CRAZY MAN IN CUSTODY

Simple Minded Man Near Comstock Studies Primer and Is Arrested

Frank Scerehiuva, a pole aged about 50 years, was brought before the insanity board Tuesday and adjudged insane, and will go to the asylum as soon as the sheriff can take him. For several months he has been wandering about the west part of the county most of the time carrying a loaded shotgun. He formed a liking for Bertha Van Cleave, the teacher of district No. 39, and last Friday he concluded to go to school, which he did. Of course the teacher and pupils were afraid of him, but the teacher gave him a primer and he went to work as studiously as you please. When school was out he got into her buggy with her to accompany her home. At the John Maslonka place they had to pass through two gates. While her pupil was opening one gate she called to one of the Maslonka boys to open the gate and then she whipped up and drove off leaving the man, and threw out his gun. He followed her however and declared he would kill her. But he did not. He set his gun in the corner and prepared to stay all night but Mr. Van Cleave fired him and he went to the Adam Hvezda where he was kept Saturday and Sunday night he stopped with George Fretz. Monday he declared he would go to school again but Fretz and one of his neighbors kept him from doing so and phoned the sheriff. Sheriff Sutton and Deputy Marks went over and found the man at the Fretz place and brought him to Ord. He is not so crazy as he is simple, but of course he has no business at large. —Ord Quiz.

GOING BACK TO HOOP SKIRT DAYS

Hoop Skirts and Knitting Needles Are Promised at New Woman's Return to last Century

The sensible portion of the world which for the past year has denounced the "hobble skirt" may now have the comfort of knowing that a complete revolution is going to take place and change its investive. Crinoline, that strange revival of the antique "hoop skirt," is now said to be coming this way. Some one might well make a study of these fundamental styles which underlie all costume and to which fashion regularly returns. One is the "swelling skirt." Skirts swelled voluminously in the sixteenth century in the days of good Queen Bess. In the eighteenth century Sir Roger de Coverly spoke of hoop skirt as at once a new fashion and an old one received. One of the splendors of Versailles was the great garden staircase, where sixty ladies with hoop skirts that measured twenty-four feet in circumference could move with ease. In London the vogue of the hoop skirt was extraordinary and these heavily whaleboned petticoats grew so vast in proportion that architects were forced to take cognizance of them and allow for their passages up and down stairs by curving the balusters outward. After a half century of forgetfulness Empress Eugene resumed them and decreed that muslin should be the fabric used for ball gowns which was unadapted material for hoop skirts as the bellies were compelled to wear fourteen and even sixteen stiffly starched petticoats in order to get the necessary swelling effect. But imagine a shopping district crowd with traffic and hoopskirts. And a bargain sale at Gregg's. And the knitting craze is coming too in fact it is said to have come in many places already. Grandmother in her chair, knitting red mittens and red stockings as long as your arm and warm as a dumpling for little Willie and little Susie. But now everybody is learning or going to learn to knit. The fad has come to stay awhile. Already local merchants are calling attention to their large and varied assortments of yarn. School girls, housewives and society belles are preparing to tackle the knitting needle and ball of yarn. All sorts of garments will be made with the needle and the yarn. And what is the best part of the new born fad is the fact that the articles to be knitted will be as warm and comfortable as the wool of the lamb can make them.

Tweddle De or Tweddle Dum

The Loup City Northwestern in last week's issue comes out with a good strong "roast" about Arcadia's Football Team and their case "cold feet." The little village just below seems to forget that Loup City is playing a town team and makes no pretense of being high school. Our team here is composed of High School players. If Loup City wants to play a town team she will find that Arcadia has no case of cold feet or if she wishes to confine herself to High School she can be readily accommodated. —Arcadia Champion.

ANOTHER CURE FOR

CORN STALK DISEASE

That is, One of the Papers on Our Exchange Says So

An exchange gives the following receipt for curing animals afflicted with the cornstalk disease:
"Death to cattle eating the cornstalks may be prevented by giving one pint of salt containing three tablespoons of turpentine dissolved in three pints of warm water and in a drenching bottle. Even after the animal is down and unable to walk it can be relieved in thirty minutes and in the end permanently cured. After giving the drench rub one half pint of turpentine on the animal just behind the shoulders on both sides and then along the neck veins from the jaw to the brisket. This will promptly relax the nervous system. The salt will penetrate the dry hnsks in the stomach, while the turpentine entering the blood will counteract the nerve trouble produced by the husks therein."
