Primary Election
The returns from Tuesday's primary have not been received at all figures, and the canvassing board for this county was unable to finish an official count till some time today, as the returns were not all in yesterday. Sufficient is known, however, to say that Wall carries the county over Hostetler for judge, Henry and Peterson are the nominees for treasurer, Williams and Tucker won out for sheriff, Currier and Mrs. Hendrickson divide honors for county superintendent, and Rein for district clerk. Tickets for county clerk and Smith for county judge, all on the democratic and pop tickets without opposition, have probably been written in often enough to also make them candidates on the republican ticket.

There is absolutely no figures on which to base even a guess on the state tickets. It will probably be several days before anything definite will be known on state returns.

A Serious Accident
John W. Long and son Johnny returned home from their tour of Yellowstone Park and trip west Monday noon of this week. While viewing the wonders of the park Mr. Long met with a very painful accident, which will incapacitate him for active duties for some time. It seems he was in conversation with a friend a little off from the regular beaten paths of tourists, when making an inadvertent step to the right he stepped into a hole made by an incipient hot springs, his leg going into the depression up to the knee and though but an instant before springing out, his leg was burned to a rawness by the boiling water. Nearby physicians did what was possible to reduce the pain, after which he rode some sixty miles before he could have it properly attended to, the pains of the burn being next to unbearable. At present, though it has been over ten days since the injury, he is unable to stand upon his limb and the flesh is still in a fearful raw condition and painful in the extreme. The many friends of the gentleman will deeply sympathize with him in a suffering as severe or more so than any other suffering to be experienced.

Robbery Foiled
Last Sunday night about 11:30 when the streets were deserted and most of the people had retired Earl Molyneux manager for the Dierks lumber yard at this place, and who sleeps in a room over the lumber office heard a noise in the office and in company with Carl Peterson crept as quietly down stairs as they could to see what it was. When they got down they found two fellows in the act of robbing the safe. Mr. Molyneux when he got close enough threw his revolver over the counter to cover the robbers intending to capture them, but as he did so one of the robbers raised up Mr. Peterson and with a bolt of his gun, which he had pointed at the floor almost knocking him senseless, in a very short space of time he regained his feet and in the meantime the robbers made their escape out of the building and by the time Mr. Molyneux could get out they were down by the railroad tracks headed east, took a couple of shots at them but with no apparent effect and followed them to the stockyards where he lost trace of them. The robbers failed to get anything of any value but left behind a rather sore head for Mr. Molyneux. —Litchfield Monitor.

Henry Reed has proved a good road boss, as seen by the work on different pieces of road, especially cemetery hill along the Albert Snyder land. Of course, the hill is still a hill, and will be for a long time yet, but you would hardly know it now. he carries appreciate the work by Henry and all assisting him.

Some 55 people on Wiggle Creek, old and young, found their way to the home of Alfred Jorgenson Tuesday evening and surprised him in his new home just completed. All had a good time, but regretted he had no one to share it with him, yet all are living in hopes, and if reports are true it will not be long until the people on the creek will have to make a second trip to his home. Alfred was pleased to see so many of his friends present.

C. J. Norsted and John Kosiemba each plowed up several acres of alfalfa ground this spring and each put it in to corn at about the same time and on about the same quality of soil, but the difference in the condition of the field of the latter is as well earned as that of Mr. Norsted, but is fired almost to the top of the stalk. Norsted's field has not suffered from any of the dry weather and the two fields are only about a mile and a half apart and the rainfall has been about the same on the two fields. Why the difference? It is because Mr. Norsted tilled his corn and never allowed a crust to form before or after planting and after the field was laid by with a two-horse cultivator he purchased a one-row cultivator and continued to cultivate, with above results. It pays to farm good and farm less ground.

CHAUTAUQU AUG. 27th to 31st

YOU BUSY MAN in the store or office or shop or field —or anywhere. Ask any one what's good for that grouchy feeling that comes from constant worry and work.

They will say a rest—a change.

They will tell you to get away from it for a few days—get out into the open—get your mind off of it.

A week at a Chautauqua is what you need.

It will be an entire rest and change—a healthful and delightful retreat.

Hear that fine music and those great, big, brainy men and women who know how to entertain—who give you something refreshing to think about.

And it's a splendid affair you are helping to maintain.

You know you want it in your community.

Get the most out of it while it's here.

DON'T PLAN that summer vacation away off some place. Why should you? You wouldn't have a better time with the inconveniences of hot-weather travel and of being away from home comforts than you can have right here.

Plan for a vacation Chautauqua Week. The Chautauqua is bringing a whole host of high-class musical companies, entertainers, orators and Chautauqua lecturers for your entertainment—for you folks who live right here in this community.

You would travel for months to hear and see as much that is of the same class—and then you might not find it.

It's a great gathering of great men and women—the largest and best that could be sent to you in so short a time.

Plan to stay at home—if it's a good time you want.
