- SUPREME JUDGES Charles E. Letton, William B. Rose, Francis G. Hader. COUNTY COMMISSIONER Thomas L. Hall. REGENTS Victor G. Lyford, Frank L. Haller. DISTRICT JUDGE Bruno O. Hostetler. CLERK DIST. COURT Louis Rein. COUNTY CLERK W. C. Dieterichs. COUNTY TREASURER F. M. Henry. COUNTY JUDGE E. A. Smith. COUNTY SHERIFF L. A. Williams. COUNTY SUFF. Mrs. Mary A. K. Hendrickson. COUNTY SUEVEYOR E. E. Corning. COUNTY COMMISSIONER Dr. A. S. Main.

OUR CANDIDATES

As it is now but a little over two weeks till the voters of Sherman county will be called upon to select the men they wish to fill the various state, judicial, county and township offices in Nebraska, it is meted that they should begin to inquire concerning the fitness of the various candidates and decide as to the best men to fill the required places.

Passing by the candidates for supreme judges and state regents so far as this article is concerned, we come down to those of particular interest to the voters of Sherman county.

For district judge, there is no contest. Bruno Hostetler having received the nomination of all the parties, he has no opposition and his election is therefore assured. The people are particularly to be congratulated, and the republican party in particular, that it has assisted republican candidate a man so able and so strong in the affections of the voters of all political shades of opinion, that at the primary democrats, populists and socialists did not deem it necessary to make opposition to his candidacy, but all joined in to make his nomination unanimous.

In county affairs, the republicans did in regard to district clerk, county clerk and county judge, just what the opposition did in regard to the district judgeship failed to make nominations for those offices, allowing them to go by default, and giving the democratic candidates for the above offices, Louis Rein, W. L. Dieterichs and E. A. Smith the republican nomination as well. Of course, having no opposition, these gentlemen have a dead clinch on election, and as they have proved efficient public servants, all will gladly join in making their election unanimous.

Coming to the office of Sheriff, Uncle Lou Williams, who has been our chief peace officer for the past six years, received nearly all the republican votes at the primary for re-nomination, and so popular was he that he came within 20 votes of receiving the democratic nomination as well, and had the votes been rightly counted in several townships, that is, if the judges in three or four townships we could name had allowed the votes to be counted which were written in as per the decision of the attorney general, and for which blank lines were provided, Uncle Lou like Judge Hostetler, would have received sufficient votes to have made him the candidate of the democrats and populists as well as of the republicans. However, he did not need such nominations to insure his election and when the votes are counted on the 7th of November, he will have been elected by even a greater majority we opine, than at any other previous election. It is unnecessary to add that he has made one of the best sheriffs any county could ask.

For the office of county treasurer, the republicans have placed in nomination one of the most efficient and well qualified men in this or any other county, a man who has made clerical work a life work, who is perfectly familiar with all the intricacies of such work as pertains to the most important of all county offices. If qualification counts for anything in the eyes and minds of the voters, without regard to political preference, F. M. Henry, of whom we speak, and of whom the republican party is proud to present as its candidate for county treasurer, will be easily elected to that important office on the 7th of November coming. Mr. Henry has been efficient manager of the Loup City branch of the Ravenna Creamery company at this place and Mr. Clark relies upon him more than on any other manager of branch creameries under his control. His estimate of Mr. Henry is especially flattering and upholds from a close business standpoint all that Loup City and Sherman county people think of that gentleman's qualifications along clerical lines. There is no doubt of Mr. Henry's eminent qualifications for the office of county treasurer and we believe the voters of Sherman county will at the coming election drop all political preferences and select a man for county treasurer who has made a life work along clerical lines and is the best fitted for that office. Veter, be you business man, professional man, farmer, or whatever line you may follow, in your own business you would hire the man to do your work who was best qualified. In the best interests of the county, which is also your interest, use the methods in electing a public servant as you would in selecting a man to attend to your private business. By so doing, F. M. Henry will be our next county treasurer.

For the office of county superintendent of schools, the republican voters at the primary selected Mrs. Mary A. K. Hendrickson as their candidate. Mrs. Hendrickson has been a resident of Sherman county for years, has been a successful teacher and if elected will put forth her best efforts to make the schools of Sherman county second to none other so far as lies within her power. The lady is too well known, from her long residence among you, to make comment by us necessary.

Dr. A. S. Main, republican candidate for coroner, and E. B. Corning, democratic candidate for county surveyor have no opposition, are both good men and of course have a clinch on election to those plutocratic places.

