You can't afford to miss Comhiser's Ten Day Clearing Sale, commencing Saturday of this week. Bargains greater than ever before.
Mrs. B. J. Swanson went to Grand Island last Saturday morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. John O'Bryan, returning home last evening.
Roomers Wanted: As I have an extra room, I would like some ladies for roomers. Inquire at Shultz & Siskels store. Mrs. GEO. SHULTZ.
Mr. and Mrs. Martin Enevoldsen and their little ones returned yesterday from a holiday visit with their parents and friends at Danneberg.
The Northwestern will give the home news to Hempel Jones at the agricultural school the coming term. Hempel is one of our brightest boys.
Mr. Leslie Sweetland, who has been visiting at home over the holidays, returns tomorrow to Winnebago, this state, where he is principal of the schools.
Mrs. Charley Gibson has so far recovered her late serious illness as to be able to sit up Tuesday of this week. We are pleased to note her improved condition.
Miss Minnie Gilbert, who had been spending the past five weeks at home and receiving dental treatment, left Tuesday for Grand Island to resume her duties as traveling solicitor for the Homeless Childrens' Society.
Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pedler departed Wednesday morning for Rochester, Minn., where Uncle Joe will undergo an operation for gaiter, which has given him so much trouble of late years. We trust he will return well rid of his old physical enemy.
Taylor Gibson returned yesterday afternoon from a business trip to Omaha. He had the pleasure of being in the metropolis during the big storm, but admitted he did not do much promoting of the streets in the inglorious Sunday storm.

C. C. Cooper braved the aftermath of the big storm by going out on one of his trips, Tuesday, for the Loup City mills.

Mrs. John Lofholm and Miss Berdie Lofholm went to Omaha last Saturday to visit over New Year's with their brother and uncle, Mr. A. J. Newman, and family, returning last evening.
Mrs. Wm. Cording, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Bechthold, accompanied by two children, who has been visiting here the past six weeks, left last Saturday morning for her home in Grand Junction, Colo.
Russell Snyder, who with his roommate, Clem Koswick, of Cleveland, Ohio, spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Snyder of Wiggle Creek, returned to the State Agricultural school yesterday morning.
Miss Nettie Conger's department is the only one doing business at the old stand this week, the reason therefor being in the fact that her little ones have a room down town and not in the big school house that had to keep closed on account of absence of warmth.
The mail received here Tuesday evening, the first since Saturday, was a dinger—13 tie sacks and four letter pouches—and Postmaster Grow and his boys distributed the entire push in two hours. That was going some, but then that's the kind of a U. S. government we have here.

Owing to the heating plant being out of commission at the high school building, there has not, nor will there be any school this week. Now, if the teachers away for the week's holiday had only known it they need not have hurried home and been waylaid by the storm.
Mrs. Fred Schneiderei and Miss Marie Schneiderei left Tuesday for a visit with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Annie Schnack, at Donahue, Iowa, near Davenport. Miss Marie expects to return in about two weeks, while her mother will continue her visit some time longer.
Harry Bellenger, one of the countless number of good firemen on the U. P., was enjoying the experience of getting his mogul back on the track, after being derailed in the wreck in the yards here. He ordered the Northwestern to visit his home at St. Paul in the future.
J. B. Ford last week finished shelling his big crop of corn. He got some 5,000 bushels off 140 acres, and of an extra good quality. He expects to move to town the first of next March, occupying the Odendorf cottage, to be vacated by O. E. Adams, who moves into the Sim Criss residence, Sim having rented the A. C. Best farm for the coming year, on which he will move the first of March.

Austin Scribbles
Charley Barnes didn't propose to miss his New Year's dinner, so put on the double box and a canvas top and drove over to Daddy Foss' with all his family in thirteen minutes, ate dinner and drove home again.
Paul Gilmore went to Boelus last Saturday night and got stormed in, so had to stay until Monday evening.

Miss Jessie Ogle went home with her sister, Mrs. Dan Carpenter, for a visit.
Frank Foss doesn't want to build fires any more with coal oil, for he got the contents of it in his eyes and face, New Years Day. It might have proved serious.

