AK-SAR-BEN 1912 FESTIVITIES TO SURPASS ALL PREVIOUS EVENTS

Omaha Prepares Ten Days of Entertainment Activity for Throngs
During Fall Festival Sept. 25 to Oct. 5.

FRONTIER DAY SHOW IS SPECIAL ATTRACTION

THAT his thousands of loyal subjects, who inhabit every part of the great commonwealth of Nebraska, may enjoy to the fullest extent the mysteries of the realm of Ak-Sar-Ben, King Samson, ruler of the kingdom, has planned and arranged for a series of fall festivities which will surpass even the most gorgeous of any of the eighteen years of his successful reign. These festivities will be held in

THE SULTAN AND ATTENDANTS.

Omaha, metropolis of the great state and the seat of kingdom, beginning on Sept. 25 and ending on Oct. 5, providing ten full days of activity, featured by their uniqueness, and which will furnish entertainment for his faithful followers, who will gather from all parts of Nebraska, whence Ak-Sar-Ben gets its now famous name. Nebraska reversed spells Ak-Sar-Ben. Seek as far as you will and that is the only thing you will find backward in connection with this great organization, conceived and carried out by the business men of Omaha for the purpose of putting the great state of Nebraska to the front that it may take its rightful place among the commonwealths of the Union.

In the comparatively short though phenomenal career of Ak-Sar-Ben and its directors, many features, known for their originality, have been offered, but none that will compare with the reign of King Samson, the Eighteenth, whose year has been capped by the largest membership in the history of the organization.

Attendance Has Been General.

In the six months of preliminary planning practically every city in the state has been represented at its institutions. The governor of the state, the chancellor of the university, the State Editorial association, and the citizenship in general have honored Ak-Sar-Ben with their presence, contributing in every detail to its popularity and making its success possible in the only way practical—by the hearty cooperation which Ak-Sar-Ben must have to be a state institution.

The object of Ak-Sar-Ben is known to every citizen of the state—to boost first, last and all the time for Nebraska and to spread the glories of Nebraska to the four winds of the heavens—to make the people of the United States realize that here is the paradise of the world—that he who strives to succeed can find no better place than in Nebraska.

So successful has Ak-Sar-Ben been in its endeavors that this child of Omaha, born in the turbulent times of the middle nineties, has been adopted by the state and through the unselfish support of the good citizenship of Nebraska has risen to a position of prominence among the fall festivities of the country. Go where you will—to New Orleans, to Denver, to Kansas City or to St. Louis for their fall festivities, and never will you find the unselfish support nor the successful endeavors as the Chase in the Morning and Henricks-Kenny will vie with the cowboys and cowgirls for popular favor, playing all the wilyness that characterizes the early life of the now almost extinct people. Wild horses of the plains, who acknowledge no master, will succumb to the master horsemanship of the daring boys from the west for the first time. In the evening the Indians will offer thorough Indian show at the carnival grounds while in the morning a spectacular parade will wind its way through Omaha's streets. As special features, three parades have been scheduled, one a departure in Ak-Sar-Ben festivities. An automobile floral parade, in which more than a hundred beautiful decorated automobiles will be in line, will traverse the streets of Omaha on Tuesday, Oct. 2. Though Omaha automobiles will probably be in the majority, many machines have been entered from Nebraska cities, which will heighten the interest in the parade, as cash prizes are to be given for the best decorated machine.

Electrical Parade a Hummer.

The electrical parade, the outdoor feature, to which all endeavor is directed, will be held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 2. Twenty gorgeous floats, headed by the board of governors on horseback, the floats pulled by four beautiful specimens of horseflesh and requiring one hundred men, will embody the highest ideas in float construction. The theme of the floats this year is "Gems and Flowers."

On Thursday afternoon, Oct. 3, the dedication parade will be held. This day the new $1,000,000 Woodmen of the World building will be dedicated. Eight thousand members of the organization will parade the streets, headed by the military of Fort Omaha and the High School cadets.

The festivities will wind up Friday night with the annual Coronation ball, when the queen will be crowned, and a selection from the fairest of Omaha's beautiful women. After this important function, Nebraska's flower womanhood and manhood will trip a light fantastic until the wee small hours, in the beautifully decorated ballroom, and to the strains of sweet music, which will float over the mammoth ballroom from a hundred piece orchestra, concealed in a box of roses. With the last strains of Ak-Sar-Ben of 1912 will pass into history, only to give way to a more spectacular reign in 1913 if possible.

The selection of the king and queen will demonstrate in no uncertain way the absolute democracy of the organization. Class distinction finds no place in the Ak-Sar-Ben realm. Leaders are chosen from all strata in life, ability being recognized wherever as it is in this modern land of Quivera.

Distinctly a western institution fostered by western spirit and developed by western progressiveness, Ak-Sar-Ben rests proudly on her achievements of eighteen years.

Samson Invites Subjects to Attend Festivities.

Land of Ak-Sar-Ben—L. King Samson, the Eighteenth, hereby commands everyone of my loyal subjects to appear in Omaha between Sept. 25 and Oct. 5, if it is possible, and participate in the annual festivities of Ak-Sar-Ben. Further, I desire that the people of Nebraska heed this command that our people of Omaha may have the privilege of being with you better and the honor of entertaining you to the best of ability.

Given under my hand and seal this the tenth day of September during the reign of King Samson the Eighteenth.

Along R. R. No. 2

C. J. Norstedt was doing some road work along his south line last week.
