I hereby announce to the electors of the twelfth judicial district that I am a candidate at the primary election to be held August 5, 1911, for the republican nomination for the office of District Judge to succeed myself. I shall stand for the firmest enforcement of the laws, the punishment of crime, speedy trials, the strictest economy in the business of the court and exact justice for all, without regard to race or nationality, wealth or poverty, political or religious beliefs. If your judgment approves my conduct as district judge in the past, I will appreciate your endorsement at the primary. Yours sincerely,

Herman Johansen to Voters
To the Voters of Sherman County:
As I can only see a few of you personally, I am trying to reach the others through the columns of the press. I shall heartily appreciate your support, and if nominated and elected will try to serve the people to the best of my ability. I am asking for no more than four years at the most if I do serve the people satisfactorily as I think there are plenty of men worthy the office who will not expect a ten-year term. It has been customary for a sheriff to go out of office at the end of four years, until our present one, who has served eight years the coming January and is now asking for two years longer. I have been told by reliable people that two years ago Mr. Williams told Henry Tanagerman of Rockville that if Mr. Williams would not be a candidate then that he, Mr. Williams, would support him this year, and now, as my announcement appears, two different men came to me with the same promise, if I publicly withdraw. Yours for clean politics,
HERMAN J. JOHANSEN.
