THE NORTHWESTERN, TALMAGE'S

NEB

.

BENSCHOTER & GIBSON, Eds and Puba.

.

LOUP CITY,

It is said that automobiles have so cheapened the cost of barvesting grain in the immense California fields that wheat can be raised there at less actual cost than in the Argentine Republic.

The frequent walks across the Swiss-Italian frontier of girls of a seminary near Maslianco, says a Rome dispatch, aroused the suspicious of the customs officers, who finally stopped a procession of 40, walking two by two, and ascertained that each girl was smuggling cigars or cigarettes. The aggregate value was $30,000.

A prize of 3,000 marks presented to the Berlin Academy of Science by the Marquis de Chasseloup, a Parisian of partial American descent, for the best modern work on American history, has been awarded to James Ford Rhodes, a native of Cleveland and a brother-in-law of Senator Hanna. Mr. Rhodes was so honored on account of his "History of the United States from the Compromise of 1850."

A writer in the London Spectator remembers to have seen the border country of Suffolk and Essex lighted night after night with blazing ricks, fired as a protest against the introduction of thrashing machines. Where, to-day, he asks, is the man under fifty who can use a flail? The question is only an emphatic way of referring to labor-saving machinery. Imagine for a'moment an attempt to harvest Western crops without a reaper.

A resident of Springfield, Ohio, was recently robbed of $16, and one "Dan" Sullivan was arrested. When the man was searched the money could not be found. The officers were confident they had the right man, and after watching him for a short time noticed that "Dan" was carefully guarding his corncob pipe. He had it in his mouth, filled with tobacco, but it was not lighted, and, striking a match, Lawless put it to the pipe and told "Dan" to enjoy hmself. He obeyed the order, but after smoking a few seconds weakened and told the other that the money was concealed in the bottom of his pipe.

Fifty casks of a special design and the strongest possible construction will soon be sent to Bering Sea by the United States Revenue Marine service, and placed upon the highest hummocks of the flow-ice. It is hoped by tracing their future course to test the direction of the currents that cross the polar regions. The casks are twenty-eight inches long and sixteen inches in diameter, so as to be seen easily Inside of each are directions printed in several different languages, asking the finder to write to the nearest United States consul, giving the latitude and longitude in which the cask was found, and the date. Admiral Melville, who designed the casks, believes that it will be possible in this way to determine whether the ice-packs drift from the Arctic westward, or south and east to the Atlantic. The Ashville (N. C.) Citizen says: "Those who have read of the recent deeds of violence committed by negroes in Louisiana while banded together under the pretense of being organized for religious and benevolent purposes are not surprised to learn that a negro mafia is about to be started. The negroes in that vicinity have been becoming very insolent and selfimportant and seem to have the idea that a secret organization is all that is necessary to enable them to accomplish their purpose of dealing out death to every white man who may strike a negro or become an object of their malice. The new order is said to be under the leadership largely of negro preachers, who, having no use for the ordinary virtues that are sup- darkness, and the king of the air fell posed to be advocated from the pulpit, helpless. But the morning rose, and have been devoting their questionable talents to the preaching of lawlessness.

THE FOLLY OF WORRY, LAST SUN-DAY'S SUBJECT.

'Sufficient Unto the Day is the Evil Thereof"-Matthew XI; 34-The Evil of Borrowing Trouble from the Futare-Don't Worry.

[Copyright, 1901. by Louis Klopsch, N. Y.] Washington, Sept. 8 .- In this discourse Dr. Talmage shows the folly of allowing forebodings to influence us and how expectation of evil weakens and destroys; text, Matthew vi, 34. "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

The life of every man, woman and child is as closely under the divine care as though such person were the only man, woman or child. There are no accidents. As there is a law of storms in the natural world, so there is a law of trouble, a law of disaster, a law of misfortune; but the majority of the troubles of life are imaginary, and the most of those anticipated never come. At any rate, there is no cause of complaint against God. See how much he has done to make you happy, his sunshine filling the earth with glory, making rainbow for the storm and halo for the mountain, greenness for the moss, saffron for the cloud and crystal for the billow and procession of bannered flame through the opening gates of the morning, chaffinches to sing, rivers to glitter. seas to chant and springs to blossom. and overpowering all other sounds with its song and overarching all other splendor with its triumph, covering up all other beauty with its garlands and outflashing all thrones with its dominion-deliverance for a lost world through the Great Redeemer.

