

W. L. DOUGLAS' TRUST PLAN

Manufacturer Thinks Government Should Obtain Publicity by a License System.

Large business organizations have come to stay. We cannot go back to old conditions. We must meet world competition. Large concerns can produce goods at lower cost than small ones. Germany favors large corporations. The method of the present national administration is to dissolve the great organizations and make them smaller, which is a backward step. There should be no limit to a corporation doing a large and legitimate business, such as would be possible under the licensing plan which I favor, writes W. L. Douglas, former governor of Massachusetts, in the Boston Herald.

Prejudices against corporations merely because they are big, perhaps, must be done away with. They give labor better returns. They cheapen products and thus benefit the consumer. They give opportunities to small investors who get returns otherwise unobtainable. They employ able young men who have no capital at all, but who receive handsome salaries for their ability and service.

In place of the Sherman law it is my opinion there should be a department at Washington to grant licenses to all manufacturers and corporations in this country who do an interstate commerce business.

The law should be made so clear, plain and definite that it could not be misunderstood. It should require all statements to be paid in full. Semi-yearly statements should be given to the public and certified by a public accountant. There should be a board of examiners in each state to look after these corporations just as our national banks are watched by the national government. They should have the right to enter the offices and examine the records of all the directors of these companies.

No Soap There.

It was a modern version of that ancient law that shoemakers' children go barefoot. A ten-year-old boy had presented himself at the settlement playground coated with many layers of city soil. The teacher lost no time in administering a reproof.

"Gee, how can I help it," sniffed the boy, "when my mother's a wash-woman and takes all the soap away wd'er?"

BODIES OF REBELS ON THE ENGLISH QUAY

ONE of the fiercest of the battles fought between the Chinese revolutionists and the imperial forces was at Hankow. There was great slaughter on both sides. A few days ago the American minister ordered all Americans in the interior to proceed at once to the nearest treaty port.

WHY HUSBAND TIRES

Playless Youth Makes Restless Married Man.

Mrs. Mary Austin, Playwright and Authoress, Explains Unhappy Marriages—Boys Assume Burden of Life Too Early.

New York.—The reason why so many husbands forty to fifty years of age tire of their wives and, in many cases, desert them is, according to Mrs. Mary Austin, because boys are made to assume the burden of life too early. Just as a young colt may be ruined by premature breaking to harness, so the moral fiber of youth may be weakened permanently by assuming too early the obligations of maturity, she thinks.

Mrs. Austin, who wrote "The Arrow Maker," and who is also the author of several novels, has been making a study of conditions in the domestic relations court recently.

"Youth," she said, "should be a period of efflorescence. When young people, girls as well as boys, are put to work too early the business life tends to destroy in them certain secondary sex characteristics which are of utmost importance to the race."

"For instance, take sentiment and romance in girls. In hundreds of young girls, working under the supervision of men, the romantic feeling cannot be fostered. It must, on the contrary, be suppressed, perhaps ultimately destroyed, for the girl's own protection. Men bring out in the girl of sixteen or so the characteristics which appeal to them, their flirtiness, pettiness, smartness. There are other qualities, more sentimental and poetic, which only women can bring out in girls. So, if a girl of sixteen has to go to work it should be under the direction of women."

"Boys have certain qualities of enthusiasm, of resistance to authority—a good thing, since if one generation accepted blindly the ideals of another, there would be no progress. But this enthusiasm, this eager questioning of life, has no place in business. I think society owes it to itself to preserve the vitality of its young people for the benefit of the race."

"All boys and girls inherit certain racial traits, certain hereditary traits, which they should have a chance to work out before they take up the burden of life. Everybody, for instance, goes through a period when he wants to live in a tent and shoot bows and arrows."

"A state or city should, I think, foster the development of sentiment between boys and girls."

"Every city should have a social center where poor boys and girls could meet, under proper chaperonage, to do their courting. It should be unnecessary for young persons, no matter how poor, to meet each other and do their courting in the streets. If we paid more attention to preserving the vitality, to fostering the poetic ideals of our boys and girls, we would not have nearly so many unhappy marriages, so many wife desertions."

GOOD MORNING IN A COURT

Amusing and Peculiar Mix-Up Happens in Chicago When Foreigner Confronts Municipal Judge.

Chicago.—"What is your name?" asked Municipal Judge Dolan of a tall black mustached Italian arraigned before him on a charge of disorderly conduct the other day.

"Goodmorning," replied the alien.

"Good morning," returned the judge with a smile. "But I want to know your name."

"Goodmorning," again came the reply.

"Is that all the English you know?" the judge asked.

"Goodmorning, my name," replied the prisoner. "Jim Goodmorning, they call me in this country."

"All right, Jim Goodmorning," the court said. "I thought you were just trying to be polite to me. You are discharged. Good morning!"

To Dig for Whisky

Syndicate Seeks to Recover Liquor Lost Years Ago.

Cargo Which Searchers Expect to Recover From Lost Steamer Leadora, Estimated to Be Worth Not Less Than $50,000.

St. Paul, Minn.—Like a hunt for pirates' buried treasure is a search now being made at a point on the Missouri river, where South Dakota and Iowa join. The object is to recover one hundred barrels of whisky and other goods supposed to be in the hull of the Missouri river steamer Leadora, which was grounded and partly destroyed forty-five years ago.

The cargo which the searchers expect to recover is estimated to be worth not less than $50,000. The Leadora was 175 feet long and was bound from St. Louis to Fort Benton, Mont., when it met with its mishap.

The cargo consisted, as near as can be learned at this late day, of more than one hundred barrels of whisky and mining tools.

