

The Man who earns the daily bread for the family should be interested in making the burden lighter before he passes the larger earning period of his life. No other plan for protecting his income, for cementing the odds and ends into a lump sum, is as practical as our bank account method. Easy to make the start, easy to keep the account growing when our plan is used.

Come in and let us explain it to you.

The Northwestern has received complimentary words over its article on the mismanagement of the schools the past two years as published last week. One lady said, "I am glad you had the courage to say what you did." A prominent citizen, and one who has been identified with educational matters all his lifetime, said, "It may not have been very agreeable, but it was very truthful." Still another said, "It was all right, and a good many feel the same way." A good mother of bright children said, "It was good, but might have been made a great deal stronger." And we might go on with a number of other comments, commendable of our criticism, but will let the matter rest at that. It is not our wish to hurt or injure our schools in any way, but we insist hereafter on the motto of "Onward and Upward" rather than "Backward and Downward," and the Northwestern will always be found upholding the correct management of the schools.

"He that tootheth not his horn, the same shall not be tooted," seems to be the motto of some papers, and you will sure find them perennially shouting about the wonderful amount of job work and business they are doing. The Northwestern is rather more of the belief in the old, if rather vulgar but trite saying, that the "still sow drinks the swill," hence is not in the habit of using its mouth bellows to blow questionable results. However, it has no complaints to make over its busy jobbing department, which doubtless gives better results than those who run off too much at the mouth, its job printers being kept on the jump to keep up with the work.

As the editor will be away this coming week, and the entire responsibility and double work will rest upon the shoulders of Foreman Henyan and Mrs. Henyan, we urgently request that the business men and correspondents, and all who have favors for the Northwestern will get them in a day earlier than usual, if possible, and thus relieve them in part of the usual rush incident of the hours just preceding the going to press. Such courtesies will be duly appreciated.

De Wolf Hopper the comedian, and Nat Goodwin, the actor, are evidently running a race to see which can be married the most times. Hopper was divorced from his fourth wife a month ago and was married to the fifth last Friday. Goodwin was married to his fifth last Saturday. Each man has four divorced wives living. They are going some and furnish plenty of ammunition to opposers of the divorce system.

Luther McCarty, the heavyweight who defeated Flynn, and who was thought to be the coming champion, was killed last Saturday at Calgary, Alta., while engaged in a ten-round bout with one Pelky. They had fought less than a minute when a chance short-arm jab over the heart caused McCarty to collapse and he was dead in about eight minutes. Another monument to the great sporty game.

"Fifty Nebraska editors in the Omaha churches in one day ought to do as much good as William Sunday could do in the same time," observed Bixby. Let them try it, and perhaps we can save our $21,000.—Bee.

Why not donate the $21,000 to the subtlet speller of the bunch, and let Loup City benefit thereby?

Billy Sunday was offered $21,000 to go to Omaha and convert that Dahmanized city, but considered it too tough a proposition to tackle, with all due regard to the Big Bee's Buzing about the Beauties, Benefactions and Beneficence of that Bewitching Burg.

During the last campaign, a newspaper in Michigan charged Roosevelt with drunkenness. Roosevelt promptly sued the ubiquitous editor for $10,000 damages, and the suit is now on at Marquette, in that state. If Theodore were to try and pinch all who have said that, and should make it win, he would roll in wealth.

The biggest "wet" and "dry" proposition ever before the people is now on at Marquette, Mich. The ballot is supposed to read: "Roosevelt, wet, yes," "Roosevelt wet, no." Twelve votes to decide.

As compared with the ten-year average, crops this spring make a showing of from 100 to 120 per cent. The average for ten years past was some 76 per cent and a fraction over.

Perhaps two score or more editors have offered to "soak sin" one time only in the churches of Omaha Sunday, June 1, our "Beush" being one of the "soakers."

Opening Day at Jenner's Park, Tuesday, June 10th.

