Captain Winkelman Very Low

Expressions of regret were heard on all sides when word was received Tuesday evening that Captain Winkelman, at the Soldiers' Home in Grand Island, was very ill and that the attending physicians had given up all hope of his recovery. His two daughters, Mrs. Wilf Odendahl and Mrs. Oliver Mason departed for Grand Island on the first train. Captain Winkelman is one of our oldest and most respected citizens and his many friends join in hoping for his recovery.

BOOSTERS ARE HERE

Ord Commercial Club and Band Pay City a Short but Pleasant Visit

Amid the ringing of cow bells, blowing of fish horns and almost all other imaginable noise about thirty auto loads of the Ord Commercial Club rolled into town Tuesday morning. Accompanied by the Ord band they were out on a boosting trip for the Loup Valley Fair and Races, that start at Ord Sept. 26, and they did not care who knew it either. The machines came to a stop in two lines on either side of Main street and the entire party proceeded to get busy. The Ord Band formed in a circle and demonstrated that they could get something besides strange groans and grunts from their instruments by playing a most excellent concert of both classical and popular music while the advertising committee scattered through the business district distributing their printed matter and some very attractive novelties. The machines of the party were all decorated with flags and banners making a most pleasing effect and the hustling noisy good-natured occupants made us wish that their visit could have been longer. Come again.

AND SO WE BACK UP

That the Northwestern is widely read is well illustrated by the following. Last week we mentioned the report that Newton Vance and wife were visiting in St. Paul and Monday morning bright and early Mrs. Ida Lambert, Mrs. Vance's mother, called at this office to know the why of which and to demand that we crawl fish at once for she had been worried to death, or near it, answering as to why Vance was passing-up the many friends here. Here are the facts—Mrs. Vance was in St. Paul and Vance is over in Iowa at the old stand telling the natives about the merits of Items famous products was not even in the glorious state of Nebraska at the time.

HUGH VER VALIN INJURED

A letter from Ward Ver Valin, Mitchell, S. D., inclosing a clipping from their local paper which was an account of the running down of their son, Hugh, by an automobile recently. The lad was with a boy companion riding a bicycle when struck and the impact rendered him unconscious. We are happy to be able to state that his injuries did not prove serious. The Mitchell paper devoted considerable space to the driver of the machine who did not even stop or take the trouble to turn around in his seat but disappeared before his identity could be learned.

PIONEER PASSES ON

Word was received Monday of the death of Norman B. Thompson, a pioneer of Sherman County, who passed away in South Omaha at 10:12 a. m. Monday. Mr. Thompson came to Loup City in the early seventies and at the time of his death was between seventy and eighty years old. He had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances and the bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community. The remains were laid to rest in the Austin cemetery at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday.

A HARD PAIR TO BEAT

Loup City can boast of two of the best regulated depts that can be found any old place and it would be a hard matter to say which is the better. Danielson at the B. & M. is all that polite, accommodating and businesslike men and the only kick ever heard on Collipriest of the U. P. is that that blooming name of his is so hard to spell correctly. The duties of a depot agent in a small town are many and trying but the two gentlemen above mentioned get away with it and holler for more.

NEW PAPER NICE

Last Friday Attorney Starr put on his old gray bonnet, sallied forth to the wall paper store, procured some several bunches of flower paper and told the man with the big brush to do his worst or something to that effect. We had the misfortune while on a still hunt for news that day, to call Starr to the phone—and the words were entirely too descriptive for publication. The new paper does look nice.

WE GET A BRICK

Last week it escaped our memory to mention the receipt of a brick, from the Ohlsen plant in this city, which compares favorably with the highest priced product on the market. In finish it is as hard and smooth as the finest pressed brick and will doubtless be used extensively in the better grade of building in this vicinity in the future.

Norman B. Thompson was born July 22nd, 1831, in Thompsons, Essex Co., New York. On September 4th, 1855, he was married to Cynthia Ingalls. To this union were born seven sons and one daughter, one son dying in infancy. The deceased lived to see fifteen grandchildren and five great-grand children, all of whom were living at the time of his death. After leaving Wisconsin, he spent two years with his family in Missouri before coming to this state, where for thirty years he has made his home in Sherman County the greater part of the time on his farm near Austin. In July of the present year he went to Omaha to visit his sons while there was overcome by the disease that on September 11, 1911 caused his death. He was one of the pioneer settlers of this county, and was a member of the Austin Presbyterian Church. The funeral service was held Wednesday, Sept. 13th at Austin conducted by the Rev. J. C. Tourtellot was made in the Austin cemetery.

IRRIGATED LANDS ASSERT THEIR VALUE

The irrigated areas in the Big Horn Basin and the Yellowstone Valley present at this time a wholesome example of the value of irrigation. On the Government irrigated homesteads in the vicinity of Ralston, Powell and Garland, Wyo., and along the Yellowstone river near Hnnntley, Mont., there are magnificent crops of alfalfa, wheat, oats, potatoes, sugar beets, etc.

Along the Big Horn River, upon lands taken under the Carey Act, there are likewise extensive areas of profitable crops.

The Government irrigated homesteads under the new Ralston unit are now available for entry. These include some of the most valuable and easily irrigated lands in the Basin. They are surrounded by protecting and magnificent mountain ranges. Local and Government agents help you in every way to select your land, and they take a deep interest in the development of your farm.

The writer visited that locality the week of Aug. 6th to 12th and saw everywhere such excellent yields, such highly developed farms, canals full of water, fast growing towns, new land going under cultivation, as to warrant this statement, that there are not today, in the United States, better chances for successful farming and future homes than upon the irrigated lands of the above named regions.

Join our personally conducted excursions during the autumn and see for yourself what I am trying to make plain to you.
