Majorities of Above Hitchcock 167, Aldrich 211, Taylor 158, Clark 47, Waite 30, Starr 106.

Has anybody heard from Dahlman? And even Sherman county went 211 majority for Aldrich. Who'd a think it?

And Hall county only went some 60 majority for Dahlman. Hey there, Grand Island, next capital(?) of Nebraska!

The vote on the proposed sale of the poor farm was 375 for and 367 against, hence lost out, as it required a two-thirds vote for.

We confess to not feeling the very best over the results of the election in the various states, which seems to have slumped to the democratic side. As it looks now the next congress will be democratic in the lower house by a majority of some 29. Nuff sed.

The freak election ballots cast in many instances are very amusing. Among ballots cast were some for Dahlman and Waite only, while other ballots bore only crosses after the names of Aldrich and Rein.

W. O. Brown had the same walk-away for re-election to the office of county dad as he had at the primary in securing the nomination. He never has to run, just walks, and it is only a question of majority always in his case.

In the congressional contest, Kinkaid in the Sixth, Norris in the Fifth and Sloan in the Fourth are elected, while the democratic candidates, McGuire in the First, and Lobeck in the Second and Latta in the Third have won out, making the Nebraska delegation in congress equally divided.

The high school students took a straw vote on the principal candidates of interest to the in the late lamented democratic election, Tuesday, which resulted as follows: Burkett 59, Hitchcock 14, Aldrich 47, Dahlman 19, Clark 60, Culley 11, Waite 53, Rein 20, Starr 47, Mathew 26. That was a pretty good straw vote, showing which way the wind blew.

The prettiest race in the election was between Wilber Waite and Louis Rein for the office of representative. The battle was strong, but conducted on the most decent lines. The gentlemen had only the kindest and most courteous words for their opponents, making the fight simply on the county option issue. Nor was there heard one unkind remark from the opponents of each candidate, and the campaign closed with the warmest friendship existing between them and without one word having been uttered to occasion regret. It was a splendid fight and we are proud of both men.

The election returns in Sherman county came in this year more promptly than for many years past, the good boys from the various townships either coming in with them or phoning the results at the earliest possible moment. Some seven townships were received before midnight, and were sent in by that hour to the dailies, and by an early hour in the forenoon of Wednesday the complete returns of the county, unofficial, were in our hands and sent to the dailies in time for their evening editions on that day. Thanks, boys, your courtesies are duly appreciated, and you can have one(cigar) with us the first time you come in.

The returns from the state are just the best possible to be expected by the republicans so far as the state ticket is concerned, showing that Aldrich and the entire state ticket is elected by surprising majorities, Aldrich leading with anywhere between 30,000 and 40,000 majority over Dahlman. Such a victory cannot be taken as a defeat of democracy by republicanism, but rather a defeat of such principles as were advocated by the candidate of the brewers and distillers, and a warning, very vivid, to the booze element that the people as a whole, outside of party lines will not stand for any form of disgusting theories under the head of personal liberty.

The defeat of Senator Burkett, as the returns seem to indicate, will be received by the hosts of friends of the genial senator as a personal sorrow. His defeat is and will be found to be a great loss to the state. Just how the voters of Nebraska could turn down such a man as Elmer J. Burkett for such a man as Hitchcock with the Bartley stench clinging to his name is inconceivable. It looks to us that Senator Burkett was caught between the neither millstones of standpatism and progressive, and ground to pieces. To the standpatters he seemed to be too much of a progressive, while to the progressives he was considered in the light of a standpatter, his enemies, those who had turned down by the senator, such men as Frank Harrison, Whedon and others, used both sides of the question to grind out defeat for him. The election of Hitchcock, in the face of the damaging testimony published against him shows that the voter paid little or no attention to the story, or cared nothing for the alleged fact, if fact it were. Burkett's defeat is probable, but it is as yet problematical as to how much, but certainly by only a few thousand at most.

