TRY NOT in idle yearning For the moments that are gone! Yesterday hath no returning, And life's stream is flowing on: Flowing on with joy or sorrow Toward the dark unfathomed sea— Ever onward to the morrow That conceals eternity. —C. Howard.

HE WHO is useless on top of the ground ought to be under it inspiring the cabbage. —Mark Twain.

Salads for Summer Festivities. There never has been a salad which is such a general favorite as the chicken. A hen is best for salad if a capon is not obtainable. Draw as for roasting, wash the inside carefully and scrub the skin with a vegetable brush, using a spoonful of soda to a quart of warm water. The skin of a chicken needs careful cleansing. Put the chicken into a kettle of boiling water, back down, cover and cook slowly (so that the water just moves) until tender, but not so long that the flesh drops from the bones, as then it has lost its flavor in the broth. Let it cool in the broth to absorb as much as it will. Free the meat from the skin and gristle and cut in half-inch cubes. Marinate with French dressing, a half cupful to four cups of chicken, and stand on ice one hour.

When ready to serve, add a cupful of tender celery crisped in cold water, dried in a towel and cut in pieces the size of the chicken cubes, and a cupful of finely shredded cabbage. With this mix one cupful of good dressing, either boiled or mayonnaise. Garnish the salad with water lilies made of hard-cooked eggs.

Curling celery may also be used as an effective garnish. Cut it in inch or inch and a half strips and shred nearly to the center from each end. Put into water which has been made slightly acid with lemon juice or vinegar, and it will curl. Use around the edge of the salad, in with the green of the lettuce—it makes a very pretty garnish.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Sweet Bread and Cucumber Salad. When the cucumbers come from the market, put into cold water to remove the blood. Parboil 20 minutes in acidulated water and remove the pipes and membrane. Cut in half-inch cubes, mix with equal parts of diced cucumber, season with salt and pepper and chill. Serve with a sour cream dressing, using sour cream seasoned to taste with onion juice, salt and pepper and a little vinegar or lemon juice. Make nests of lettuce and garnish with radish roses.

Cut in half-inch cubes, mix with equal parts of diced cucumber, season with salt and pepper and chill. Serve with a sour cream dressing, using sour cream seasoned to taste with onion juice, salt and pepper and a little vinegar or lemon juice. Make nests of lettuce and garnish with radish roses.

Seasonable Dishes for Breakfast. Use large green peppers of uniform size and regular shape. Wash them and cut in halves crosswise. Remove the seeds and the white membrane and cook in boiling water ten minutes. Drain upside down and in each half. Sprinkle a few buttered crumbs mixed with chopped ham, moistened with cream in each. Break an egg carefully in each pepper, season with salt and pepper and bake until the white is set. Serve with buttered toast for a breakfast dish.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Corn Cake. Take a cupful of fine Indian corn-meal and two cupfuls of flour, add one teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder sifted well. Add the well beaten yolks of three eggs. Beat slowly into this two cupfuls of milk and lastly add the stiffly beaten whites. Bake in a shallow square and break the cake instead of cutting it.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Graham Muffins. Take one and one-half cupfuls of graham flour, one-half cupful of white flour, one-quarter of a cupful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, well sifted with the flour. Add to this two well beaten eggs and one cupful of milk. Bake in hot gem pans twenty-five minutes. Thin slices of bread dipped in eggs and fried on both sides in butter, served with minced ham and cheese sprinkled over them and put into the oven to melt the cheese is a nice dish for breakfast.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Some Dishes for the Vegetarian. Those who are strictly vegetarian in their tastes leave out all dishes made of eggs in their dietaries. Vegetables and cream soups have been discussed so often that this time I will treat of other things.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Savory Potato Pie. Peel and parboil a quart of potatoes, slice and put them in a deep pie dish with salt, pepper and two small onions, sliced; a tablespoonful of tapioca which has been soaked for an hour, a half a pint of water and a tablespoonful of butter. Half a cupful of celery or a dash of celery salt is an addition to the pie. Cover it with pastry and bake half an hour in a moderate oven.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Egg and Tomato Pudding. Cook six eggs in the shell until hard, cut each into eighths, lay them in a well-buttered pudding dish, pour over them two cupfuls of stewed tomatoes, thickened with a tablespoonful of flour rubbed in two tablespoonfuls of butter, season with pepper and salt and a teaspoonful of onion juice. Cover the top with buttered crumbs and brown in the oven.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Savory Macaroni. Boil half a pound of macaroni until tender in boiling salted water, drain and arrange in a shallow vegetable dish. Ixare ready two or three hard-cooked eggs, cut the whites in strips and add to the macaroni. Prepare a cupful of white sauce by cooking together a tablespoonful each of flour and butter (salt & a pepper to taste); when bubbling add a cupful of rich milk. Into this when thick and smooth add a quarter of a cupful of grated cheese, take from the fire and pour over the macaroni. Put the yolks of the eggs through a ricer as a garnish over the top.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Fruit with gelatine is well liked and makes a change that is agreeable. Next in importance to fruits for the hot weather diet is the vegetable. Plain salads of vegetables are most wholesome and appetizing. A slice of tomato or a leaf of lettuce with an oil dressing is a food and a medicine.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

Use for Dry Bread. When you have some slices of bread that you don't know what to do with try this: Pour hot milk over the bread. Beat one egg, add a tablespoonful of flour and enough milk to make a batter. Drain the bread and dip in the batter, then fry a slice brown in a little hot fat.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

An excellent binding for soups that may always be ready, is rice water. Drain the rice, setting the water away to cool. It will thicken and when added to a cream or purée it will require no other thickening.

