HARMON MADE GOOD SHOWING.

Manager Says He Got Four Votes and Bryan None.

Washington.—Governor Harmon of Ohio advised his campaign headquarters here that he would leave Columbus for a speaking tour in Texas, on dates to be arranged by a state committee.

"I am gratified that Governor Harmon has so many friends in Nebraska, as was disclosed in Friday's primary. The governor made an excellent showing, considering the fact that Nebraska is the home state of William J. Bryan, whose candidate did not receive a single delegate, while Governor Harmon obtained four."

ROOSEVELT AND CLARK WIN IN NEBRASKA

Former Gets the State by a Vote of at Least Three to One

NORRIS CHOICE FOR SENATE

Latest Reports Show Roosevelt Continues to Gain. Other Offices Settled in a Manner That Leaves No Doubt

ALDRICH AND MOREHEAD WINNERS

Howell, Republican, and Hall, Democratic, Chosen for National Committees on Their Respective Tickets, Strongly Defeating All Opposition.

Omaha.—The Omaha Bee says: Returns from the primary elections held in Nebraska on Tuesday are yet far from complete, but enough of the vote has been tabulated to make certain that Roosevelt has cleaned up in the state by more than 2 to 1, and perhaps 3 to 1.

GOV. CHESTER H. ALDRICH, David City, Nebr.

Brown and R. B. Howell of Omaha is elected national committeeman to succeed Victor Rosewater.

On the democratic ticket the result is not quite so clearly shown. The returns so far tabulated indicate the endorsement of Champ Clark as the presidential choice of the democrats of Nebraska.

It will be some time yet before the final returns are known, as the count has been very slow throughout the state. In Omaha and Douglas the count was never so slow. Judges and clerks did not get through their share of the work until noon on Saturday, or fifteen hours after the polls were closed, and in a number of precincts the time consumed in counting the lengthy ballot was even longer.

Monday.—Additional returns from the Nebraska primary elections have not altered the relative positions of the leading candidates for the principal positions. Roosevelt's majority over all continues to grow; Clark has the democratic endorsement; Norris is slightly ahead of Brown for the endorsement for United States senator on the republican ticket, and Shallenberger has a lead over Thompson and Reed on the democratic ticket that seems to be safe.

Roosevelt Wins in Kansas. Topeka, Kan.—Reports received from ten Kansas counties which held primaries or conventions today show that Roosevelt forces won in nine of them and that one will send a split delegation to the state convention at Independence.

West Virginia for Roosevelt. Wheeling, W. Va.—With but a few counties yet to be heard from, Theodore Roosevelt carried West Virginia in today's primaries by a vote of 2 to 1.

Roosevelt Captures Oregon. Portland, Ore.—Under the presidential primaries, Theodore Roosevelt is the choice of the republican voters of Oregon. The colonel has carried two-thirds of the counties of the state. Senator Robert La Follette carried Multnomah county, where one-fourth of the votes and the population are located. President Taft carried about ten of the thirty-four counties, running a bad third in Multnomah. Ten delegates are instructed to cast their votes for Roosevelt.

Result in Kearney. Kearney, Neb., April 19.—All city precincts give Taft 173, Roosevelt 233, La Follette 139, Wilson 39, Harmon 34, Clark 91, Brown 44, Norris 91, Thompson 37, Shallenberger 113, Reed 8, Rosewater 35, Howell 40, Hall 46, Fanning 9, Moorhead 78, Metcalf 91.

Student Among the Lost. Liberty, Mo.—Stewart Collett of Upper Holloway, London, England, en route to this country to enter William Jewell college in this city, was lost on the Titanic.

Bryan Will Take the Stump. Washington.—William J. Bryan will take the stump in Florida this week for the presidential candidacy of Governor Wilson according to announcement at the latter's campaign headquarters. He will speak at Jacksonville Thursday, Tampa Friday and Wednesday at Pensacola.

Morehead Captures Governorship. The election results of Friday, says the Omaha World-Herald of Sunday, were sufficient to make plain the fact that Morehead has captured the democratic nomination for governor and to demonstrate more forcibly the majorities by which Roosevelt and Clark swept the state for the preference vote on president in the republican and democratic primaries respectively.