Borrowing Trouble. I discourse of the sin of borrowing rouble.

First, such a habit of mind and heart s wrong, because it puts one into a despondency that ill fits him for duty planted two rosebushes in my garden; the one thrived beautifully, the other perished. I found the dead one on the shady side of the house. Our dispositions, like our plants, need sunshine. Expectancy of repulse is the cause of many secular and religious failures. Fear of the bankruptcy has uptorn many a fine business and sent the man dodging among the note shavers. Fear of slander and abuse has often invited all the long-beaked vultures of scorn and backbiting, Many of the misfortunes of life, like hyenas, flee if you courageously meet them.

How poorly prepared for religious duty is a man who sits down under the gloom of expected misfortune! If he prays, he says, "I do not think I shall be answered." If he gives, he expect they will steal the money." Helen Chaimers told me that her father, Thomas Chalmers, in the darkest hour of the history of the Free Church of Scotland and when the woes of the land seemed to weigh upon his heart said to his children. 'Come, let us go out and play ball or fly kite," and the only difficulty in the play was that the children could not keep up with their father. The McCheynes and the Summerfields of the church who did the most good toiled in the sunlight. Away with the horrors! They distill polson; they dig graves, and if they could climb so high they would drown the rejoicings of heaven with sobs and wailing. Watching for Misfortune. You will have nothing but misfortune in the future if you sedulously watch for it. How shall a man catch the right kind of fish if he arranges his line and hook and bait to catch lizards and water serpents? Hunt for bats and hawks, and bats and hawks you will find. Hunt for robin redbreasts, and you will find robin redbreasts. One night an eagle and an owl got into fierce battle. The eagle unused to the night, was no match for the owl, which is most at home in the with it rose the eagle, and the owls and the night hawks and the bats came a second time to the combat. Now, the eagle in the sunlight, with a stroke of his talons and a great cry cleared the air, and his enemies, with torn feathers and splashed with blood, tumbled into the thickets. Ye are the children of light. In the night of despondency you will have no chance against your enemies that flock up from beneath; but, trusting in God and standing in the sunshine of the promises, you shall "renew your youth like the eagle." Again, the habit of borrowing trouble is wrong because it has a tendency to make us overlook present blessing To slake man's thirst the rock is cleft and cool waters leap into his brimming cup. To feed his hunger the fields bow down with bending wheat, and the cattle come down from the clover pastures to give him milk, and the orchards yellow and ripen, casting their juicy fruits into his lap. Alas, that amid such exuberance of blessing man should growl as though he were a soldier on half rations or a sailor on short allowance: that a man should stand neck deep in harvests looking forward to famine; that one should feel the strong pulses of health marching with regular tread through all the avenues of life and yet tremble at the expected assault of sickness; that a man should sit in his pleasant home fearful that ruthless want will some day rattle the broken window sash with tempest and sweep the coals bosom harvests of wheat and shocks he had killed her, threw himself upon from the hearth and pour hunger into of corn and vineyards purpling for the the bread tray; that a man fed by him winepress. The wrathful wave will shot himself in the right temple. He who owns all the harvests should ex- kiss the feet of the great Storm Walk- where he forgets that he was once a fell dead upon the fainting girl's body. pect to starveg that one whom God er. Our great Joshua will command, boy life loses half its charms.

SERMON. loves and surrounds with benediction and above your soul the sun of prosand attends with angelic escort and perity will stand still. Bleak and hovers over with more than motherly wave struck Patmos shall have apofondnests should be looking for a heri- calyptic vision, and you shall hear the tage of tears! Has God been hard cry of elders and the sweep of wings with thee that thou shouldst be fore- and trumpets of salvation and the boding? Has he stinted thy board? voice of hallelujah unto God forever. Has he covered thee with rags? Has he spread traps for thy feet, and galled Your way may wind along dangerthy cup, and rasped thy soul, and ous bridle paths and amid wolf's howl wrecked thee with storm, and thunderand the scream of the vulture, but the ed upon thee with a life full of caway still winds upward till angels lamity?

Dangerous Bridle Paths.

guard it, and trees of life overarch it,

and thrones line it, and crystalline

fountains leap on it, and the pathway ends at gates that are pearl and streets that are gold and temples that are always open and hills that quake with perpetual song and a city mingling forever Sabbath and jubilee and triumph

Let pleasure chant her siren song:

To weeping it will turn ere long,

For this is heaven's decree.

