

HOW A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN ESCAPED SPRING CATARRH BY USE OF PE-RU-NA.

Nothing Robs One of Strength Like Spring
Catarrh-Spring Fever is Spring Catarrh.

MISS HELEN WHITMAN.

Miss Helen Whitman, 308 1/2 Grand avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:
"There is nothing like Peruna for that tired feeling, which gives you no ambition for work or play. After a prolonged illness, about a year ago I felt unable to regain my health, but four bottles of Peruna made a wonderful change and restored me to perfect health. As long as you keep your blood in good condition you are all right, and Peruna seems to fill the veins with pure, healthful blood. I thoroughly endorse it."

Have you got nerves? Well, you ought to have nerves. But they ought to be strong nerves, good nerves. Does your hand tremble? You are living too fast. Does your heart flutter at times? You had better call a halt. Americans live too fast. They crowd too much into a single day. They have too little leisure. The hospitals and insane asylums are filling up. The quiet, pastoral scenes of yore are becoming rare. It's time that we quit this sort of business.

Nervous Prostration.
Thousands of cases might be quoted in which Peruna has been used to rescue people from the perdition of deranged nerves, and put them on the good, solid foundation of health. The County Auditor of Erie County, New York, Hon. Jehu W. Neff, in a recent letter written at Buffalo, New York, stated: "I was persuaded by a friend to try a bottle of your great nerve tonic, Peruna, and the results were so gratifying that I am more than pleased to recommend it."

A Spring Tonic.
Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake, of Lynchburg, Va., who in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I always take a dose of Peruna after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."

Catarrh in Spring.
The spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This renders medicines more effective. A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will cure old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years. Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh. Address the Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Lulu Larmer, Stoughton, Wis., says:

"For two years I suffered with nervous trouble and stomach disorders until it seemed that there was nothing to me but a bundle of nerves. I was very irritable, could not sleep, rest or compose myself, and was certainly unfit to take care of a household. I took nerve tonics and pills without benefit. When I began taking Peruna I grew steadily better, my nerves grew stronger, my rest was no longer fitful, and to-day I consider myself in perfect health and strength. My recovery was slow but sure, but I persevered and was rewarded by perfect health."—Mrs. Lulu Larmer.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

FUN IN "SMALL ADS"

UNINTENTIONAL HUMOR FOUND IN NEWSPAPERS.

Some Strange and Curious Ways
Adopted to Make Wants Public—
"Choice Villain" Offered for Sale—
"Experienced Bug" Called for.

It may be that the funny man is not always original. Anyhow, he apparently devotes the best days of his life trying to make other people feel jolly—when they read his paragraphs in the newspapers. Be that as it may, no man needs to be a professional humorist in order to get an awful lot of fun sometimes out of the newspaper advertisements.

To while away the time recently the writer busied himself the greater part of an entire day delving through a pile of dailies and weeklies. The work was done through mere curiosity, pretty much as "work" is done by the backwoodsman who with his gun on his shoulder tramps out early in the morning in the brush to see what he can get a shot at. There was no thought of fun search in the reading of the papers at the start. The fun cropped up as the reading progressed. The "work" became not a labor, but a decided amusement. Now, then, for some of the best specimens discovered:

"Sinners wanted to work on metal," one advertisement began.

The same one was found in another newspaper of the same date. But there was a slight difference between the two "ads." The word "sinners" read "spinnors."

Another "ad" in another paper was just as good in its way. It was:

"Patent leather men's shoes at reduced rates."

The following one was all right. At least it told the truth:

"For Sale—A Scotch collie thoroughly trained; can tell black from white—especially at night."

Now what did the advertiser in the following think of when he left out the small ladies?

"Large ladies' neckwear house desires to secure a city salesman; state age," etc.

The following is a good one:

"Lost—Dog answering to the name of Gyp; can walk on both legs."

Listen to this:

"$25 Reward—A lady's gold watch, lost between Union Square and Twenty-third street."

Here is one that may have been written by a husband who suddenly remembered, after he had been to his "verbal" that his wife had given him verbal instruction to have an "ad" inserted in a daily paper of this city:

"Board without lunch table, must be too good; one bed."

What the advertiser meant to say, as the corrected "ad" the next day showed, was that breakfast and dinner, but no lunch, were wanted; that the table must be good, and that the two persons wanted only one bed.

Here is a weird one:

"For Sale—A choice villain, White-stone, L. I.; fishing, boating."

The fact is, the advertisement published the next day, properly, made it plain that the advertiser had a villa in Whitestone which he regarded as choice, and he so described it.

An advertisement appeared in a newspaper last summer which came out a second time, but in quite a new form. Whether the original shape was the result of the hasty work of the advertiser or the typo is a question. This is the way it came out first:

"To Let—Cottage at New Rochelle, faces the Sound, good mosquitoes."

The "ad" appeared more invitingly when republished in a reformed condition with two words that had been forgotten by the advertiser in his hurry not to miss his train for New Rochelle, or by the man behind the types. It read thus:

"To Let—Cottage at New Rochelle, faces the Sound, good bathing, no mosquitoes."