The race between Senator Brown and George Norris for the republican nomination for United States senator is a lively one, with the odds favoring Norris and early returns indicating the likelihood of his nomination. The figures in the accompanying list of totals includes a portion of Norris Brown's home county, Buffalo, but none from Norris' home, Red Willow.

On the democratic side Shallenberger has a walkaway for United States senator. Reed's vote was surprisingly small considering the vigorous campaign which he made.

The accompanying list of totals contains eighty-three precincts from Douglas county. While they swell the apparent majorities of the several candidates, they do not indicate a change in the state results, as in most cases the candidates winning in Douglas county will have majorities in the state.

JOHN H. MOREHEAD, Nominee on the Democratic Ticket for Governor.

One of the prisoners is said to have had an honorable discharge from the United States navy.

Result in Douglas County. Practically complete returns from Friday's general primary in Douglas county show Roosevelt, republican, Harmon, democrat, winners in the presidential preference contests. With but nine precincts missing and with returns from South Omaha complete, at 3 o'clock this morning Roosevelt was leading Taft by more than 2,600 votes and La Follette by more than 3,500. Harmon was a little more than 1,000 votes in the lead of Wilson and Clark, who were running neck and neck for second place.

ISMAI REPLIES TO SERIOUS CHARGES

Issues Statement in Which He Denies All Responsibility for the Horrible Disaster

White Star Official Says He Was in Bed at Time of Accident and Worked Two Hours Before Leaving Ship.

New York.—In a statement given out here Sunday night J. Bruce Ismay replies to various published statements regarding the Titanic disaster, particularly those in which his name has prominently figured. He denies that he had anything to do with the navigation of the vessel and declares that he did not consult with his captain regarding its conduct at sea and made no suggestion as to the course or other handling of the ship.

EMIL BRANDEIS, Omaha Merchant Lost on the Titanic.

He exercised no privileges that did not belong to any other first class passenger he declares, did not sit at the captain's table and was not dining with him at the time of the accident and in fact was in bed when the collision occurred.

He had no idea of returning to Europe quickly to avoid appearing at the senatorial investigation, he adds, and only knew that the investigation was pending when informed of it at the pier on the Carpathia's arrival.

Mr. Ismay's statement in part follows: "When I appeared before the senate committee Friday morning I supposed the purpose of the inquiry was to ascertain the cause of the sinking of the Titanic, with a view to determining whether additional legislation was required to prevent the recurrence of so horrible a disaster.

"I welcomed such an inquiry and appeared voluntarily, without subpoena, and answered all questions put to me by the members of the committee to the best of my ability, with complete frankness and without reserve. I did not suppose the question of my personal conduct was the subject of the inquiry, although I was ready to tell everything I did on the night of the collision.

"As I have been subpoenaed to attend before the committee in Washington Monday, I should prefer to make no public statement out of respect for the committee, but I do not think that courtesy requires me to be silent in the face of the untrue statements made in some of the newspapers.

"When I went on board the Titanic at Southampton on April 10, it was my intention to return by it. I had no intention of remaining in the United States at that time. I came merely to observe the new vessel, as I had done in the case of other vessels of our line.

"During the voyage I was a passenger and exercised no greater rights of privileges than any other passenger. I was not consulted by the commander about the ship, its course, speed, navigation, or its conduct at sea. All these matters were under the exclusive control of the captain. I saw Captain Smith only casually, as other passengers did; I was never in his room; I was never on the bridge until after the accident; I did not sit at his table in the saloon; I had not visited the engine room nor gone through the ship and did not go, or attempt to go, to any part of the ship to which any other first class passenger did not have access.

EMIL BRANDEIS IS LOST.

Omaha's Merchant Last Seen On Deck Facing the End.