When a large quantity of salad is to be made, veal carefully cooked may be added to the salad to eke out the chicken, and the result will deceive the elect.

BULLION IS STOLEN

BURGLARS GET AWAY WITH $50,000 WORTH.

LEAD IS SUBSTITUTED INSTEAD

Boxes on Being Opened at Assay Office Reveal Perpetration of Robbery.

Seattle, Wash.—Gold bullion valued at $57,000, part of a consignment of $170,000 from the Washington-Alaska bank of Fairbanks, to the Dexter-Horton National bank of Seattle on the steamship Humboldt was stolen in transit. Lead was substituted in the strong box that contained it.

Discovery of the theft was announced Sunday. The stolen gold weighed 250 pounds. When it left Fairbanks on a Yukon river steamer for Dawson and White Horse, the gold was contained in three wooden boxes and was in the care of the Alaska Pacific Express company. When the boxes were opened by the Canadian custom officers at Dawson the gold bars were found to be as stated in the express company's papers.

The boxes were opened again at the United States assay office in Seattle Friday noon and the theft was discovered. One contained pigs of lead instead of gold. The seals of the boxes were intact, when they reached the assay office and it was evident that the robbery had been committed on board ship. The gold was insured against loss by the express company.

The boxes were at the assay office Thursday morning and remained there until the agents of the consignor arrived next day to check up the ingots. It is supposed that the gold was stolen on the Yukon steamer, between Dawson and White Horse or on the steamer Humboldt between Skagway and Seattle. The gold was in the purser's cabin. It is not customary on gold shipments to take elaborate precautions against robbery.

Detectives working on the case say they have no clue. The robbery was much like one four years ago, in which $69,000 consigned to Seattle by the Washington-Alaska bank of Fairbanks over the Yukon river-Skagway route was stolen from a wooden strong box, lead being substituted. That theft was committed by Bobby Miller, night watchman on a Tanana river steamer, which was carrying the gold from Fairbanks to the Yukon steamer that was to convey it to White Horse.

Miller concealed the gold in his state room, got it back to Fairbanks and secreted it so well that after his arrest on suspicion, the owners of the bullion were glad to make terms with. He was promised a short prison sentence if he returned the gold and he produced $50,000, alleging that the other $19,000 had been stolen from him.

Pageant Ends the Congress.

Montreal, Quebec.—A religious pageant as rich in devotional emotion as in sacred imagery, and as orderly in behavior as it was diverse in nationality and huge in size, closed Sunday the twenty-first International Eucharistic congress, held this year for the first time in the Dominion of Canada. Visitors from the United States were especially impressed with the magnitude, splendor and reverence of the procession, which marched four miles through the city streets, 100,000 strong, to Mount Royal, above the city.

ROOSEVELT GETS HOME.

Says He Enjoyed Every Minute of His Journey.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—After the absence of three weeks Colonel Roosevelt is home again, weary from his western trip, but well satisfied with the result. He enjoyed every minute of it, he said.

The colonel reached New York at 10 o'clock Sunday morning from Pittsburg. His first orders were that no one should be permitted to invade the privacy of Sagamore Hill, and for the day he relaxed into the comforts and seclusion of his family life. Monday he will plunge into an accumulated mass of correspondence.

Diaz Unlocks the Door.

Mexico City.—With a silver key President Porfirio Diaz unlocked the new home of the Young Men's Christian association, the dedication of which was the chief feature of the day's centennial program. The building is a five-story stone structure, occupying a corner of a block and extending half a block on both streets. Accompanied by the members of the cabinet, high Mexican officials and visitors, the chief executive passed through the building and inaugurated each department.

To Vote on Re-Submission.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Governor Haskell announced that he will call for an election to be held November 8 for the re-submission to the people of the prohibition ordinance of the constitution and to submit the initiated woman suffrage amendment.

Millionaire Kills Self.

Los Angeles, Cal.—William Oliver Radford, son of William H. Radford, a millionaire mining man of San Francisco, committed suicide here by taking cyanide of potassium.

IF WE sit down at set of sun And count the things that we have done, And, counting, find One self-denying act, one word That eased the heart of him who heard, One glance most kind, That fell like sunshine where it went, Then we may count the day well spent.

But if through all the living day We've eased no heart by wea or nay; If through it all We've done no thing that we can trace, That brought sunshine to a face, No act, most small, That helped some soul and nothing lost, Then count that day as worse than lost.

Appetizing Celery.

That celery is a well-known nerve tonic is demonstrated in the patent medicines found on our market that