To Jesus, their exalted King,

With joyful heart and tongue,

Oh, that's the song for me!

Courage, my brother! The father

does not give to his son at school enough money to last him several years, but, as the bills for tuition and board and clothing and books come in, pays them. So God will not give you grace all at once for the future, but,

will meet all your exigencies as they come. Through earnest prayer trust him. People ascribe the success of a certain line of steamers to business skill and know not the fact that when that line of steamers started the wife of the proprietor passed the whole of each day when a steamer started in prayer to God for its safety and the success of the line. Put everything in Gous hands and leave it there. Large interest money to pay will soon eat up a larm, a store, an estate, and the interest on borrowed troubles will swamp anybody. "Sufficient unto the

LANG ON AMERICAN HISTORY-

"Osenro" Element.

day is the evil thereof."

'Tis not the song for me.

Work of Self-Examination.

Many Christians think it a bad sign to be jubilant, and their work of selfexamination is a hewing down of their brighter experiences. Like a boy with a new jackknife, hacking everything he comes across, so their self-examination is a religious cutting to pieces of the and coronation. greenest things they can lay their hands on. They imagine they are doing God's service when they are going about borrowing trouble, and borrowing it at 30 per cent, which is always a sure precursor of bankruptcy.

Again, the habit of borrowing trouble is wrong because the present is sufficiently taxed with trial. God sees that we all need a certain amount of trouble, and so he apportions it for all the days and years of our life. Alas for the policy of gathering it all up for one day or year! Cruel thing to put upon the back of one camel all the cargo intended for the entire caravan. I never look at my memorandum book to see what engagements and duties are far ahead. Let every week bear its own burdens. The shadows of today are thick enough. Why implore the presence of other shadows? The cup is already distasteful. Why halloo to disasters far distant to come and wring out more gall in the bitterness? Are we such champions that, having won the best in former encounters, we can go forth to challenge all the future?

Do Not Worry.

Here are business men just able to manage affairs as they now are. They can pay their rent and meet their notes and manage affairs as they now are, but how if a panic should come and my investments should fail? Go tomorrow and write on your daybook or on your ledger, on your money safe. 'Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." Do not worry about notes that are far from due. Do not pile up on your counting desk the financial anxieties of the next 20 years. The God who has taken care of your worldly occupation, guarding your store from the torch of the incendiary and the key of the burglar, will be as faithful in 1910 as in 1901. God's hand is mightier than the machinations of stock gamblers or the plots of political demagogues or the red right arm of revolution, and the darkness will fly and the storm fall dead at his feet.

So there are persons in feeble health, nd they are worried about the future.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON XII. SEPT. 22: PROV-ERBS 23: 21-25.

Golden Text-Wine Is a Mocker, Strong Drink Is Raging: and Whosoever Is Deceived Thereby 1s Not Wise-Prov. 20: 1-Temperance Lesson.

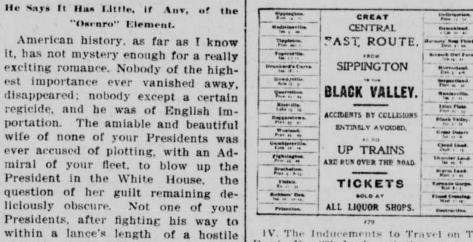

I. Starting from the Crystal River Country .- This is the land which all chil dren enter when they come into this world. Cascades and waterfalls are nu merous, so that the whole country can be irrigated and enriched by an abundant supply of the purest water. Living springs are found in every part of the land, form ing multitudes of rivulets, which quietly flow into, and form at last, what is known as the great Crystal River, which in time is to irrigate and transform the whole Black Valley Country. For its na-ture and power, see John 7: 37-39; Rev. 22: 1, 2, 17.

Every drunkard was once an innocenchild. Every one was first a moderate drinker. No one ever yet became : drunkard who refused to touch intoxicat ing drink. Not all who drink moderately But there's a song the ransomed sing do become drunkards, but no one ever be came a drunkard who did not first drink moderately

> 'II. In the Black Valley Country .- Vs. 29 The Black Valley Country joins the Crystal River Land, and it is difficult to tell where the change begins.