When the steamer reached the southeastern corner of South Dakota its crew discovered that what had been the main channel of the Missouri was temporarily blocked by a sandbar. So they worked the steamer over to the South Dakota side of the river in an endeavor to find an opening through which the boat could pass.

The boat ran aground, and while an attempt was being made to free it, it was found to be on fire. To prevent the fire from destroying both boat and cargo the craft was scuttled. The nine passengers and crew escaped and twenty barrels of whisky, together with some groceries, were saved.

In 1871, six years later, the insurance firm which paid the insurance on the boat sold the salvage to James Bourge of Sioux City, and he set to work to recover the cargo. Men worked two or three weeks on the boat and had taken off some of the cargo, as well as the engines and boiler, excepting the "nigger" engine, when the river rose rapidly and forced the abandonment of the work. Since then until the present effort has been done to recover the rest of the cargo.

The present operations are being conducted by the Cole Brothers, of Alcester, and E. E. Wenner of Elk Point, assisted by Daniel Ballinger, now a resident of the vicinity, who was a passenger on the boat on its last trip.

Wenner located the old boat about fifteen years ago by means of a compass and metallic attraction, and at that time he sunk a cylinder down to what was supposed to be the deck and found things in good shape. He decided that as long as the main channel of the Missouri remained where it was the old hull could be damaged but little. Since then Wenner has had the old boat in mind, but not until a few weeks ago did he do anything further about recovering the cargo.

Such of the timbers of the old craft as have been uncovered are in fine condition, and the iron work does not appear to have been damaged by its exposure to the elements and the wet sand.

A second hole near what is supposed to have been the stern of the steamer is now being sunk, and this has gone down rapidly until the hull has again been struck.

The other day the men engaged in the operations recovered a broken bottle with the words, "O. K. Plantation, 1840," blown into the glass. Within a few days they have found peanuts, coffee, almonds and other goods.

Many Cats Abandoned.

St. Paul, Minn.—So many cats have been abandoned by the residents of surrounding summer resorts that the St. Paul Humane society has decided to appeal to the next legislature to make the abandonment of a cat a crime. At present the society is obliged to kill the cats. Massachusetts has a law that deals with the problem in that way.

School Lunch Makes Hit.

St. Louis.—Two-and-one-half-cent lunches inaugurated by the board of education in the Jefferson, Henry, Lafayette and Pestalozzi schools are eaten by approximately 2,500 grade pupils and pronounced a success, not in words, but in the rapidity with which they are consumed. The lunches are prepared at the Central high school and carried to the grade schools in specially constructed wagons.

Individual Cups for Horses.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Individual drinking "cups" for horses will be introduced here. If a recommendation by the Los Angeles board of veterinary surgeons is carried, watering troughs are breeding places for glanders germs, say the veterinarians. The report urges each driver of a team to provide himself with a bucket from which his horses and no others may drink.

Unwholesome Proximity.

"Quick, Dusty! come away from dat bar!!" "Wat's de matter?" "De cinder in it's workin'."—Judge.

ALWAYS GENTLE IN REPROOF

General Lee's Real Kindness of Heart Made Manifest on Such Occasions.

There are some new, or, at least, unfamiliar stories of Robert E. Lee in Gamaliel Bradford, Jr.'s article on "Lee After the War" in the South Atlantic Quarterly. Lee's methods of reproof were peculiar to him. A student was once called to account for absence. "Mr. M., I am glad to see you better." Lee said to him, smiling. "But, general, I have not been sick."

"Then I am glad you have better news from home." "But, general, I have had no bad news." "Ah, I took it for granted that nothing less than sickness or distressing news from home could have kept you from your duty."

In the same vein was his remark to a student who had been late for prayers. "Mr. Pace, will you kindly give my compliments to Miss — and ask her if she will please have breakfast a little earlier for you?" To a negligent student he said: "How is your mother? I am sure you must be devoted to her; you are so careful of the health of her son."

CUTICURA OINTMENT HEALED BAD SORE ON LIMB

"Some time ago I was coming up some steps when the board crushed under me like an egg shell, and my right limb went through to the knee, and scraped the flesh off the bone just inside and below the knee. I neglected it for a day or two, then it began to hurt me pretty badly. I put balsam fir on to draw out the poison, but when I had used it a week, it hurt so badly that I changed to — ointment. That made it smart and burn so badly that I couldn't use it any more, and that was the fourth week after I was hurt."

"Then I began to use Cuticura Ointment for the sore. It stopped hurting immediately and began healing right away. It was a bad-looking sore before Cuticura Ointment healed it, and I suffered so I couldn't sleep from using Cuticura Ointment."

"Cuticura Soap is the best soap I ever saw. I have used all kinds of soap for washing my face, and always it would leave my face smarting. I had to keep a lotion to stop the smart, no matter how expensive a soap I used. I find at last in Cuticura Soap a soap that will clean my face and leave no smarting, and I do not have to use any lotion or anything else to ease it. I believe Cuticura Soap is the best soap made." (Signed) Mrs. M. E. Fairchild, 805 Lafayette St., Wichita, Kan., May 8, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 22 K, Boston.

Mick—Yes. I suppose he thought his watch and chain would be safer that way.

One of the Boones.

From San Antonio, Tex., comes Harry Boone, itinerant scribe. Harry drifted into town a couple of days ago. Introduced as "Mr. Boone," he said: "Yes, call me Daniel Boone. It isn't my name, but I'm always called it, so I'm getting used to it. Which reminds me: I was introduced to a fellow once and gave him the Daniel part of it so he would remember the name. The next time I met him he said: 'How are you today, Mr. Crockett!'"—San Francisco Chronicle.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of disease, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrappers and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeits are as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.