The following is a decidedly good one:

"Wanted by a commission house, an experienced bug to assort samples of woolen goods." The same advertisement in another paper asked not for a bug, but a boy.

WAS HEARING IT ALL.

Not Listening, But He Missed Little of the Conversation.

She was on the street car, and her girl friend was with her. She had a shrill, catarrhal voice, and persisted in telling her companion all the innermost secrets of her own and of her relatives and acquaintances to the remotest degree, in a tone that filled all the space not occupied by a dozen fellow passengers. She was particularly minute in the relation of the details attending the presentation of a ring by "Johnny D., whom she is to marry this spring."

This episode was finished as the car was nearing Cobb's creek. The passenger who sat in the seat immediately in front of her, and who had, in consequence of this proximity, been the chief sufferer, turned his head toward the lady who would not keep any secrets, and fixed on her a look that eloquently said:

"Well, you've broken the record!"

She encountered the look, took in the situation instantly, and retorted promptly and incisively:

"Are you listening to our conversation, sir?"

"I'm not listening to it, miss," he replied, in a distressed tone, "but, by thunder, I'm hearing it all."

Except for the occasional titter of his co-sufferers, silence thenceforth reigned supreme the remainder of that trip.—Philadelphia Ledger.

ECZEMA

Psoriasis, Scalded Head, Milk Crust, Tetter, Ringworm, etc.

Speedily, Permanently and Economically Cured, when All Else Fails, by

Cuticura

The agonizing, itching, and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair, and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurements, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum,—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humour remedies of the civilized world.

Complete External and Internal Treatment

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning, and scaly humours of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all other remedies and the best physicians fail. As evidence of the wonderful curative properties of Cuticura Remedies and of their world-wide sale, we quote from

The Hon. Mr. Justice Finemore's Letter.

"I desire to give my voluntary testimony to the beneficial effects of your Cuticura Remedies. I have suffered for some time from an excess of uric acid in the blood; and since the middle of last year, from a severe attack of Eczema, chiefly on the scalp, face, ears and neck, and on one limb. I was for several months under professional treatment, but the remedies prescribed were of no avail, and I was gradually becoming worse, my face was dreadfully disfigured, and I lost nearly all my hair. At last, my wife prevailed upon me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I gave them a thorough trial with the most satisfactory results. The disease soon began to disappear, and my hair commenced to grow again. A fresh growth of hair is covering my head, and my limb (although not yet quite cured) is gradually improving. My wife thinks so highly of your remedies that she has been purchasing them in order to make presents to other persons suffering from similar complaints, and, as President of the Bible Women's Society, has told the Bible women to report if any case should come under her notice when a poor person is so afflicted, so that your remedies may be resorted to."

ROBERT ISAAC FINEMORE,
(Judge of the Natal Supreme Court.)

Mankind's Earliest Home.
The teaching of Max Muller that the human race was cradled in Northern India has been hitherto generally accepted. Muller determined the origin of a people by their language. The view now adopted by a number of ethnologists is that shown by the work of Prof. Hirt, who thinks that he can fix the primitive home of the Aryans in the territory north of the Carpathian mountains near the boundary line between Austri-Hungary and Russia, now occupied by Letts and Lithuanians.

Children Must Go Home.
Pupils in Michigan must hereafter go directly home after the close of school. The supreme court of the state has declared that such a rule is valid and may be enforced by the principal. Furthermore, if a principal sees fit he may enter a store and order the children he finds there to leave and go home, and the owner of the store cannot get damages on the ground that the principal has driven away trade and injured the business of his store.

Relics of Paganini.
Baron Attila Paganini, the grandson of the celebrated violinist, is going to leave to the town of Genoa all the many mementoes of the great Paganini. Of these there are great numbers. They include presents from many kings and emperors and copious valuable autographs from distinguished men of Paganini's time; also all the works, both edited and unedited, of the great violinist and several very valuable violins and other instruments—among other one very ancient one on which Paganini used to practice.

A Farmer's Good Story.
Velpen, Ind., April 6th.—Wm. O'B. Sullivan, a highly respected farmer of this place, tells a personal experience to show that there is still some genuineness and honest worth to be met with in this age in which so many frauds are reported.

"Yes, I have been humbugged," said Mr. Sullivan, "and when I was so ill with the Rheumatism, Kidney and Heart Trouble, I used a good deal of stuff that claimed to be remedies for these diseases only to find them worthless.

"But, as you know, I did find the genuine remedy after all and I had not been taking Dodd's Kidney Pills very long before I knew that they were an honest remedy that would do all and more than was claimed for them. They cured me, made a well man of me and I am now as sound as I ever was. "I can testify that Dodd's Kidney Pills are a genuine remedy for Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble."

Booker Doesn't Know Music.

Pedro Tinsley, once a porte of a Northwestern parlor car, has resigned his position as vocal director of music at Tuskegee institute and will go back to railroad work. He gives as a reason that Booker Washington has "little conception of music," and he brings forward evidence: "He wanted me to make the boys and girls there sing loud. I had a class of 400 voices and when they sang plantation melodies it was something fierce the way they would roll their out. No, Mr. Washington knows nothing about music."
