K. of P. Banquet Last evening occurred one of the most enjoyable affairs ever in this

The event was the annual banthrong of people ever gathered there. About 150 plates were laid, and a three-course dinner served that could not have been excelled, which had been prepared by the fair hands of the wives and daughters of the Sir Knights, whose unselfish devotion to the cause is a happy comment on the better portion of our community-lovely woman. The hall was gaily decorated with the paraphernalia and colors of the order, and flags, while the tables, which extended the entire length of the hall, were covered with ferns and smilax, elegant bouquets of roses and carnations, all made the banquet tables a very bower of beauty. During the banquet, our band boys, many of whom belong to the order, played their choicest music and by common consent the expressions were that the band is one of the best ever. MIRS E E Tracy perpetrated a pleasant surprise on her good natured hubby last Saturday evening, when she gathered some 20 couples of the neighboring friends to appear that evening to see if Gene's last birthday anniversary, which had occurred that day, had changed him to any great extent.
