

HUGH JENNINGS TO RECEIVE TOP SALARY

Manager Jennings of Detroit.

Hugh Jennings has signed a contract to continue his service as manager of the Detroit American League baseball team for the next two years. His salary is said to be the highest paid any manager in the American league.

WILLIS PITCHES FINE GAME MODERN GAME AS A SCIENCE

Did-Time National League Star Lets Port Deposit Team Down Without One Safe Hit.

Vic Willis, for 12 years one of the star pitchers in the National league, showed his old-time form when, pitching for the Tri-County league, he let Port Deposit down without a hit and then lost the game, 1 to 4. Two errors gave Port Deposit the winning run in the sixth inning.

Schute's Awakening. Frank Schute of the Cubs has recovered his batting eye. Schute was the batting sensation of last year, when he made 21 home runs. Now Henle Zimmerman is the candy kid with the stick Schute will undoubtedly be heard from this time forward.

Chance to Undergo Operation. Frank Chance will be operated on at the end of the present season. The doctors believe they can relieve his excessive nervousness with an operation, and Chance has consented to the attempt.

Barry McCormick Released. Barry McCormick, former third baseman of the Chicago Nationals and more recently a star of the American association, has been released as manager of the Ohio State league team at Mansfield.

Term of Spit-Ballers. Clark Griffith says spitball pitchers are no good after the middle of July. He alleges that most spitballers are hit on the top and that after the ground bakes these balls bound over the heads of the infielders.

MORGAN IS A CLOUTER

Washington's Second Baseman Taught How to Hit.

Manager Griffith Takes Danville Boy in Hand and Teaches Him to Bat—Shows Great Improvement in His Stick Work.

The improvement of Ray Morgan as a batter is one of the greatest things connected with the performances of the Nationals of 1912.

Last year the little lad from Danville, Va., was a light sticker. Jimmy McAleer despised his ever shining in the big league on that account. But Jimmy didn't know how to teach the boy better form at the bat. It remained for Clark Griffith to do that.

At Charlottesville Morgan was given long and careful instruction on how to stand, how to swing, how to get away from the plate and the kind of a bat he should use. It was all new to the lad. Never before had any one tried to teach him. He had always hit in his own natural style, good enough in its way, too, but not good enough for the big show.

When the season started Morgan was only learning how to use all his weight against the ball, how to pick out the good ones and how to get away from the plate. He was learning rapidly, however, and when the opportunity came for him to take his place in the regular line-up day after day, he was ready.

Morgan should be one of the team's leading hitters if he continues his present work with the willow. Thoroughly impregnated with the doctrine being taught by Griffith, he believes he can hit any pitching served up to him. Furthermore, he is doing it and has been doing it all along.

The Baltimore boy is using the proper size of stick now. He swings with all his strength and weight and is one of the longest hitters on the team. His great speed enables him to get the most out of his long drives to the garden, and as a sliding runner only Moeller and Milan begin to compare with him.

"Morgan is a natural hitter, that's all," smiles Griffith, when talking of his young second baseman. "He is using all his ability now and should be a success all along. As soon as he learns the fine points about playing the bag, he will be one of the best second basemen in the game, mark me, one of the best in the game."

TO RETAIN MANAGER DAHLEN

President Ebbets of Brooklyn Sets at Rest Rumors Concerning Leader of His Team.

To set at rest various rumors involving the management of the Brooklyn next year President Ebbets made this positive statement:

"Dahlen will not be supplanted. He has done excellent work with the material in hand. In three years he has ripped out the deadwood, the drinkers and the trouble makers and has built up an entirely new organization. He knows every angle of the game and the Brooklyn are bound to improve.

"It would be an injustice to remove Dahlen from the management just at a time when it seems certain that he will get good results. Dahlen is not to blame for the accidents and illness that have crippled us from time to time. He has been patient and pains-taking and I intend to place increased confidence in his ability."

Senators Are Harmonious. The Senators, like the Red Sox, are a harmonious bunch. They are pulling together in great shape, and experts ascribe their success to this condition of affairs. No evidence of jealousy has cropped out yet.

Butler Is Hard Hitter. Art Butler, whom the Boston Nationals turned over to St. Paul last season for Harry Steinfeldt, is one of the leading hitters in the American association. He also is playing a brilliant fielding game.

