

MORE ATLANTIC LINERS REQUIRED

CONGESTION ON EXISTING STEAMSHIPS ON ACCOUNT OF CANADIAN IMMIGRATION.

It is reported that eight new Trans-Atlantic liners are under construction for the exclusive use of the Canadian Trade. These are being built by the White Star, Canadian Pacific and Cunard Companies.

The liners to be built for the White Star are to be of the same type as the Laurentic and Majestic, and will replace the Canada and Teutonic. The Cunard Line's new steamer, Ascania, has already completed successfully her maiden voyage from England to Montreal, and her sister ship will be launched early next year.

It is predicted that the Canadian Northern will not be slow in following the example of the other big concerns, as it is a matter of common belief that Canada, more than any other in the world, will be the country of the future, and the best field for investment by shipping interests.

An official of one of the companies already building steamers for this trade told the American yesterday that the ideal steamer for this service is the two-cabin boat, having accommodation for second-class and steerage passengers only.

"We do not expect that the $5,000 cabin de luxe class will travel between Canada and England very extensively," he said, "but the business that is to be obtained there will be immensely lucrative, and for the next ten years the eyes of the shipping world will be riveted on Canada. The Panama Canal, undoubtedly will receive a lot of attention, but the business in that route will be nothing compared with the Canadian trade for the immediate future. Panama will develop and become bigger in the years to come, but at the present we are most concerned with the tremendous tide of immigration that is being diverted from the United States to the Dominion.

"The farm land of the vast North West is the attraction, and while this flood of immigration is at its height the Canadian Government exercises a strict censorship over the class of immigrants admitted. In this way they are drawing their future citizens from the Northern countries and have shown an unwelcome face to the people of Southern Europe."—Advertisement.

Simplicity and Smartness in Two Up-to-Date Garments

Velveteen Dress. Walking Costume.

VELVETEEN DRESS.—Very simple yet at the same time smart is the dress we show here; it is in tobacco brown velveteen. The skirt is plain; the bodice is Magyar, with cross-over fronts and plain basque; it fastens in front; the vest of tucked net being fixed at left side by press studs; a lace collar finishes the bodice, the elbow sleeves being edged with a band of fur. Hat of velvet to match the dress; it is trimmed with pale blue ostrich feathers. A large stole of black fox completes the costume.

Materials required for the dress: Seven yards velveteen twenty-four inches wide, one-half yard tacked net, five-eighths yard fur.

Walking Costume.—This costume is in champagne-colored Venetian cloth. The skirt has a wrapped seam down the center of front, with the lower edges cut sharply off, leaving a "V" shaped opening, which is filled in with material on which are sewn rows and rows of black satin ribbon; this also trims the coat on the revers and at the wrists. For the collar, black satin is used. Hat of black-satin, trimmed with a champagne-colored feather ruche.

Materials required: Four and one-half yards cloth forty-eight inches wide, about eight yards ribbon, one-quarter yard satin twenty inches wide, five yards silk or satin for lining coat.

WHITE EVENING GOWN

Evening gown of ivory brocade with draped skirt. The corsage is draped with black chiffon.

Don'ts for the Nursery. Don't shut up the children in the night nursery at bedtime with never a door or window open.

Don't stop what is called transpiration through the skin by enveloping the children's bodies in feather mattresses.

Don't cover up the heads of the little ones on cold nights, as they did in old days, knowing no better.

Don't let your nurses run away with the idea that, because they are not going to see anyone, the babies need no washing before being put to bed.

Don't put several children to bed in the same room.

New Perfume. A rose perfume that is not musty, but that carries in itself all the freshness of the garden, is a French scent, and though it is of fair price, it is so fragrant of the very basketfuls of blossoms which it must contain that it is refreshing as well as pleasant. It is named for the red rose, and conjures up a picture of the new buds, which resemble the bride roses in size, and are of reddish hue. It has an elusive daintiness about it which at once marks it for the lady's use.

Spring Jacket. The spring jacket in the making is said to have a length of 27 inches, which is longer in the back than in the front. It will have long sleeves and will button high over the chest for the spring season, but it will probably be lowered as soon as the warm weather sets in.

Metal Coin Purse. An attractive novelty in jewelry is the tiny coin purse of perforated metal which holds dimes and nickels. It is strung on a fine neck chain or worn at the end of a narrow black silk ribbon.

CLUBS OF LONDON

Aristocratic Resorts on Piccadilly Street Are Passing.

Grounds Upon Which They Are Situated Are Now Too Valuable for Purpose—Old Organizations Seeking New Locations.

