Our city schools opened on Monday of this week and are so overcrowded that the school board is fitting up the basement of the high school building in good shape to accommodate the fourth and fifth grades. Frank Kennedy returned to Aurora last Saturday. He expects to move up here next spring and take personal supervision of his land holdings.—Loop City Northwestern. While we do not anticipate that our wishes in this matter will be consulted, we do here and now protest against this contemplated removal from Hamilton county of the Frank Kennedy family, for the reason that we need such people here. We cannot quite understand why that Loop City country attracts so many good Hamilton county people, unless it might be the persuasive powers of the Northwestern, the official booster of Sherman county.—Aurora Republican.
It may not be generally known that our good friend, J. C. Wall of Hazard is a full fledged editor of a newspaper, but such is the case. In this his western home, he is editor in chief of a little German church paper published at Scottdale, Pa., of four pages, a copy of which lies before us. While we can not read the matter readily, our German tongue not being able to twist properly, yet knowing Bro. Wall as we do, and knowing him to be a scholarly gentleman and thoroughly proficient in his mother tongue, as well as a teacher of the English language, we are satisfied he makes a capable editor and writer for the publication. Our German friends are invited to call at the office and examine the interesting periodical.
The Fats and Leans had another set to at Jenner's Park Tuesday afternoon and the scarecrows won out by a score of 10 to 2 over their adversaries. The game was not altogether a contest between light and heavyweights, as it was impossible for the Fats to muster into the game more than three big ones, filling out with cadaverous bipeds. However, it was quite an interesting one, the Leantos, and as equally discomfiting to the Fat contingent. What we want to see is a real game in which the Fats will all tip the beam at the weights of Arthur, Mulick and Long, while the shadows will be equal in length and thinness to Starr, Stout and Hempstead, and all the players know as little about the rules of the game as the editors of the Times and Northwestern, and about as proficient at fanning the molecules in the air and catching the ball.

The Texas Exhibit
Among the most interesting exhibits at the state fair this year is that of the Valley Fruit Farm and Garden Co. of this city. During the past week this company has sold twenty thousand acres of land adjoining Francetas, Tex., a new town they are establishing, to Nebraska people, and they brought the exhibit to the fair to show their customers the products of the land, as a large number of purchasers expect soon to make their permanent homes there.
This section of Texas grows, as shown in the exhibit, oranges, figs, pears, apples, peaches, cranberries, tobacco, cotton, Japanese persimmons, peanuts, rice, and in fact most everything that is produced from the soil of the gulf coast lands.
Some of the most interesting things to Nebraskans are a four-year-old orange tree full of half grown oranges, a kumquat tree filled with fruit, a fig tree ready for the harvest and cotton as it grows in the field.
In addition to the novelties named, the exhibit contains such staples as sugar cane, kafir corn, broom corn, potatoes, sweet potatoes, melons and all kinds of garden produce, samples that attest the productive quality of the gulf coast lands.
There are also many views of scenes presented which bespeak the character of the land and its fine home-making capacities, and although that is not generally looked upon by Nebraskans as a corn-growing country, this exhibit contains specimens of as fine corn as can be grown anywhere, taken from the lands of this company. This entire exhibit was collected upon two days' notice, but it is of a character to attract much attention and admiration.
It is almost impossible to believe that this exhibit can display field crops of such quality raised on the gulf coast, and yielding ninety bushels to the acre, but that is just what the attendants at the booth are prepared to show. Nebraskans who are interested in agricultural pursuits will find much to interest them in this exhibit.—Lincoln State Journal.
Only A Dollar Now
The Lincoln Daily Journal has cut its price to a dollar from now until January 1, 1911, without the Sunday. The big Sunday paper will be added to only a quarter extra, therefore most people will no doubt take the $1.25 worth. This makes an exceedingly low price during a specially interesting time, as nearly every family will want a Lincoln paper during the next few months. The State Journal's reputation as a free, independent, clean newspaper will prove of special advantage during the warm campaign now begun. The paper stops when the time is up without any notice from you whatever, so that you see it is no plan to get you started and then force the paper on you.
Sixty, the poet-philosopher of the Journal, is worth the price of admission himself. Stated telegraph is a strong feature and sporting cranks are well satisfied. The thing above all others is the fact that when you see any article in the Journal that its for the benefit of the people at large and not for the selfish political interest of the owners. No booze ads, no nasty medical ads no fraudulent investment schemes. Fact is, its the kind of a paper you want in your family. Why not try it a dollar's worth at this cut price?

SHAZLES

Eugene Miller is suffering from rheumatism. Austin Hendrickson is cutting corn this week. Look for the announcement of our next contest in next week's paper. Mrs. Austin Hendrickson called on Mrs. Angie Tuesday afternoon. Miss Velva Fross was taken over by her school Monday morning. She is teaching seven miles north of Loop City. A. O. Zimmerman's new house makes another improvement to our neighborhood, which we are always glad to see. Mr. A. Bergstrom has been on the sick list, but is able to be around again. He was up to Fross' to assist in the erection of the scaffold. Steps are being taken to put in a new steel bridge over Moon Creek, which will be highly appreciated by the many people who travel over this road. James Lee has been working with O. S. Fross and three sons, helping them erect a silo, and after its completion the mill will move down to Mr. Lee's place to erect a 150-ton silo for him. Mr. Fross' silo has a capacity of 100 tons and took them a short day and a half to erect. Anyone wishing to know anything about building a silo, call on either Mr. Lee or Mr. Fross.
