New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Odendahl Bros.

Kodol represents the natural juices of digestion combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. It cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach. Sold by Odendahl Bros.

W. T. Gibson, county bridge contractor returned home from Scott township last Saturday evening where he has been doing some bridge building. Mr. Gibson reports bridges in different parts of the county in very bad condition and in several instances it is necessary to construct new bridges. Since he began work last spring he has purchased and used 100,000 feet of bridge lumber and two car loads of piling and the end is not yet. This material has cost about $2200, besides the cost of construction, etc. Many of the bridges that have been re-built were so badly rotted out that they were dangerously weak. As soon as the weather is settled he will return to Scott township and continue the work.

The new grist mill is up, finished and painted on the outside, and the workmen are very busy finishing up the inside and getting ready for the machinery. The wheel house is very substantially built and the water from the race flows through the barrel made of heavy two inch stuff and about 40 feet in length. The barrel is placed in the race at the point where the bridge stood. Around the barrel is a substantial filling of earth and brush which make a splendid crossing for teams to pass over. The building as it now stands is a square structure, with basement and three floors. The first floor being about four feet from the ground level, giving about a six or seven foot brick basement and foundation. This building looks fine in its new coat of white paint and is a structure of which our people justly feel proud.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church have arranged to hold an exchange at the post office to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon. They will have a nice collection of eatables on sale and will serve coffee and doughnuts in the afternoon.

The Modern Woodmen of Loup City have procured the services of Horace Huron, the great humorist for one entertainment. He will be at the opera house October 31st. The camp has put the price of admission down to 15 and 10 cents so that all can hear him.

Carston Truelsen has invented a machine for churning. The gearing is made something after the fashion of an egg beater only on a much larger scale and is mounted on a substantial adjustable iron frame and can be adjusted to fit almost any sized jar or crock and works to perfection with a large or small quantity of cream. It is a cleaver device and Mr. Truelsen will no doubt find a ready market for them: He is to receive a patent on the invention this month.

Some of our readers might ask. How many new houses have gone up in Loup City in the past year anyway? Well to answer this we must stop and think a little, and then we are not sure that we have them all. Anyway there is the fine residence of A. M. Bennett, and the house and barn built by Geo. Zimmerman. Dr. Norton's new residence and barn, Mr. Biemond fine new house, and two new houses in the west end of town, Jacob Albers has built a new house and barn and Fred Odendahl also has his new residence about completed. Mr. Lindall, Mr. Erizem, Mrs. Hawk, Mrs. Whorton, and others have been building substantial additions. H. Jung and T. S. Nightingale have each added to their business property. E. A. Draper, John Lofholm, and W. J. Fisher, have each built a barn. In addition to this nearly half of the residence in town have been more or less improved and the town in general puts on a pretty appearance from the liberal use of paint. And last but not least we have the new grist mill.

The Madsigal Lady Quartette of the Midland Lyceum Bureau of Des Moines, Iowa, gave a concert here last Monday evening. The concert was the first of a series of five entertainments that are to be here this winter. They are all women of splendid vocal talent and gave the audience a rare treat in both instrumental and vocal music. Although the weather was bad and disagreeable there was a good crowd out to hear them. These entertainments are given under the auspices of the M. E. church of this city, who guarantees to them $160.00 for the series and also pays $30.00 hall rent and all hotel bills, making a total of about $220. We are informed by the management that about $200.00 of the amount has already been raised and as we have the assurance that the rest of the series are of equal merit it would seem that the obligation would be easily met and a handsome profit be made for the church management. The following are the dates set for the remaining four entertainments:

James Clement Ambrose, Lecture, November 9th.

Edwin Follensber, Lecture, December 11th.

Midland Concert Company, January 16th.

James Lorenzo Zweckey, Chalk Talk Artist, February 13th.

The walk leading from the corner of the square to the NORTHWESTERN office is in a frightful condition and some of these days the owners of that particular piece of property will have a damage suit on their hands. There is a great deal of travel along this walk. In fact it is one of the main walks of the city. No less than twenty school children pass over it four times a day, and all ladies generally choose this side of the street instead of passing in front of the livery barn on the opposite side where usually noisy crowds are congregated and teams are continually driving out and in the barn and over the walk. Last Tuesday night Mr. Redcleft, in the darkness, went with almost breakneck force into the mud hole at the end of the alley crossing and only a few nights before that ye editor took a fall that we will not get over for several days. We have noticed many other mishaps of more or less dangerous character. It is the duty of the village board to enforce the building of a sidewalk along this property, and one too, that will meet the requirements of the ordinance. We invite the attention of the chairman and all members of the board to inspect the delapidated condition of this walk and the big whole at the end of the alley crossing which has been broken down and dug out by heavily loaded dray wagons. As a passer by put it the other day "it is next thing to a leap for life to jump it." Then how can a lady or a small school girl manage to get over without getting in the mud. They simply cannot do it. In fact grown people even men, cannot get over without jumping. And in jumping is where the danger lies. Most people would prefer wading to running the risk of lighting on a slippery plank. There is hardly a day but what some one from the country, who happens to drop our way speaks of the deplorable condition of this walk and wonder who the property belongs to.

As I have sold my business place here in Loup City I will be out of business for a short time and I wish to thank my many friends and customers who have patronized me in the past and hope they will not forget me in a business way in the future. I have not gone away to stay, but have only gone to Omaha to finish my barber trade.

Yours Respectfully,
G. H. MORGAN.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Georgia, Vt. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give the liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by Odendahl Bros.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Surgeon Drinker

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

ARE YOU FOOLISH?

Boy,— Say, Pa, what do they mean by saying "Penny wise and pound foolish"?

Father,— Why, it's where a man loses a dollar to save a nickle.

Boy,— Well, Pa, were you that way when you let your hogs die because you did not want to pay out money for Liquid Koal that John Solms sells so much of.

Father,— Johnnie, don't talk so much.

National Medicine Co. Coleridge Neb., Dec. 13, 1902.

Sirs:—I can say that I am more than pleased with Liquid Koal. A year ago last October my hogs took sick and I tried every thing I could think of but no good came of it. So your agent Kirkpatrick came along and I took a can of Liquid Koal. I had about 90 hogs all sick, I shut them up in a small pen and made every hog take his medicine and I saved one half of my hogs. If I had not used Liquid Koal I am sure I would not have saved a hog. I think a man stands in his own light that does not keep Liquid Koal on hand. Use this as you see fit.

Yours

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. Roderick, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Odendahl Bros.
