A. M. Lewis and wife of Aurora have been here the past week visiting their son, Ed Lewis, and looking after their interests here. They will return home Saturday morning.
Rev. G. A. Neumann of Lincoln will preach for our German Evangelical friends next Sunday morning at 10:30 and in the afternoon at 8:00. All are cordially welcome at these services.
Rev. Ewald O. Otto of Alliance will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday morning and also in the evening, unless there should be a union temperance service at the Methodist church.
Word was received here Tuesday morning that Mrs. Skip Thrasher, who recently underwent a surgical operation at Grand Island, had had a sinking spell, and Mr. Thrasher went at once to her bedside. Later word was received that she was better and slowly gaining.
Dr. A. C. Evans was called to Mapleton, Iowa, last week Monday by the death of Mrs. Evans' mother, Mrs. Evans, who had been visiting there for some time, returned home with her husband the following Friday. The many friends of the lady will sympathize with her in her deep affliction.
It is expected Rev. Carson of Hastings, a prominent temperance worker, will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and lecture on temperance in the evening at the Methodist church, at a union service of all the churches, though at this writing no certain word has been received of his coming.
Rev. W. C. Harper came up from Omaha last Saturday, returning to his wife's side at the hospital Monday morning. Our people will be glad to note that Mrs. Harper now has every prospect of regaining her health, and which the hospital people think will be permanently good after she returns from the very dangerous operation she has passed through.

Miss Edna Sullivan, who has been teaching here the past few months, and was offered the same position for the coming school year, has declined the offer and will teach at Ogden, Utah, at a greatly advanced salary. Miss Sullivan has done good work here and it is regretted that she is not to remain. She left this morning for her home at Kearney and will soon go to Ogden for the summer vacation, having a sister now teaching in the Ogden schools.
Mr. Jacob Albers returned from Lincoln last Friday, where he had been in attendance on the state conference of the German Evangelical Church of North America. He informs us that the church will soon have a resident minister, who will preach here the second and fourth Sundays in each month and at Ashton on the first and third Sundays. The new minister graduates from the church school this month and will be here as soon thereafter as arrangements can be made. Our German friends are to be congratulated on the prospect of a resident pastor.
Bro. E. A. Brown, formerly of the Times-Independent, and one of the brightest and brainiest editors, and most artistic printers in the state, at present one of the principal stockholders of the Clavin Printing Co., of University Place, arrived Monday evening for a two weeks' vacation from business and visit his host of friends and relatives here. He was accompanied by Mrs. Brown. During the year that Bro. Ed was out of temporary in business we found him to be in all respects fair, honorable and just in all matters pertaining to the trade, and personally one of the best fellows we ever met. Come back, Ed.

Decoration Day

Decoration Day was observed with all sacredness this year by our Loup City people. The business houses were closed in the afternoon and in the best and most appropriate manner was the day given over to the remembrance of our soldier dead. The services were of the usual character and held from the M. E. church in the afternoon, beginning with a parade of the old veterans, ladies of the G. A. R., civic societies and the school children, marching to the church, where Judge Wall delivered one of his splendid addresses and only such as our honored townsman can give, the church being crowded to the doors and many being unable to gain admittance. Teams were furnished to take all to the cemetery, where services were held, and a report given of the work done toward the soldier's graves. The memorial sermon was given at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, Rev. Sheppard of Litchfield paying tribute to the bravery and heroism of the boys of '61-'64. The decorations of both churches were fine and the efforts of the order of Sons of Veterans, we understand.

Double Runaway

A double runaway, most exciting, occurred Decoration Day, about 4 o'clock, on the return from the cemetery. While Ernest Daddow, with top over them, the team dashing on, was driving homeward, followed by C. W. Conhiser and wife in their buggy and a long procession of teams, a motor cycle speeded past, the noise of the machine startling the horses so that it was with difficulty they could be handled and indeed as Mr. Conhiser swung to one side and dashed past the team of Mr. Daddow, the latter swerved to one side against an embankment and tipped the vehicle over, throwing the wife and baby to the ground with the buggy top and the team dashing on ahead. Mr. Conhiser returned to the scene and with Mr. Daddow went after the runaway team, which they found down the road, in the meantime Mrs. Daddow and baby were brought to town and found not seriously hurt. Mr. Conhiser was driving along, with Mr. Daddow leading his team behind, the Oden-dahl auto, driven by W. A. Oden-dahl, came up from the rear tooting the horn, which gave the horses another scare, they dashing into the rear of the Northwestern auto, overturning it and throwing both gentlemen to the ground, badly bruised, while the horses fled dashed on ahead, but were later secured near the Catholic church. Fortunately it was that in the series of events no one was seriously injured, and with the exception of several scratches and bruises, the damage to horses and conveyances may be patched up with a few dollars' expense.
Chris Zwick had an unfortunate experience at his home in Elm township last week, in which he had a carriage demolished and one horse injured so badly it had to be killed. It seems the team was being driven to a drag, with the carriage attached to it and in passing through a gate some accident occurred in which the drag struck one horse, breaking a leg, while the carriage was made a wreck, the circumstances of which were not made clear to our reporter.

North Platte Excursion

Tuesday, June 7th, is the land excursion day to the famous North Platte Valley country. Do not say or think you will be too busy to go this trip, or will go later as you have ample time to arrange to go, and the sooner you go the better choice you will have. We leave here Tuesday and back the following Thursday. Get busy and let me know the day before so I can arrange for accommodation as to berths on the Pullman sleepers, etc. P. O. Cupid's Doings

At high noon, Sunday, May 29, 1910, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Leininger, in this city, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Jessie Margaret, to Mr. W. Eugene Henry, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Henry, also of this city. The wedding was a very quiet affair, none but the immediate families, near relatives and one or two intimate friends being present. Rev. Earl Pray acted as best man for the groom, while Miss Adeline, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. At the close of the ceremony a splendid dinner was given the assembled company. The bride is the oldest daughter of the home and has lived in Loup City and Sherman county from childhood to the present and enjoys the love and esteem of all. The groom is the efficient stenographer in the real estate office of J. W. Long, has lived here from early boyhood, and also enjoys the respect and confidence of all. They at once began housekeeping in their home in the west part of the city and were "At Home" to their friends after June 1st. The Northwestern, with the host of friends of the happy couple, will follow them with best wishes for their future prosperity and happiness.

Commencement

The commencement exercises of the class of 1910 at the Presbyterian church last Saturday evening were among the happiest affairs of the season. The building was filled to its utmost to listen to the exercises and the address of Dean Charles Fordyce of the State University, which was said to be the ablest and most practical ever given before a class in this city. The presentation of the diplomas to the class by Hon. John W. Long, with a few choice words elicited enthusiastic applause. Supt. O'Connell closed, with a few explanatory words of the proficiency of the present class, noting that all but one were entitled to a state normal certificate, and that in the generous rivalry for the honors of the scholarship at least four of the nine graduates were but one point or so apart. Miss Winnie Outhouse only being awarded the honor by a half point over Miss Elma Corning, and that the entire class had passed through with not one below 90 percent in their school course. The program was interspersed with a violin solo by Mr. Frank Henderson and a vocal solo by Mr. A. J. Johnson, the exercises closing with those present offering sincerest congratulations to the members of the class. The church was finely decorated with pennants, class colors and potted plants.
