

A representative of the Y. M. C. A. visited our city last Saturday, and found that we have the smallest percentage of boys in our schools of any town visited, being only 22.35 per cent, against 32 per cent the next smallest, and 54 per cent the largest. This is to be regretted and should be remedied by the parents of our boys.

The dog show here last Monday evening at the opera house was most clever and entertaining, the little animals showing surprising intelligence and training. There were perhaps a dozen of them and they seemed able to do almost everything but talk. A fair house, mostly little people, were present and were wild in their enthusiasm.

We received a pleasant call Monday from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Foster of Clear Creek, who were here trading. Their son, Frank Foster, has just finished school at Broken Bow and is home again. Of course, the worthy couple renewed for another year of Northwestern visits, because, as the good lady said, "we would not and could not do without our favorite paper."

Gus Lorentz has purchased the six lots just north of the Presbyterian church from O. F. Petersen and will this spring have erected thereon a modern residence of six to eight rooms. He also this week purchased the T. S. Nightingale building on north Main street, in which he has his gentlemen's furnishing goods. Mr. Lorentz thus proves his faith in Loup City and becomes a fixture in our business world.

The Draper brothers, E. A., D. S., and J. B. Draper and families, Frank Blaschke and family and W. T. Gibson expect to leave next Wednesday for Greyhul, Wyo., where the brothers have invested in property and will make their future home, while Mr. Gibson goes under contract to put up residences for them, and will probably be absent two or three months. Mr. Blaschke goes with the car of goods, while the balance of the company goes by passenger. The Northwestern follows all with best wishes.

The big sale at Conhiser's is on in full blast and from the crowds that daily through the store the goods are being shoveled out in goodly quantities through the front door, and about as rapidly as they can be unpacked from the rear doors. It is a fact that each day they are receiving a large consignment of new goods, and is an equal fact that the rush of consumers keeps them busy. The sale continues the balance of this week and if you want bargains they have them galore. Hurry or you will regret it, as the sale closes Saturday night.

For Sale
The Percheron stallion, Good Times No. 20731, color, dapple gray, weight about 1800 pounds. Will price right and take some trade—a good span of mares and some cattle. I have two and cannot handle both.

J. W. Gilmore, Austin, Neb.

Saturday will be the last day of Conhiser's Big Bargain Sale.

Last Thursday evening, the invoicing of the Omaha drug store stock was finished and Messrs. Swanson and Lofholm took charge of their new business. Mr. Swanson is a graduate of the Creighton School of Pharmacy at Omaha, from which he graduated with the highest honors of his class, also receiving the highest rating by the state board.

Mr. Lofholm is an energetic young business man of several years' experience in the mercantile business here, and the two will make one of our strongest business teams. They will carry a stock of the best in their line and will handle the fruits of all kinds in their season. We predict the boys will make good in every way. They start in right by using the Northwestern's columns in soliciting your patronage. See what the boys say this week.