Omaha.—From survivors meager details have been gleaned of the way death came to Emil Brandeis when the Titanic sank. These show him a true man, bravely facing the end. He was playing cards with Mr. Hepry B. Harris of New York, an old acquaintance, and his wife, Mrs. Harris, was saved, but Mr. Harris is also among the missing. Mrs. A. D. Brandeis, who had been watching in New York for the coming of the Carpathia with the load of rescued passengers, has been promised an interview with Mrs. Harris as soon as that lady has recovered sufficiently to be permitted to see anyone.

In response to a telegram from the editor of The Bee, Mrs. Brandeis sent this message late in the afternoon Friday:

"New York, April 19.—To Victor Rosewater, Omaha: Can give you no other details than have sent Arthur. Mrs. Harris is too ill to be interviewed today. Had there been more lifeboats our splendid men would be living today. Two survivors saw Emil on the ship when the lifeboats pulled away. ZERLINA BRANDEIS."

Emil Brandeis was playing cards with Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Harris when the Titanic struck the iceberg that sent it down, according to a telegram received early Friday morning by Arthur and Hugo Brandeis.

Jerome Wilson, private secretary to William Morris, the theatrical man, sent the telegram, which stated that Mrs. Harris was not in a condition to be interviewed, but requested that one of Emil Brandeis' relatives come to her for particulars.

Emil Brandeis had traveled with Mr. and Mrs. Harris before and was well acquainted with them.

In Memory of Brandeis. Omaha.—A final tribute of flowers, sacred songs and words of praise and regret was paid Omaha's well beloved citizen, Emil Brandeis, who met death bravely with 1,500 others when the ill-fated steamship Titanic sank, at the Brandeis theater Sunday morning. The theater held an assemblage the like of which never before gathered there and 1,000 were turned away for lack of room.

Poor and rich, low and high, the learned and the unlearned, gathered at the place of mourning, a saddened crowd, but proud of the brilliant, successful and tender-hearted Omahan who met death with a heroism that bequeathed his friends and relatives a sacred heritage.

The stage was smothered with fragrant flowers, symbols of sorrow sent by commercial and civic organizations and innumerable friends. An illumined portrait of the dead faced the audience from the center of the stage. Furred flags, leaning at half-mast, had been placed at each side of the stage and over the boxes.

GRAPHIC STORY OF DISASTER.

Told by Speaker John Kuhl of the Nebraska Legislature.

New York.—John Kuhl of Randolph, Neb., told a most graphic story of the disaster. Mr. Kuhl said the passengers on the Carpathia were in bed asleep when the Titanic's messages of distress were received. It was almost 4 o'clock in the morning and dawn was just breaking when the Carpathia's passengers were awakened by the excitement occasioned by coming upon the fleet of the life saving boats.

The work of getting the passengers over the side of the Carpathia, according to Mr. Kuhl, was attended by most heartrending scenes. Babies were crying, women were hysterical and the men stolid and speechless.

JOHN KUHL, RANDOLPH, NEB. Tells Graphic Story of Titanic Disaster.

Some of the women were barefooted and without any headgear.

Mr. Kuhl said five were dead, or almost dead, when taken from the life boats, and according to his story there were five burials at sea.

Mr. Kuhl was on the way to Europe on his honeymoon, having been recently married. He was speaker of the house in the last session of the Nebraska legislature.

Major Butt Lost.

Washington.—President Taft waited until after midnight hoping that some of the Titanic's survivors might tell something of Major Archibald W. Butt, his military aide, who undoubtedly was lost in the catastrophe. Colonel Gracie's story which made no mention of Major Butt blasted the last hope, and the president completely surrendered to his worst fears. Secretary Hilles remained at the White House and took the bulletins to the president.

Masked Men Rob Train.

Chicago.—Five persons were robbed of money or valuables or both by three masked hold-up men who went through the sleeper Nottingham State limited a few minutes after midnight at Sheffield, Ill., forty miles east of Moline. After the robbers had finished their work they shot holes in the air signal tube connected with the engine and thus brought the train to a standstill and made their escape. Posses are now in pursuit.

Praise From Roosevelt.

Lindsborg, Kan.—Theodore Roosevelt here paid a tribute to the heroism of Major Archibald W. Butt, who perished in the Titanic disaster that others might be saved.
