Death by Suicide

Last week Tuesday, Fred Schmall, son of the family of Schmalljohns living near Rockville, attempted suicide, his death occurring this week Tuesday morning at the St. Joseph's hospital. Schmalljohn shot himself between 5 and 6 o'clock in the morning and staid in his room till 4 o'clock in the afternoon before he made known his condition. No reason is assigned for the act, though to people who knew the young man, the belief is that his mind was unbalanced and had been for some time. He was 30 years of age.

Don't forget the date of Youngquest's Bros.' sale of stock, farm machinery and household goods next Wednesday, Jan. 25, on the old Jacob Aibers farm, six miles northwest of Loup City. Their horses and mules are especially fine. See big bills.

A Polander, with an unpronounceable cognomen, at least by us, is languishing in our county jail, being brought here from Ashton a few days since on complaint of getting on a jag, when he insulted Father Radka and the sisters, and cutting other capers. Refusing to pay a fine for his fun he is laying it out in the county bastle.

In remitting to the Northwestern for another year, H. M. Walker of Espanola, Wash., writes: "I can't do without the paper. When I read of the big blizzards back there it makes me very content in my new home here in Washington. We have had fine weather so far, the coldest it has been so far, the coldest zero, and we hardly ever have any wind."

We received a pleasant call Monday from Henning Claussen, who last week sold his quarter section home in Washington township to Ira Timson for $31.25 per acre and is hunting a new location. He was on his way to Kearney, where he has nine acres of land in the corporate limits, and wishes to sell it or trade for land near Loup City. We hope he will succeed for he is a prince of good fellows.

Our friend, Geo. Holmes of Bristol, was in to see us last Friday. He was just returning from Almeria, up in the foothills, where accompanied by his wife, their daughter, Mrs. B. F. Wilkinson, and Miss Florence Brock, he had been to attend the marriage of his son, Lisle Holmes, to a Miss Lucy Cross of Almeria, Wednesday, Jan. 11th. It was a double wedding, a sister of Mr. Holmes' bride also being married at the same. They had a fine time and left Lisle the happiest young rancher in seven states.

Latest word from Rochester, Minn., is to the effect that J. S. Pedler continues to steadily improve, and his splendid constitution will enable him to regain his health at the earliest possible moment. His brother, Wes Pedler, returned last Thursday and Mr. Carlsen returned Saturday evening, both speaking most encouragingly as to the splendid condition of everybody's mutual friend, Uncle Joe. Each day brings added encouragement of Mr. Pedler's case, and best of all it is said will prove a permanent relief from his old trouble.

M. S. Binney, formerly editor of the Fullerton News, but who has graduated from the noble calling and enlisted as a No. 1 speeler in the typewriter world, was in the city yesterday and talked the writer into purchasing one of the latest model Underwood visibles. Bro. Binney, we are of the opinion, ranks as one the most persuasive men in his line, and the further fact of his representation of the very best of typewriters makes two talks to the prospective buyer hard to get around. He is district agent of the Underwood, with headquarters at Grand Island.

Mr. J. R. Gardiner, foreman of the Times, who has been away on a vacation the past few weeks, returned to work this week. While absent, Mr. Gardiner took advantage of his vacation to join the great and good army of benedictines, being married to Miss Amanda Jensen of Danneberg, at the home of his father at Brewster on Jan. 4th, and being so happy over the biggest event in his life that he failed to acquaint his friends here of the fact till his return. They will go to housekeeping in this city at an early date. The Northwestern offers it's heartiest congratulations to the happy pair.

OBITUARIES

Carl A. Keeler

Near Stanton, Neb., on April 23, 1886, was born Carl A. Keeler. About six years ago his father and family moved to Sherman county, locating on a farm near Austin, where they remained two years, when the family moved to Loup City and Carl went on the farm which they had purchased on Oak Creek. November 17, 1906, he was united in marriage to Miss Delia Carpenter, to which union three children have been born, two boys and one girl, the youngest being a babe only a few weeks' old. A few days since he was taken ill with a violent attack of appendicitis, suffering intensely, till death relieved him on Friday evening, January 13, 1911. His age was 24 years, 10 months and 20 days. Mr. Keeler was a kind and loving husband and father, respected by those who knew him, and leaves to mourn their loss the wife, three children, mother, six sisters and one brother. The neighbors and friends all unite in their expressions of sympathy for the sorrowing family. May the sympathy and love of the Heavenly Father be theirs. The funeral was held in the Methodist church, Monday, conducted by the Rev. C. W. Harper, in the presence of a large congregation of people being present. The burial was in Evergreen cemetery.