Ode To Labor LAWS NEED REVISION

By WILBUR D. NESEIT

*Majestic force that shapes the world,
Battered by the smoke-wreaths curled
Against the sky—
(Confound the luck!
That rearing, rattling motor truck
Makes so much noise I cannot think!
'Twould drive a stronger man to drink!
There, it has passed.)
—Against the sky
Like to a flag that floats on high
And leads a vast, unconquered host
To meet—
(Oh! I'll give up the ghost!
Who's making all that racket? Hey?
Some carpenters at work, you say.
Well, how can anybody write?
It sounds like bursting dynamite.)*

*Majestic force whose silent strength
Makes new the desert place at length,
And builds our walls—
(Great guns! That sound!
Why do those hammer-makers pound?
It jars the ink right off my pen.
And how that foreman yells and bawls!
Well, here we go:—
—And builds our walls
And leads our highways fair and straight
From city gate to city gate.
It turns our dreamings into deeds;
The future's great demands it beeds
And by its might—
(What? Bless my soul!
They're dumping in the winter's coal.)*

*Majestic force at our command—
Force of the strong and brassy hand,
Of sinews tense and stout as steel,
Of shoulders wide—
(My senses reel
At this last wild and raucous blur
Of sound, a wild steam riveter!
There, it's shut off.)
—Of shoulders wide,
Of faith that labors eager-eyed,
Of sweating brow—
(Ker-smash! Bing! Bang!
Deadest that loud track-laying gang!
Let's wind this up.)
—Of sweating brow—
Majestic force, that will not bow.
(What's that? Oh, why can't you keep still?
What? Can't I pay that lumber's bill?)*

WILL STUDY LABOR PROBLEM. A comprehensive investigation of the relations of capital and labor will be undertaken by the federal government. The investigation is to be conducted by a commission of nine persons to be appointed by the president, and with the advice and consent of the senate.

The commission is specifically ordered to investigate: The general condition of labor in the principal industries, including agriculture, and especially in those carried on in corporate forms.

The existing relations between employers and employees. The effect of the industrial conditions on public welfare and the rights and powers of the community to deal therewith.

The conditions of sanitation and safety of employees and the provisions for protecting their lives, limbs and health.

The growth of associations of employers and wage earners and the effect of such associations upon the relations between employers and employees.

The methods tried in any state or foreign countries for maintaining mutually satisfactory relations between employers and employees.

The methods for avoiding or adjusting labor disputes through peaceful and conciliatory mediation and negotiations.

The question of smuggling or other illegal entry of Asiatics into the United States or its insular possessions.

The underlying causes of dissatisfaction in the industrial situation.

BLUEJAY LIVES IN WOODS STERN NECESSITY.

Hawks, Owls and Other Birds Are Teased and Tormented by These Noisy Birds.

The bluejay likes best to live in thick woods, but it often comes into open fields, orchards and near dwellings in search of food. When it discovers you it assumes a proud and angry air of conceit and defiance.

The bluejay's upper parts are purplish-blue. The lower parts are purplish-gray. The wings and tail are bright blue with black bars. The tail feathers are tipped with white. It has a crested head.

The bluejay builds its nest about twenty feet above ground. It is made of twigs and fine roots. From four to six eggs are laid. They are of a greenish drab color flecked with brown.

Doubtless the bluejay helped to name itself, as its common utterance is a long drawn, "jay, jay, jay." This cry, with the bright blue color, has given it its name.

While the jay sings no song it is able to imitate the calls of other birds, by which means it often attracts them. It likes to tease and torment the owl and especially the little sparrow hawk. This is done by imitating the cry of a wounded bird, which draws the hawk near. Then several jays will dart at the hawk squealing and frolicking about in great glee. Sometimes the play ends in a tragedy, for the hawk pounces upon one of them, to the dismay of the others. Jays may be tamed and tamed like crows and some writers say they can be taught to utter words.

"He—Isn't your bathing suit rather loud?"

"She—It has to be loud. I'm trying to mash a deaf old millionaire."

"I don't like this chicken-raising for a man to go into."
"Why not?"
"It's such a hen-pecking kind of business."

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age. How It May Be Passed in Safety.

Odd, Va.:—"I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years, and I believe I can safely say now that I am a well woman. I was reared on a farm and had all kinds of heavy work to do which caused the troubles that came on me later. For five years during the Change of Life I was not able to lift a rail of water. I had hemorrhages which would last for weeks and I was not able to sit up in bed. I suffered a great deal with my back and was so nervous I could scarcely sleep at night, and I did not do any housework for three years.

"Now I can do as much work as any woman of my age in the county, thanks to the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARTHA L. HOLLOWAY, Odd, Va.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unequalled endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.