But gradually the country become rougher, more barren, and stony. The in abitants become poorer, and are infested with innumerable pains and disease Vice and crime abound. Innumerabl drunkards and criminals are found there Frisons and poorhouses take the place o churches and schoolhouses.

On its lower limits the Black Valley Country is bounded by a vast desert whose inhabitants are continually wan dering in dry places, seeking rest and finding none. Over this desert thick clouds are always rolling, indicating ap proaching storms and tempests, while forked lightnings cross, and thunders mutter sounds of sullen wrath. "A land of darkness as darkness itself." It is place of outer darkness, where is weep ing and gnashing of teeth. Here is the worm that dieth not and the fire that is not quenched. Here is found the reptile whose tooth is like "the cruel venom o asps," and which, "at last, biteth l'ke a scrpent, and stingeth like an adder. 111. Black Valley Railroad Time-Table All those who go on this road to the Black Valley Country start at Sippington or Medicineville. They intend to remain in that vicinity. These places are close to the Crystal River.

1V. The Inducements to Travel on This Road -V. "31. Look not thou upon the The fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills

Schmidt, Champion Rifle Shot.

Private Schmidt, of Company D. Fourteenth United State infantry, now camped at the rifle range near Mount Clemens, Mich., made a score at shooting at 600 yards that the broke the record of the whole army. The target was a dummy man. Nineteen out of twenty of his shots took effect, any of which would have caused instant death in a living man, while the twentieth shot would have inflicted a serious or fatal wound. Schmidt's achievement is said to be not only unparalleled in United State arm rifle shooting records, but also without precedent

Another New Ocean Flyer.

Another new ocean greyhound will soon start on her maiden trip to New York, and great things are expected of her. The vessel is the Kronprinz Wilhelm, and is owned by the North German Lloyd line. She will leave Bremen on September 17, and there will be many bets laid as to when she will reach her American dock. The Norther German Lloyd company sets the date for September 24, but they secretly hope that she will reach hero before that time, and there are many to wager that she will. The Kronprinz Wilhelm, while built as a sister ship to the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, is ten feet longer, and varies also in other proportions which count for speed. It is expected that the Kronprinz Wilhelm will beat the time of the Deutschland, of the Hamburg-American line, which now holds the record across the Eastern seas.

One for the Silly Season.

Professor Gautier, a member of the Institut de France, has propounded a theory on the subject of perpetual youth. In isolating the bacteria of physical fatigue, he has found, he says, that it is a poison strongly resembling ptomaine poison in nature. From this he argues that fatigue can, by the use of disinfectants, be avoided like any other poison, and consequently man need not weaken or age.

-

Couldn't Wear Shoes.

Sumpter, Ill., Sept. 9th .- Mrs. J. B. Flanigan, of this place, had suffered with dropsy for fifteen years. She was so very bad that for the last three years she has not been able to wear her shoes. She had doctored all the time, but was gradually getting worse, Last winter Mr. Flanigan, who was very much discouraged, called for some medicine at Mr. J. J. Dale's drug store in Carmi. Mr. Dale persuaded him to have his wife try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and he bought six boxes. His wife used five out of the six, before she was entirely cured. She is now as sound and well as ever she was, completely restored to health, and free from any symptom whatever of dropsy.

To say that Mrs. Flanigan is pleased at her wonderful deliverance does not half express her feelings, and she and Mr. Flanigan are loud in their praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and of Mr. Dale for recommending this wonderful remedy to them.

The movement for the preservation of British scenery resulted in the formation of the National Trust for Places of Historic Interest and Natural Beauty. A London editor suggests that the trust profit by a few of the "superfluous millions" of Mr. Andrew Carnegie, by inducing him to buy Exmoor, or the English Lakes, or the River Thames, or the Snowdon District, or the Trossachs. The trust would see to it that builders and advertising firms did no injury. There are tracts without number in our own country, the beauty of which ought to be guarded for the benefit of generations to come, which invite the attention of men between whose overflowing purse and philanthropic purpose no great gulf is fixed. Nature has her rights, as well as man, and it is a wanton invasion of them to mar and destroy unnecessarily what God has made beautiful and health-giving.