The sudden and startling death of Luther McCarty in the prize ring in Canada last Saturday is apt to prove discouraging to future punchers.

Oh, joy! Now we are to have "Fathers' Day." We have had all other days, and now "dad" is to have his. Whoopee; that's some class.

Last Monday was "clean-up" day. How many of you obeyed the mayor's proclamation?

You can now play ball legally at Loup City on Sundays, but it does not change the status of right or wrong in any particular.

Sherman county gets $2,774.83 of the apportionment of $355,474 of the state temporary school fund.

Loup City ought to be pretty decent next week with both editors(?) away from town.

If you do not like the breed of weather we are having now, you are indeed hard to please.

Additional Local

Will Doner will build him a home in north Loup City, north of Mr. Louis Hansen's home and in the same block. He and Ernest McFadden are to build adjoining each other.

Merle Warrick returned Tuesday from a horse-buying trip up to the Alliance country. He was in Marsand, our preacher brother's town, but unfortunately missed meeting that branch of our family tree.

Good John Warneke is here from St. Paul. He sold his poultry shipping business there some time ago, ago, retaining charge of it for a time but has now let loose and is free from business cares for the present.

Mrs. W. O. Brown entertained a few friends in honor of Miss Beynon at a 7:30 o'clock dinner last Friday evening. Those present were Miss Beynon; Miss Luce, Miss Sweetland, Miss Conger, Misses Lena and Ada Smith, Mrs. E. W. Thompson and Misses Winnifred and Retta Gasteyer. A most enjoyable time is reported and many compliments were extended to Mrs. Brown and daughters as hostesses.

The first Sunday base ball game in Loup City, under the new law, will take place at Jenner's Park next Sunday, June 1st, between Loup City and St. Paul. See bills for particulars. If you are not opposed to Sunday ball games, you should be present and give the home team your money and encouragement.

Mr. C. H. Ryan, formerly of the First National Bank of Gresham, this state, has accepted a position with the First National Bank of this city, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. L. B. Polski, who was elected county clerk, to take the place of W. C. Dieterichs, deceased, Mr. Ryan arriving Monday of this week to assume his new duties. He comes highly recommended as a competent, painstaking bank man.

The new picture show in the old Chase drug store building started by the Ogle brothers, gave its opening show Tuesday night of this week free to everybody. The house was packed to the doors and many were not able to secure seats till the last show. The boys have the building nicely lighted and seated and are fixed to give the people of Loup City and vicinity excellent service in the picture show line.

Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Allen returned last Saturday from a week's attendance on the sessions of the State Dental Society at Omaha. Dr. Allen was re-elected editor of the State Dental Journal, and the association will hereafter print its own journal monthly, an innovation not before attempted by other state societies.

The editor of this paper, accompanied by his wife and children, leave Saturday morning for Jefferson, Iowa, where the latter will make an extended visit. Mrs. Burleigh will return to Omaha with us to attend the sessions of the State Editorial Association the first three days of next week, returning later to Jefferson, while we come back home and again get into the grind.

Inference Obvious.

Lord Rosmore, author of "Things I Can Tell," used sometimes to "make a night of it" with Jimmy Davis, and on one occasion slept at Davis' house after a somewhat late carousal. Ringing his bell in the morning, it was answered by William, the butler, and the following colloquy ensued: "Good morning, William." I said briskly. "Good morning, my lord." "Quite early, isn't it?" "Well—not so early, my lord." "H'm, I thought it was. Anyhow, I'll get up and have some breakfast. I suppose nobody's down yet?" "Oh, yes, my lord, your brother and Lord Mandeville have breakfasted some time ago." "Bother them. I thought I'd be first. What did they have, William?" "Smoked 'addock, my lord." "Did they?" I cried. "What a drunkard's breakfast! What do you think I had better have, William?" He eyed me coldly, but not unkindly, and then said with marked meaning, "Smoked 'addock, my lord."