W. R. McCullough of Loup City was in Aurora Tuesday in company with J. H. Purdy of Phillips. Mrs. Purdy is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McCullough and they are paying her a visit at her home in Phillips. Politically, Mr. McCullough is a populist, one of the original vintage; he is a staunch supporter and a great admirer of Mr. Bryan; he has been loyal to fusion during all these years; but he will refuse to follow the present leaders of the fusion party in Nebraska. He will vote and use his influence for Senator Aldrich. There are thousands of other populists in Nebraska who will do the same thing this year.—Aurora Republican.

Creating Wealth for the State of Nebraska

By building its lines through lands then worth less than $5.00 per acre, the Union Pacific Railroad has aided in increasing the value of those lands many-fold.

The assessed value of all property in Nebraska has increased from $171,747,593 in 1900 to $398,985,819 in 1909.

There has been no more important factor than the Nebraska railroads in creating this enormous wealth.

The resultant prosperity has increased the value of the railroad.

In 1900 the Union Pacific Railroad paid taxes in the State of Nebraska amounting to $299,855.44. In 1909 it paid $578,112.44.

Progress for the Union Pacific means progress for the whole State. Every mile of additional track laid, every train or station, creates wealth, which is not shared only by the Union Pacific Railroad but by every citizen in the State of Nebraska.

We have a book on Nebraska and its resources which will be mailed to some friend in the East for the asking. Please send us his address.

Every Union Pacific Ticket Office is a bureau of railroad information. Make your wants known there, or write to me.

Revival Notes

The evangelist, Rev. Frank Miller, and his singer, Mr. Fred Schmidt, are doing good work in the Presbyterian church. In spite of election excitement there has been a fine attendance at many of the services. Mr. Miller well deserves the name of "singing evangelist." He has a rare gift and power in song.

The "Chalk Talks" are drawing large numbers of young folks each afternoon. They are charmed with Mr. Miller's illustrated talks and undoubtedly great good will be done through them in helping in the highest aim of all—character building.

The specials for the balance of the meetings are a Women's meeting on Friday afternoon, which should be attended by all the women and girls in the community.

Sunday afternoon there will be a big meeting for men and boys. Tickets will be issued for this meeting. Mr. Schmidt will organize a male quartette which will sing in the service. Remember that the evenings are passing and that next Sunday night is the last.

Mother

The editor received a telegram last Saturday evening, containing these simple words, "Mother died at 3 o'clock this afternoon." To those who have lost that dearest of all earthly friends, no words are needed to express to them the sorrow these few words brought to us, nor in this hour of darkness, when we realize mother is gone can we express the sorrow that has come to us. Only a few days since we were called to her bedside expecting to be with her in her last hours, but it was not to be. When death finally called her it was not possible for us to be there. She had visited us here in the past and many will remember meeting the sweet-faced, silver-haired mother, Caroline Elizabeth Holcomb Burleigh was born in Oneida, N. Y., Feb. 4th, 1824, died at Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 5th, 1909, aged 86 years, 9 months and 1 day. She was laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery on Tuesday of this week, by the side of the partner of her joys and sorrows, whose death occurred some nine years since, after some sixty years of life together. She was the wife of one of the earliest pioneer Methodist circuit riders of Iowa, and their life in those early days of toil and privation could hardly be realized except by those who have passed through at least some of those scenes. For the past few weeks and even months she has been a great sufferer and death came as a sweet relief. We could not wish otherwise. Requiescat in pace.

Mentally Unbalanced

From the Gering Courier, we learn the distressing news that Rev. John Madely, Methodist pastor there, and formerly the pastor of the Methodist church at Loup City, and well and favorably known to our people, was some ten days since adjudged of unsound mind, supposedly caused by a nervous exhaustion, and was taken to a hospital or sanitarium at Lincoln for treatment. His host of friends here among all classes will trust that a rest from labors and treatment may restore him to health and his usual mental equilibrium.