London.—The most famous street of clubs in the world is likely before long to lose its character. The utilitarianism—sometimes described as Americanism—which introduced ice and electric subways into London's daily life, has decreed that Piccadilly shall no longer be sacrosanct to clubs. They will have to look for other quarters.

In the very heart of clubland a large hotel will shortly be built. Negotiations are in progress to acquire other sites in Piccadilly for similar purposes. Theatrical managers, even picture show proprietors, are casting envious eyes upon stately houses, when in the old days the "three bottle" men were bundled decorously into horse cabs and sent on their drunken way rejoicing. The leases under which the older clubs secured their premises are expiring—most of them, according to English custom, for ninety-nine years.

The majority of the Piccadilly clubs only pay a mere song for their homes. In some cases the original owner of the property was a member of the club and leased the land or building for a "peppercorn" or nominal sum, to his own organization. Such descendants of these generous folk as Sir Richard Sutton, who owns a good deal of the land, look at the matter in a different light. The value of Piccadilly sites is about $50 per square foot. By evicting a club the owner of the property in question automatically acquires a small fortune, either by building himself or renting to some enterprising hotel, store or theater.

The subordination of the picturesque to the utilitarian in Piccadilly will probably be complete within the next ten years. The trend of business and of traffic in London today is toward the West End. Centers half way between west and east, which formerly surged nightly with crowds, are now deserted. At the moment the Ritz and Berkeley hotels, which stand half way between Piccadilly Circus and Hyde Park, mark the limit of the hotelman's daring. Up till now he has not encroached upon the row of clubs, the Rothschild houses and that part of Piccadilly between Bond street and Hyde Park which ends in the grim mansion where the great Duke of Cavalry Club, London.

Wellington was stormed by a furious mob. The wedge has been driven in, and the scaffolding, which announces the death knell of Piccadilly as the world's greatest street of clubs.

The older clubs will be hard put to find new quarters commensurate with their dignity. Instead of looking out upon a really magnificent park—the section of Piccadilly I refer to is and can be only built on one side of the street—they will have to retreat to quieter streets, where the outlook only is likely to be other people's windows. Even here they will find it hard to pay the necessary rent. There is some talk of turning Dorchester House, rented by Whitehall Road, and the Stafford and Spencer houses into clubs, but this would probably prove too expensive. Since the advent of the fashionable hotel restaurant the popularity of club life has steadily declined. With a few notable exceptions, the average London club is in rather low water financially. The old days of waiting ten years or more for election have departed. Two or three old clubs have broken up and others have amalgamated.

LOST DIAMONDS IN MUFF

Woman Causes Commotion on Ocean Ship—Search Is Made and Jewels Are Found.

New York.—Three days at sea, Mrs. Clinton Cushing caused a commotion on the steamer Bermudian by charging that some one had stolen diamond rings worth $2,000 from her jewel box. Stewards and passengers were all closely questioned, but there was no clue. As soon as the vessel arrived here detectives were engaged to work on the case and they were going through Mrs. Cushing's luggage for the third time while the disconsolate voyager was explaining how futile was their search, when the lost rings were encountered in a pocket of her sable muff. Then Mrs. Cushing remembered that she had put them there.

Don't Let Catarrh Get the Best of You

If you have catarrh and are neglecting it—you are doing a great wrong to yourself. In time it will undermine your whole constitution. You cannot begin too soon the work of shaking it off. Doesn't require any great effort. Begin today.

"I Feel Like a New Woman"

Ms. HEN. FLAHER, of Port Dover, Ont., box 33, writes: "I have been a great sufferer for years from throat trouble, catarrh, indigestion, female troubles, bleeding, constipation and nervousness. I was unable to be in bed, then able to be up again. Was under many different doctors' care, and would get better for a little while, but I would go down with chronic inflammation all through me. For nineteen years I had this pain in my head. After trying nearly everything I got worse. I read in The People's Commonwealth Medical Journal of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I have taken the Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets, and have used five bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I am now able to go my work and walk with ease. I feel like a new woman. I enjoy everything around me and thank God for letting me live long enough to find something to do me so well."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

has a curative effect upon all mucous surfaces, and hence removes catarrh. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy.

Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" eradicates catarrhal affections, of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs, will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request.

"The "Discovery" has been put up and sold in its liquid form for over 40 years and has given great satisfaction. Now it can be obtained of medicine dealers in tablet form as well. A trial box sent prepaid for 50 one-cent stamps. Address Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Assist nature a little, now and then, with a scurrying and cleansing, yet gentle cathartic, and thereby avoid many diseases.
