

Rain Tomorrow!

If the weather man predicts rain for tomorrow you arrange your plans accordingly. Are you doing the same for the rainy day of your life?

No man can tell you when the day of adversity is coming and the only safe thing to do is to build up a Bank account against that day.

This bank affords you a rare opportunity for saving by accepting any deposit from a dollar up, and will pay you 4 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.

Carl also sent us under separate cover a booklet advertising the resources of his county and of the country round about which speaks in loudest tones of his wonderful Kearn county.

Last week we mentioned the destruction of Boyd Burrows' tent show in a car between Litchfield and Mason City, getting the facts somewhat mixed. We learn that the car was en route from Mason City to Litchfield, where they were to show in the evening; that the car and contents probably caught fire from sparks from the engine, the car being only five cars away from the engine, somewhat taller than those ahead and the end door was broken, allowing the sparks to enter the car. When the train entered the yards at Litchfield it was ablaze and the contents rained before water from the big tank could put the fire out. The five little performing dogs were smothered in the car but the pony, Pinto, being driven from Mason to Litchfield by Boyd was not therefore a victim of the fire. Boyd lost everything. The second time Boyd has lost everything, the first time a few years ago in the yards here, the case against the railroad company, still being in courts. Mr. and Mrs. Burrows are now in the city, but what their future moves may be we are not informed.

A letter from the editor's son, Frank W. Burleigh, at nebeville, Ohio, where he is at present, conveys the following information of interest to his friends here: "I have charge of the physical department of Y. M. C. A. work here and also fill the place of assistant secretary. I expect to make this my life work. I think some one has said 'Have found my corner' and will stay in it. We have one of the largest Bible classes in this part of the country, numbering some six hundred. The secret of its success, by the way is that each member works personally to bring another one every time he comes. It is an inspiring sight to see the number of men gathered together to worship God. We are in the heart of the mining region and the largest per cent of the members are miners. I have not had an opportunity to visit a mine, but as soon as I find time will do so, and will do so, and will write you a descriptive letter of the same. I trust this letter will find all well and happy. Remember me to all my friends."

Be Blue This Fall—Not to Blue

Grace M. Gould, writing the fashion talk in the September Woman's Home Companion, says that blue is to be the favorite color this fall. She adds: "Don't regard the choosing of a color for your autumn costume as a trivial matter. Colors are not always what they seem. They have traits that are anything but dependable. There is the blue that seemingly, stunch, old reliable suade. Just look out for it. It may make you happy and fashionable in the daytime, but at night you may be bluer than you want to be."

Base Ball Tournament

The three days' base ball tournament is giving good satisfaction and some very interesting games are resulting. On Tuesday, Arcadia and Ashton furnished the first game which gave Ashton the score of 8 to 7 over Arcadia. The second game between Loup City and Rockville resulted in nine goose eggs for Rockville, while Loup City garnered in five scores in two innings, being served with cooked goose egg fodder the other seven. Both were fine contests. Wednesday afternoon witnessed two more fine games, the first between Loup City and Ashton, the winners of Tuesday's games, resulting in our locals allowing the splendid Ashton bunch to garner in but one measly score, to the locals six times over the home plate. The second game, Ord-Arcadia, gave a good slugging exhibit, though the efficient work of the out and infielders held down the score to 8 and 7 in favor of Ord. This afternoon will finish the tournament and we understand Loup City will try for the Ord scalps as one contest, while the other may be between Arcadia and Ashton, neither being satisfied with the conclusions of Tuesday. Anyway, today will witness a couple of finals which will well repay the big crowd which is sure to in attendance.
