

A Frank Talk on Typewriters

The L. C. Smith & Bros. ball-bearing typewriter

Somehow, the impression has gained ground that there isn't much difference between the various makes of typewriters on the market.

You may think the same thing. It would take a good, sound, logical argument to convince you that all typewriters do not have the same efficiency and that a stenographer cannot secure the same results on every machine.

We are ready to make that argument and to show you by actual demonstration that will do more work, better work, with less fatigue to the stenographer, than any writing machine ever made.

The L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

How is this possible?

Here are a few reasons:

1. It is ball bearing throughout—others are not.
2. All operations are controlled from the keyboard.
3. It is the lightest touch machine made.
4. It does not "smut" the carbon.
5. The ribbon reverses automatically.
6. The type is so protected that it is not battered by collision.
7. One motion of the hand returns the carriage and operates the line space.
8. It has an inbuilt biller and tabulator.
9. No trouble to write on paper as small as a postage stamp.
10. It is built for service.

The road drag keeps the weeds down and this alone would pay for all the road dragging that is done in the year, for these same weeds, if left to grow, will have to be cut and hauled off or burned before you can use the grader. After this the roots gather on the blade of the grader and it takes time to free it of the trash, and time is money when you have four or six teams working on the grader. The wear and tear on your buggy or wagon in passing over the rough roads, alone would almost pay for the extra expense in dragging them. We do not know how much one should drag in a day, but it seems like five miles per day could be done if full days were put in. Just drive out to the west bridge and see the condition of the road all the way. It is a disgrace to any town. It could be fixed in fairly good condition in one day's work with the grader and after this grading the road drag should be put on it after every rain. What this piece of road needs to fix it for years to come, is two or three days work with the grader getting the sod from the sides to the center, making deep ditches on each side of the road with a gradual slope all the way to the center of the road. We do not know where the Commercial Club could do more for Loup City than to see that this piece of road was fixed and fixed right.

Special low prices on Plow and List or Lays at Garner's shop.

Mr. Kendrick, who has been a teacher in our city schools the past year, left Saturday morning for Chouinard, N. Y., for a visit with his parents.

Mrs. J. B. O'Bryan, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Joe Thompson, went to Kearney last Saturday morning for an over-Sunday visit.

Mrs. A. B. Young and children left Monday morning for Beloit, Kansas, for an extended visit with the lady's mother and other relatives and friends. A. B. will be supposed to batch—at the hotel—during their absence.

Judge Wall delivered the address to the graduates of the school at Boelus, last Friday evening, making the trip by auto, accompanied by H. S. Nightingale. Wireless from Boelus report a fine crowd to listen to the judge's masterful talk.

Miss Nettie Southwell, who has proven one of the best teachers in our city schools the past year, teaching the 6th grade, and who will teach the 7th grade next year, left Saturday morning to spend the summer vacation at the home of her parents in southwest part of the State.

Wm. Sohaman leaves next Monday morning on a trip to Omaha, Sterling and Chicago Ills., where he is to be joined by A. F. Elsner, and the two will go to Racine and on to Detroit, to visit various big auto concerns. Mr. Schuman will probably purchase a fine Mitchell while away. Mr. Elsner has had an order in for a Mitchell for some time.

Six of our Canton boys went to Central City last Friday morning, to assist in the ceremonies incident to the dedication of the new court house, the Odd Fellows having charge of the dedicatory services. The six were Cantons Geo. Woten and Dr. Dickinson, of Rockville, and J. W. Conger, S. A. Pratt, O. F. Petersen and Oliver Brodock of this city, all returning the same evening, save Mr. Conger, who remained over a day.

The auditorium and annex of the Presbyterian church was crowded last Sunday evening, to hear Rev. Leslie Sweetland, our Loup City boy, who has been at the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago preparing for the ministry. The Methodist and Baptist churches dismissed their services that evening so that their congregations could have the pleasure of hearing Rev. Sweetland. To say that he did well, would be putting the matter mildly. To say that his effort was a masterful address, with good delivery, voice and presence, is only stating facts, while his words bore evidence of his earnestness and sincerity of purpose. Loup City, the people and all relatives and friends, will bear evidence of above and follow him with best wishes and assurances of his future success in his chosen calling.

What Rudyard Kiplind Said About the Grand Canyon in Yellowstone National Park

"I looked into a gulf 1700 feet deep with eagles and fish hawks circling far below and the sides of that gulf were one wild welter of color—crimson, emerald, cobalt, ochre, amber, honey splashed with port wine, snow-white, vermilion, lemon and silver-gray in wide washes. The sides did not fall sheer but were graven by time and water and air into monstrous heads of kings, dead chiefs—men and women of the old time. So far below that no sound of its strife could reach us, the Yellowstone River ran, a finger wide strip of jade green. Evening crept through the pines that shadowed us, but the full glory of the day flamed in that canyon as we went out very cautiously to a jutting piece of rock that overhung the deepest deeps of all."

I want to send you an illustrated pamphlet on the Yellowstone Park. It contains a fine map in colors, showing all the points of interest, and describes the many wonders to be seen. And I would like to tell you just how to get there most comfortably.
