Needs Liberal Support

While in Lincoln last Sunday, we had the interesting experience of going through the Orthopedic Hospital in Lincoln, in company with Senator Reynolds and Representative Kent of Chadron. The hospital is located on South 11th street in that city. It is a fine three story building with basement, and filled to overflowing with children from the tenderest age up to the age of 18 years, who are being treated for physical deformities of all kinds, ranging from curvature of the spine to tuberculosis of various parts of the body, and all sorts of troubles from injuries otherwise by falls which in whole or part have caused paralysis of their tender little bodies. It is a state institution and depends upon appropriations made by the legislature. There is at present a movement toward needed additions to the institution to accommodate the increasing needs of that most humane institution, and God knows there is not another institution within the confines of the state that appeals more to the sympathy of our people than does this.
We doubt not but comparatively few of the people of the state know of the institution or its aims, and still a great work it is doing. There are at present some 65 patients in the hospital and far in excess of the number which can be comfortably cared for.
A visit to the hospital is one of the most pitiful sights one can witness.
Little ones, mere infants of a few months or years, lie on the various cots, many of them perfectly helpless, others playing about encased in plaster casts, others sitting in wheel chairs, still others about on crutches, and all forming a plaintive appeal to the state for aid. A bill is before the legislature for an ample appropriation to provide this humane institution with plentiful funds and enlarged accommodations and should not be stinted in the least, even though other and lesser needs of state buildings are cut off with lower appropriations. As we understand, since the opening of the hospital a few years since, over 400 patients have been cured and left the institution with all physical defects removed, and the good work is still going on, a number of the best and most painstaking nurses in the state being employed there, whose care for the hapless little ones being the acme of kindness and gentleness itself, and is shown in the perfect confidence and happiness exhibited by the inmates under their care. We should like to devote several columns to a description of the hospital, its various wards, the numerous ills being treated, the cleanly appearance of the entire building, which is kept with the neatness of perfection in all its appointments, of the sunny rooms for the tuberculosis patients, of the operating room, the dining rooms, the work of the nurses and housemaids, and especially showing the urgent needs of generous appropriations to make comfortable the little ones and care for the increasing number of applications coming daily, but space will not allow. We feel assured, however, that if every member of the legislature would visit the said hospital, there would not be the least doubt of a liberal appropriation.

Moore, the man accused of burning the Custer county court house, had his trial last week and was bound over to district court. That means there must be some pretty conclusive evidence that he is the guilty man.

On the 9th inst., the Northwestern published an article in regard to the arrest of one Roschynski on complaint of J. T. Hale. In last week's Ord Quiz appeared the article under a telegraphic date from the Fremont Tribune. That's going away from home for news with a vengeance.

Evidently, the Kearney Democrat does not want to be a tail to the Grand Island kite, and encourages its legislator by saying: "We most humbly ask Representative Bassett to pay no attention to the jackass resolutions and petitions, but take off his coat and see if he can save our local state institutions by securing the needed appropriations."

The Wyoming legislature last week passed a bill legalizing prize fighting and it only awaits the governor's signature to become a law. Wyoming seems to have been passing through a Rip Van Winkle sleep and proves to be some twenty years behind the times. It is hardly possible the governor will approve such a measure, but some of the ways of lawmakers are past finding out, and Wyoming may be a fitting example.

Grand Island is not to be blamed for its hot fight for the re-location of the capital, as in case of its removal that city is the only available point for its location. But what looks daily to us is that any town contiguous to Grand Island would be in favor of cutting the financial throat of its mercantile interests by aiding in the scheme. It is bad enough now to our local interests, the buying of our people in that city, but not a patchen to the trade which would go that city from here should it fortunately secure the capital. Self preservation is, as it should be, the first law of nature.

line. At our last meeting a good program was rendered. The question, "Resolved, that manufacture has done more to develop the country than agriculture," was debated, the affirmative being taken by Messrs.
Daddow and Burt and Lula McFadden, the negative by Messrs. Brock

2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative. A