A party of Loup City young people to the number of about fifty were the guests of Misses Elva Zimmerman and Ella Taylor last Saturday evening, at the hospitable A. L. Zimmerman home, to watch the old year out and the New Year in. A most enjoyable evening was spent by all present in playing Some-set and Flinch, an elegant luncheon being served just before the new year was ushered in. It was one of the most memorable occasions of the old and budding new year.
Among the Loup City students who left here Monday morning on the B. & M. returning to their college duties, and who we suppose thoroughly enjoyed the unique experience of having their train stalled in a snow drift near Farwell that day and night were: Miss Melvia Danielson in her position in the Peru State Normal; Misses Emma and Winnie Outhouse, Flora Ohlsen, Herbert Nightingale and Clifford Rein to the State Uni; Hempel Jones to the Agricultural school, Miss Frances Sweetland and Archie Kearns to Bellevue.

We received a pleasant call last Saturday from Prof. Carrier, the well known principal of the Rockville schools, who is now entering into the third year in our sister village. We hear it rumored that many friends of the professor over the county are urging him to be a candidate before this year's primaries for the office of county superintendent of schools. A query to that effect received neither denial nor affirmation from him. The professor is one of the most prominent educators in our county, and while differing with him on political questions, we are willing to acknowledge that, politics aside, he would prove a very formidable adversary, should he decide to get into the running for that most important county office.
Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dale entertained the classes of '06, '07 and '08 at their home in Webster township last week Thursday afternoon and evening. They had a royal good time and each one enjoyed to the full the privilege of being with their teacher once more. After singing "Auld Lang Syne", in the early light of Friday morning they wended their way homeward.

Another change in the Pioneer meat market occurred on Monday of this week, Jack Pageler purchasing the interest of Walt McNulty in the business. The firm is now Johansen & Pageler, and both gentlemen are energetic young business men, who will make the market one of the best in this section of the country.
Twenty years ago the people of our country ate in one year one hog for every person. Ten years ago, six-sevenths of a hog, and last year one-half of one hog per capita. With the rapidly increasing population of the United States, is an over production of pork probable for some time to come? The swine breeders program at the Organized Agricultural meetings, Jan. 18, 1911, at Lincoln, will be exceptionally strong this year.
The Encampment in this city held the installation of its officers for the coming year, Monday evening of this week, as follows: Chief patriarch, W. C. Harper; high priest, S. F. Reynolds; senior warden, R. D. Hendrickson; junior warden, M. Biemond; treasurer, A. B. Outhouse. The installation officer was J. W. Conger, and Grand Chief Patriarch J. Marks of Omaha was the guest of honor. S. F. Reynolds was chief for a nice little banquet served, and did himself and the Encampment honor in making it the nicest spread that could have been asked.

Frank J. Taylor disposed of one of his farms, just across the Sherman county line, in the vicinity of Ashton the latter part of last week, the purchaser being Bernard Krajewski, consideration being $20,800.00. This farm consisting of 320 acres was purchased by Mr. Taylor some five years ago for $8,000.00 and the price he now receives is an indication of the increase in land values hereabouts. A pretty good investment for Mr. Taylor, when he purchased that farm years ago, as it has paid him a good income every year since, and now he clears up a nice sum of money above the original purchase price.—St. Paul Phonograph-Press.

Rev. Burleigh stated recently to the writer that with a wedding consummated last Friday evening he had reached the even score of marital ties he had performed in this community in the last few years, and seems to take pleasure in that sort of ministerial work. He also stated that after reviewing the record of divorces granted at the last term of our district court, he was led to notice that so far as he has knowledge, that out of over two hundred couples he had married, less than 2 per cent had been found in the divorce courts, and he was wondering if investigation being made, it would not be found that by far the largest per cent of divorce seeking came from couples that had passed by the sacramental nature of the tie and became content with it as a civil contract before some official layman. A note made in the divorce courts on this point might be of possible service in the study of the increasing evil tendency of our divorce system.—Hemingford (Neb.) Journal.