W. J. Bryan Was Here

Tuesday Loup City was entertained for a couple of sixty-minute periods by Nebraska's most distinguished citizen, William Jennings Bryan, and her people, without regard to party, gave him most respectful hearing.

It was a magnificent audience that gathered in the court house square, gathered from all portions of the county, and while perhaps a major part were not in sympathy with his party ideas, yet he received the most courteous of treatment.

Before beginning his political talk, Mr. Bryan gave a few minutes' talk to the children of our public schools, who were allowed a recess for the occasion, which, with his words of counsel followed, will prove of lasting benefit to them.

He then launched into his political talk, showering blessings upon the progressives (near-democrats) without whose aid the democrats could have accomplished absolutely nothing, and pleading with them to take another step and become full-fledged democrats. In fact his entire plea was "Oh, you dear insurgents; only one thing thou lackest," and that is the brand of democracy emblazoned on your foreheads. They were entreated to elect the democratic state ticket for the effect it would have on the national election and in turning the country over to democracy. William is a good pleader; democracy is the only cure-all for political ills and Mr. Bryan is the chief medicine mixer.

Creamery men say butter will not soar above last winter's prices.

Democratic papers are insisting that Oldham is a good democrat. He's a democrat all right.

It is significant that Bryan in his speeches over the state does not "point with pride" to the last two democratic legislatures.

Turkey now finding they have run against an Italian snag and grounded is petitioning the powers to intervene and save it being wiped off the map of nations.

Young Dixon, the aviator who made flights at Grand Island a few weeks ago was killed at Spokane last week in an attempted flight. Quite a number of our people saw him at Grand Island.

The very democratic papers that are so fulsome with their praise of Lafolette, would be the ones that would chuckle most loudly over his nomination, which to them savors of sure democratic success.

With Bryan going over the state supporting Oldham for the supreme court—one Bill dry and the other Bill awful wet, who says the wet and dry proposition cuts any ice with William Jennings in the coming election?

Will some one give us the correct answer to the question as to why the democratic papers are so assiduously booning Lafolette? Would any of them support him were he to get the presidential nomination? Nay, verily. It is pretty good anti-Taft medicine to use.

It is predicted by dispatches from across the water that the present clash between Italy and Turkey may just involve all the big European nations. Germany denounces Italy's intentions on Tripoli as rank robbery and she, with England, is greatly alarmed over the outcome.

The World-Herald is doing its level best to convince republicans that Taft would be a weak candidate for president next year. If it really thinks so why the Horned Spoon doesn't let us go ahead and nominate him? But it does not think anything of the kind and does not want him nominated.—Kearney Hub.

With a revolution taking place in China, with the Italians and Turks at it hammer and tongue, with labor leaders in the limelight for alleged dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times with Lorimer of Illinois and Stevenson of Wisconsin up for bribing their way into the U. S. senate, with Taft flying over the country proving to his own satisfaction that he should be again the Nation's chief executive and with Lafolette and Bryan flinging good words at each other in their speaking here and there, and with many other notable things happening, the reading public should not be at sea for news matters to read.

Troy Hale Breaks Arm

Yesterday (Wednesday) forenoon at about 11 o'clock, while unloading apples at his home and while standing up in Lan Benschoter's delivery wagon, the horses gave sudden move, throwing Mr. J. T. Hale violently to the ground dislocating his right shoulder and breaking the arm about three inches below the shoulder blade. Dr. Longacre attended the injured man.

'Steenth Runaway

Lan Benschoter's delivery team engaged in another of its periodical runaways this (Thursday) morning, ending up alongside Gus Lorentz' clothing store with the wagon wreck and the horses somewhat crippled. They began their spin down by the depots, up main street to First National bank corner, north to Troy Hale's and back on first street west to point of wreckage. Fortunately, it was too early for school hour or some of the little ones along the way might have been injured.

Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Burleigh were in town last Saturday, and Mr. Burleigh is here again this week. Between assisting in revival meetings at Henningford compiling and helping to print the annual conference minutes of the Northwest Nebraska conference of the M. E. church, of which he is secretary, holding his homestead and improving it, and looking after the comfort of his wife who has had poor health for some time past, he is a busy man; but as long as we have known him we have never heard utter a word of complaint although doing twice the work of many men of half his age. He has reached the age at which many men retire from business and regular work, but he seems to enjoy a busy life yet and thrive on it.—Alliance Herald.
