Warren Miller Bests Kinney

Warren Miller, our local champion wrestler, went to Scotia last Thursday evening and won over Greeley's great mat artist in two straight falls, the first taking 50 minutes, in which Kinney escaped for that length of time every hold and grip Miller could get, our boy finally plugging the pride of the Irish to the mat with a hammerlock and croch hold. However, Miller won the second fall in only 50 seconds with a chancery arm hold, Kinney being about all in, while Warren seemed as fresh as though he had been simply practicing a few minutes for exercise. Now, if Lee Scott of Ansley is afraid to try conclusions with Joe Stecker of Dodge, who some time ago took the measure of our local boy, as appears to be the case, we are of the opinion that if he can be secured for a go with Miller, the latter will do to him what Stecker did to Miller. Of course local fans would rather see a tussel between Scott and Stecker first, with Miller challenging the winner, but if that can't be, let Scott be secured for a sacrifice to Warren's skill and superior ability.

Burlington May Extend

J. J. Cox and Mr. Kerns, the former a commercial traveling freight agent and the latter connected with the same department of the Burlington system, spent several days in this vicinity, gathering data and other material for the proposed extension of the railroad from here, it was rumored. The gathering of freight statistics is a customary procedure before an extension is authorized, and the visit of these gentlemen has some indication that the attention of the officers of the road has been drawn and they acted with favor in ordering the statistics prepared for their enlightenment. Mr. Lundy, who came up with these gentlemen, acted as their guide in showing them where the information they sought could be obtained for their reports. Both Mr. Cox and Mr. Kerns departed for Lincoln this morning. What their report will be could not be learned.

Henry Ohlsen & Son Gets Contract

Contractor Henry Ohlsen made a business trip to Greeley Monday, where they have in contemplation a new court house. LATER Word was received from Mr. Ohlsen that he had received the contract, under the name of Henry Ohlsen & Son. Good enough, and our people will all say, Amen.

Loup City Banquet

Friday evening the Loup City Commercial Club held the regular annual banquet, to which the St. Paul Businessmen's Club was invited. For some reason or other none of the club members from here attended and they missed a great treat. There were 165 people in attendance and the banquet served by the ladies of the town would have done credit to any place twice the size of Loup City. Fourteen addresses were made after the feasting, most of them bubbling over with the booster spirit. Some of the talks were made in the Bohemian, Swedish and German languages. Secretary Connors of Grand Island, was among the speakers and in his address referred to three classes of work a commercial club could do—local, state and municipal. He urged harmony and the burial of personal prejudices and opinions as necessary to a successful operation of a club. The Loup City Club is showing that it is a live one, out for the best interests of Loup City and the Republican regrets very much that the St. Paul club did not send a delegation from here to represent our city at their banquet.—St. Paul Republican.

High School Notes

On account of the cold weather a few of the pupils are absent from school. The teacher taking charge of the room which was formerly taught by Miss Hazel DeCamp is Miss O'Mead. Having completed orthography in Normal Reviews the classes are now beginning a four weeks' course in mental arithmetic. Coral Daddow, a member of the Senior Class is missing school on account of sickness. The Seniors are again at practice for their class play which they are expecting to give to the public in the near future. The new song books which were presented to the High School by the school board, arrived the latter part of last week. They are very nice and are appreciated by all.

Frank Wheatcraft Falls 30 Feet To Death

Tuesday forenoon an appalling accident occurred on the old Wheatcraft place on Davis Creek which cost the life of the owner. There was trouble with the windmill and the local blacksmith was called to put things to right. This mechanic got things along as far as he could without help and Frank Wheatcraft went up to lend a hand. Mr. Wheatcraft was kicked in the head a year ago and had not fully recovered from the ill effects of the kick, and it was with misgivings that he went up the tower.

The work was just about done and Frank had remarked that he ought not to be up there, when he evidently became dizzy. At any rate he fell to the ground, a distance of some 30 feet, and received injuries from which he could not rally.

Help was rendered to him and physicians called. Dr. Miller went from Ord, Dr. O'Neill from North Loup and there was a surgeon from Grand Island. But the condition of the man was such that no operation could be attempted. By the fall a kidney was ruptured and he bled to death internally. Very soon after the accident a swelling began to rise on his right side, which continued to grow as the terrible hours passed. The man was in great agony and conscious to the last.

As no operation could be had that could save him the other doctors left but Dr. Miller remained with him till the end, which came at about 3:00 o'clock yesterday morning.

The deceased was 41 years old on the 4th of last December. He was a single man, and a prosperous and well esteemed citizen.

The funeral will be held from the U. B. church in the neighborhood at 2:00 p. m. Saturday afternoon.—Ord Quiz, Jan. 30.

30th Wedding Anniversary

A surprise was given at Schultz & Stickles hall last week Wednesday evening to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jack in honor of their 30th wedding anniversary, with a fine supper. Some 200 guests were present and the couple were presented with a dozen silver knives and forks by their friends present. The guests engaged in a social dance till near midnight, when the supper was served and then the merry revelers kept up the light fantastic till about 2:30 a. m., when all departed for their homes with remembrance of one of the most joyous occasions of the season.

Allen-DeCamp

On Tuesday morning of this week, (Feb. 4th, 1913) at the early hour of 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Flora A. DeCamp, in St. Paul, Nebr., occurred the nuptials of our popular dentist, Dr. S. A. Allen, and Miss Hazel Beulah DeCamp, one of the estimable teachers of our public schools the past few months. Rev. Dr. D. A. Leeper of this city officiating. The groom is one of the leading dentists of the state, having been president of the dental association of this district, and as present editor of the state dental society paper, and stands very high in the councils of his profession throughout the state. He is not only a dentist of state repute, but is a leader among our business men and socially among the first in the younger set. The bride, while a comparative stranger to our people, has won many friends during her few months stay with us and has proved one of our best teachers. They left shortly after the ceremony and wedding breakfast for an absence of a week or ten days at Omaha and various points in Iowa, after which they will return to Loup City and occupy the new bungalow erected by John Ohlsen south of the U. P. depot. The best wishes of their many friends will follow them in their new-found happiness. They will be at home to their friends after Feb. 20th.

Unintroduced Bills.

The constitutional twenty days for the introduction of bills in the legislature has dwindled close to the disappearing point. Many crying needs remain unprovided for. Before it is everlastingly too late permit us to specify a few bills that might logically be introduced.

A bill for a bounty of ten cents a dozen on weeds out from farmers' cornfields.

A bill for the relief of farmers' wives whose chickens die for want of fresh water.

A bill for free municipal steam drying plants for the use of people who do not go in when it rains.

A bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the encouragement of breathing in Nebraska.

A constitutional amendment requiring the forcible feeding, through the nose if necessary, of persons unwilling to eat of their own accord.

A joint resolution for a joint legislative committee to study the problem of inducing people to buy goods at low prices when they could pay more.

The ancient doctrine that every man must do his own swimming has apparently been outgrown. We have bills to pay people for poisoning the gophers in their own alfalfa fields. Why discriminate against the weeds in the cornfield? We have bills providing for state and national assistance in fixing up a road to town for us. Why should the government not breathe for us, predigest our food, and supply us with common sense in general.

Why, in fact, should we do anything for ourselves. Why not esconce ourselves on flowery beds of ease and let the government fan the flies away? The only obstacle is the fact that behind all this charity must stand a taxpayer, which is ourselves. This we strangely forget when the pie is passing around. State Treasurer George's assertion that Nebraska taxes have quintupled in ten years ought to remind us—and the legislature.—State Journal.