At Afragola, a village near Naples. a young sailor, disapproving of the courtship of his sister by an undesirable lover, and having in vain tried to put a stop to the affair, followed the couple the other day in the country lanes, and as soon as he caught sight of them fired two shots at them from his revolver. His sister, slightly wounded in the neck, fainted away from fright, and her brother, believing her, weeping, kissed her, and then

They make out very well now, but they are bothering themselves about future pleurisies and rheumatisms and neuralgias and fevers. Their eyesight is feeble, and they are worried lest they entirely lose it. Their hearing is indistinct, and they are alarmed lest they become entirely deaf. They felt chilly today and are expecting an attack of typhoid. They have been troubled for weeks with some perplexing malady and dread becoming lifelong invalids. Take care of your health now and trust God for the future. Be not guilty of the blasphemy of asking him to take care of you while you sleep with your windows tight down or eat chicken salad at 11 o'clock at night or sit down on a cake of ice to cool off. Be prudent, and then be confident. Some of the sickest people have been the most useful. It was so with Payson, who died deaths daily. and Robert Hall, who used to stop in the midst of his sermon and lie down on the pulpit sofa to rest and then go on again. Theodore Frelinghuysen had a great horror of dying till the time came and then went peacefully. Take care of the present, and let the future look out for itself. "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

Borrowing Misfortune.

Again, the habit of borrowing misfortune is wrong because it unfits us for it when it actually does come. We cannot always have smooth sailing. Life's path will sometimes tumble among declivities and mount a steep and be thorn pierced. Judas will kiss our cheek and then sell us for 30 pieces of silver. Human scorn will try to crucify us between two thieves. We will hear the iron gate of the sepulcher creak and grind as it shuts in our kindred. But we cannot get ready for these things by forebodings. They who fight imaginary woes will come out of breath into conflict with the armed disasters of the future. Their ammunition will have been wasted long before they come under the guns of real misfortune. Boys in attemptting to jump a wall sometimes go so far back in order to get impetus that when they come up they are exhausted, and these long races in order to get spring enough to vault trouble bring us up at last to the dreadful realization with our strength gone. Finally, the habit of borrowing trouble is wrong because it is unbelief. God has promised to take care of us The Bible blooms with assurances, Your hunger will be fed: your sickness will be alleviated: your sorrows will be heated. God will sandal your feet and smooth your path, and along by frowning crag and opening grave sound the voices of victory and good cheer. The summer clouds that seem thunder charged really carry in their general, ever vanished away, leaving public opinion uncertain as to whether he had gone, literally, to Jericho, or been put down a well. No occupant of the White House ever had two nephews who disappeared from the state prison, nor did any sane citizen ever turn up who claimed to be one of these missing children. Finally, your republic never kept a captive n a black velvet mask, concerning whom it was disputed whether he was a European diplomatist, a valet, a royal duke, a distinguished actor, a member of the Bonaparte family, a high-class Irish patriot, or-the rightful President, whose place was being occupied by an impostor. The chronicles of Europe, especially of France, Scotland, and England, are rich in this kind of Rembrandtlike effects. We have plenty of chiaroscuro, especially of oscuro, and you have little, if any, of this element. Hawthorne felt the want; he had to invent his own mysteries. All your many historical novelists feel the want .- Andrew Lang, in New York Independent.

A Discussion in Genealogy.

They were at dinner at their country home at Southampton, relates the New York Times. A poor cousin was the only guest. The mother, who is an aristocrat of the aristocrats, was expatiating-for the benefit of the cousin-on the excellence of her genealogy. She told how this branch traced to Lord ----- of England; this to the kings of Scotland; that to the old prerevolution families of France, and the other to a family of Irish kings of 900 years ago. Suddenly a precocious 6year-old daughter, who took a great interest in her father's kennel of dogs. spoke up: "Mamma, why are you proud of that? If you mix up a lot of dogs, papa says they make curs; ain't people the same?" The father laughed, the cousin concealed his mirth, the mother flushed, and the genealogical discussion ended.

Lord Kelvin's Long Service.

Lord Kelvin, who is 77 years of age. has the distinction of having occupied a university chair for a longer consecutive period than any other university professor now living. In his varsity days, though the fact is forgotten, Lord Kelvin was an athlete of much more than ordinary prowess, and at Cambridge, in spite of the work which won for him the proud position of second wrangler, he found time to win the "silver sculls." A native of Belfast, Sir William Thomson, as the eminent inventor and electrician was known until 1892, when he was created a baron, held the chair of natural philosophy in Glasgow University from 1846 till 1899, and with the exception of Sir G. G. Stokes he is the oldest Fellow of the Royal Society.

