Sneak Thief Steals Purse From Pratt

On New Year's day, some sneak thief stole a purse from S. A. Pratt at the pool room containing some $7.50 in money. Mr. Pratt inadvertently left the pocketbook on the counter while he went to the back part of the hall and when he returned it was gone. There was a large crowd in the hall at the time and the thief took advantage of the fact to snatch the purse. He has a pretty good idea who did it, but lacks evidence necessary to fasten the guilt on the party.

Judge Hunter Loves Florida

Our old friend, Judge Hunter, in sending in dough for another year of Northwestern visits, writes thus entertainingly of his new home at Zephyrhills, Florida: "I wish you a Happy New Year, and hope you will brace up under the democratic administration. Everything is democratic down here. Chet Tracy and wife are enjoying themselves in our sunny climate, eating grape fruit and oranges. They visit Tampa on the Gulf tomorrow. I enclose $1.50 on subscription. Do not stop the paper unless I tell you to. Regards to all our friends," etc.

Warren Miller Wins Over Burwell Man

Warren Miller, our local wrestler, went up to Burwell last Friday and in a mat game with Wilson, a local wrestler of that town, won in two straight falls, the first taking 19 minutes and 50 seconds, and the second fall in 6 minutes. This evening Miller goes against Mogenson, a Bancroft product, at the new opera house, and our people may confidently expect a lively tussle, as the Bancroft man is said to be one of the best locals in the state.

The purse, minus the money was found on the street later.

Ducks by Parcels Post Don't Go Says Grow

Lee Brothers thought to play a practical joke on Postmaster Grow at the beginning of the parcels post regime, New Year's Day. Hitching a halter strap to a big fat duck and labeling the same with a card designating the party to whom sent, the boys carried Mr. Waddler to a mail route wagon and dumped her in. Carrier Williams being onto the game led the thing into the sacred precincts of Uncle Sam and tied it to a table leg while our busy Nasby was sorting mail. Dar spotting the parcels post contribution from a distance, proclaimed that under the new law it could not go. "Eat it, then, and send the price to the consignee," responded the carrier; "it has no name of consignee." After looking at the feathered product and voicing the inner man demands, the jolly postmaster could see no other way, unless he presented it to the ubiquitous carrier law expounder, and as nothing in the law gave him the right to sell, give away or throw out live mail matter, he concluded to hold fast to what he had and await the action of the department on the course to pursue. However, upon nearer exam. he was able to settle the question to his entire satisfaction and says it made fine eating, and will settle more vexed questions coming his way in the duck, goose, chicken or any other feathered line.

Had to Take Off Stolen Underwear

Last Friday a party came down from Arcadia and entered a complaint against a fellow who had been hanging around town with having stolen a suit of underwear from him at our suburban village to the north a short time previous. Our officers being "from Missouri" had to be shown, hence the fellow was taken over to County Attorney Starr's and made to disrobe and the stolen suit was found on him. It was peeled off, given to the owner, and $1.00 found on the fellow was taken to indemnify the "shown" and the fellow was turned loose with his few remaining "summer" togs on. He was threatened with a sentence in the county bastille, but as he signified that would be a pleasant passtime during the remaining wintry days and ease him through the cold weather, he was turned loose instead.

HYMENEAL

Fleming-Pageler

Last week, Col. J. G. Pageler, accompanied by his brother, Will Pageler, and wife, and Miss Grace Adams of this city, went to Cedar Bluffs, Nebr., to be present at the nuptials of his sister, Miss Wiebke Pageler, and Mr. Robert Fleming which occurred New Year's Eve. The bride is well known to many of our people, having visited her brothers here in the past. Following is an account of the interesting affair taken from the Standard published in that village:

Impressive and beautiful in its simplicity was the quiet, home wedding of Miss Wiebke Pageler and Mr. Robert Fleming at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday Dec. 31. The ceremony being performed by Rev. August Lambrecht, of Blair, Nebr. Only the immediate families and a few friends of the bride and groom were present. Just before ceremony Miss Malinda Pageler sang, "O Promise me," Mendelssohn's wedding march was then played by Miss Catherine Pageler. The bride and groom then entered and took their places in the corner of the parlor which was decorated in ferns and smilax. The minister used a very beautiful and impressive service uniting the happy couple who stood unattended. The bride was beautifully gowned in white Marquise over Messaline trimmed in bonding, with clusters of rhinestones. Her only ornament was a diamond and pearl La Valiere, the gift of the groom. She carried a lovely bouquet of bridal roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

After the ceremony and congratulations, a delightful three course dinner was served. The center piece being a pan of white Hyacinth surrounded by ferns and smilax. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left on the three o'clock train for a short honeymoon. Mrs. Fleming wearing a going-away suit of brown. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pageler, and Mr. Fleming is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fleming. Both have been raised in this community and are held in high esteem.

Many beautiful and useful presents were given by those present and absent. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Fleming will occupy their new home which was built by the groom's father, and their many friends will wish them a happy and prosperous life.—Cedar Bluffs Standard.

Morby-Leeper

Cards have been issued from this office announcing the marriage of Miss Grace Caroline Leeper, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Leeper of the First Methodist church of this city to Mr. Frederick Morby, on January 1, 1913, at Sidney, Nebr., the Rev. E. J. Hays of the M. E. church of that city, officiating. The newly married couple will be at home to all their friends after January 15th at Pine Bluffs, Wyo. While the bride is a daughter of our popular Methodist pastor, she has not made this her home, having been proving up on her homestead near Pine Bluffs, Wyo., on which the couple will reside. The groom is said to be a young man of exceptionally good qualities. The Northwestern wishes for the young people a long, happy and prosperous wedded life.

Jameson-Emerick

A marriage license was issued by County Judge Smith on New Year's Day, the couple being Chas. Jameson and Mrs. Sidney Emerick, both of Arcadia, and were also united in wedlock by our urbane judge. We understand the bride is a cousin of Alex and L. K. Baillie of this county.

Monday was the day for answer by the defense in the county attorneyship contest, Fisher vs Pedler, and on that day the defense through its attorney, W. A. Prince of Grand Island, filed answer denying the jurisdiction of the county court on the first two counts and on the third count claimed it was indefinite and inspecific. The county judge has fixed Friday of this week (tomorrow) to hear and take action on the aforesaid objections.
