S. F. Reynolds, our popular butcher, on Monday purchased one of the handsomest lot of young beavers from Tenus Blomond that has been put on the market this season. A visit to his feed yards yesterday showed some fifteen of the young cattle ready for the slaughter pen as we have seen the past year. Bro. Reynolds thinks nothing is too good for his customers, hence is continually buying the very best of everything of the meat kind that can be secured for home consumption.

Allie Baillie of Washington town, ship left Tuesday morning for an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Baillie at Clackamas, Oregon, in the suburbs of Portland. Tony Gzheviak's sale last week Wednesday was said to be very successful, good and satisfactory prices being the rule. Last Thursday and Friday, Tony was involving the hardware stock purchased of Schultz & Stickle's and Saturday morning opened for business. He has secured Mr. John Cenava of Rockville, a competent hardware man, as his chief clerk. Mr. Gzheviak has rented and moved into the Daddow property west of the Presbyterian church and becomes a citizen of the best town in the state.

A post card from Judge Hostetler at the Panama Canal, under date of Jan. 27, says: "Dear Burleigh—Have seen the canal. It is a grand, imposing sight. The greatest work of the world has been accomplished by our country. Honor for the stars and stripes." We'll venture a pretty penny that the judge is having the time of his life down on the canal.

Surprised Party Really Surprised

About fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Gzheviak surprised that worthy couple, Tuesday evening, by invading the home in the early evening hours, they not even having a hint of the invasion. Mr. Gzheviak had closed his hardware store about 8 o'clock and had but reached home, while Mrs. Gzheviak was gathering together the washing she was to do the next day, when there was an alarm at the outer door, and before the sentinel could demand who's there, there was a rush from the outside of the large number of well-comers of the couple to our city, and Tony simply held up his hands and said "Take it all; I surrender." The evening of social hours was most enjoyably passed and it was long after the midnight hour when the assembled company left for their homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gzheviak a happy and successful life in our midst.

Arrange for Farmers' Institute

The joint committee of the farmers and Loup City Commercial Club met yesterday afternoon to make preliminary arrangements for the success of the Farmers' Institute to be held in Loup City at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. on February 28th, 1913, and after thorough discussion it was decided that the committee of the Commercial Club arrange for entertainment in connection with the institute and to make some provision for premiums for displays of grains of different kinds, and such other things as would tend to make the institute a genuine success, and the president of the institute arrange to take care of all grains and displays, and that the committee reconvene to make further arrangements on Tuesday, Feb. 11th at 2 p. m. at the office of J. S. Pedler. Joint Committee.