When an old man gets to the point wine." Do not put yourself in the way of temptation. He who goes freely into temptation is already more than half fall "When it is red." Red wines were en. most esteemed in the East. The wine o Lebanon is said to be of a rich golden color, like Malaga. "When it giveth his Literally its eve the clean colour." brightness, or the beaded bubbles on which the wine-drinker looks with complacency.-Plumptre. "In the cup. Sparkles or bubble when poured out or shaken; "carries a bead," which is re-garded as an indication of the strength and quality of the liquor. Some wines arcelebrated for their brilliant appearance -W. Hunter, "When it moveth itself Better as in R. V. "When it aright." goeth down smootnly.

V. The End of the Road.-Vs. 32-35. "32. At the last it blteth like a serpent." Like a serpent it will be brilliant in color, and glide with easy motion; and like a serpent it will bite. Adder. The second word, adder, is the more specific, and is said to be the cerastes, or horned snake the first more generic .- Cook. The cerastes is exceedingly venomous. It lurks in the sand, coiled up, perhaps, in a camel's footprint, ready to dart at any pass ing animal. The East is wofully cursed with poisonous reptiles of all kinds. VI. What Shall We Do About It? 1. Never begin. Keep away from drinking places and drinking company. 2. Do all you can to keep others from beginning.

3. Help to restore all those who have begun the downward way.

4. Sustain yourself in the right, by observation, by study, by a temperance atmosphere, by strengthening the will and the moral character, by working for the cause, by voting aright, and throwing all your influence against saloons and drink. ing customs in society.

5. Sign the pledge, and get others to sign it.

Bridgemen are Rovers.

Spring of American bridge-builders in an article relating to structural iron-workers, Leslie's Monthly says: 'It is now here, a thousand miles away to-morrow, with these men. Their trade makes them rovers, going wherever a great job may be. At this moment they are in Philadelphia, now in a town on a Canadian river, in camp far in the thickly settled parts of the southwest, even abroad. In New York to-day, there are some men who have only recently returned from India. A gang came back from Egypt a few months ago, having performed a notable exploit in bridging the Nile, There are American iron men down in Cuba, and contracts have been signed for over a score of bridges in South Africa, all to be done by Americans, to be started when the Boer war has run its course."

Broken Electric Wires.

The borough electrician of Blackpool, England, Mr. Quinn, recently gave an exhibition of his invention for obviating all dangers from overhead electric wires. By his device when a wire breaks the current is switched off automatically and the wire rendered harmless. During the experiments three telephone wires were severed, falling upon an overhead electric wire, The automatic switch operated at once and the inventor picked up one end of the broken wire.

cured Mrs. Flanigan of such a severe case of dropsy, after the doctors had given her up, has made them the most talked of remedy ever known in White county.

Greatest Codfish Catch.

What is reputed to be the largest catch of codfish in the Pacific waters is credited to the crew of the barkentine Fremont, which arrived at San Francisco last week with 177,000 of the fish stored away. Most of the catch was in Bering sea.

PAINT RISKS

The risks in painting are three: materials, mixing, putting on. With best lead and oil you take two; with ordinary mixed paint three; with Devoe ready paint none. On each package is this label: If you have any fault to find with It you have any tant to ind with this paint at any time, either now in painting or after in the wearing, tell your dealer about it. We authorize him to do what is right about it at our expense. But do yourself and us the justice to follow instructions. F. W. DEVOE & COMPANY.

Paint-safety for you in Devoe as in no other.

Pamphlet on painting free if you mention this paper.

GOOD-PAINT DEVOE, CHICAGO.

EDUCATIONAL.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY Notre Dame, Indiana.

Conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross. Chartered 1855. Thorough English and Classical education. Regular Collegiate Degrees.

In Preparatory Department students carefully prepared for Collegiate course. Physical and Chemical Laboratories well equipped. Conservatory of Music and School of Art. Gymnasium under direction of graduate of Boston Normal School of Gymnastics. Catalogue free. The 47th year will open Sept. 5, 1901.

Address DIRECTRESS OF THE ACADEMY. St. Mary's Academy, Notre Dame, Indiana.