THE RAINFALL
THE SOIL
THE CROPS

Strangers coming into this or any other county look principally for these three things for upon these depend success or failure

Golden Prairie District Near Cheyenne, Wyoming
 We Have All Three in Abundance

The Rainfall Lying next to the mountains this district gets plenty of moisture to grow and mature a crop. Those of you who have seen our exhibit, have seen the proof that we have the rainfall. This year's crop was grown with less than the average rainfall. Here are the actual records of the weather bureau at Cheyenne, Wyo., of the growing months

Average	1912
April 1.78	1.62
May 2.40	1.37
June 1.55	1.17
July 2.03	1.82
August 1.44	1.44

You can see that only one month of the growing season this year has had the average rainfall. Western Nebraska has had an abundance of rainfall but this valley has not had even the average amount.

The Soil The top soil is a rich, dark clay loam from 1-2 to 4 feet deep. Subsoil is about 2 feet of clay in early times a glacier came down off the mountains and ground the granite rock of the mountains into soil scattering it all over the valley. The pine bluffs which lie along the Wyoming-Nebraska line were formed by earth that was shoveled aside by the eastern edge of the glacier. This granite soil is the richest, strongest soil obtainable and is from 1-2 to 4 feet deep all over this valley. There is no alkali, no gumbo, only rich friable, fertile soil

The Crops Given the rainfall and the soil and you will get the crops. A visit to the Golden Prairie will convince you that we have the crops. Since this district was opened up in 1906 we have had four excellent crops, one average crop and one poor crop. Can this county show a better record for the past six years.

Come Out and See—If you are looking for land you cannot afford to miss our excursions. Less than $25. will pay ALL expenses for the trip of four days. THE KNOCKERS ARE BUSY AS USUAL. Do not let what they say influence you for or against. Your father was called all kinds of a fool by his old neighbors for settling in this county in early days and if he had listened to them he would have been renting still
