

A Frank Talk on Typewriters

The L. C. Smith & Bros. ball-bearing typewriter

Somehow, the impression has gained ground that there isn't much difference between the various makes of typewriters on the market.

You may think the same thing. It would take a good, sound, logical argument to convince you that all typewriters do not have the same efficiency and that a stenographer cannot secure the same results on every machine.

We are ready to make that argument and to show you by actual demonstration that will do more work, better work, with less fatigue to the stenographer, than any writing machine ever made.

The L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

How is this possible?

Here are a few reasons:

1. It is ball bearing throughout—others are not.
2. All operations are controlled from the keyboard.
3. It is the lightest touch machine made.
4. It does not "smut" the carbon.
5. The ribbon reverses automatically.
6. The type is so protected that it is not battered by collision.
7. One motion of the hand returns the carriage and operates the line space.
8. It has an inbuilt biller and tabulator.
9. No trouble to write on paper as small as a postage stamp.
10. It is built for service.

Along Route 2

Will Miller and son John were on the Loup city market with hogs Monday.

Herbert and Edna Oltjenbruns took a buggy load of cream to Loup City Monday.

Gene Miller hauled a load of plank to Loup City Monday from the west bridge.

Carrier on Route 1 got the bridge inspector to let him go over the west bridge Monday.

Morrison was working the road at Ed Flynn's Monday.

Frank Fross from Stark City, Arkansas, is here visiting—well you know who.

Mr. and Mrs. John Galloway and family were camping down near the west river bridge last Friday.

Mrs. Lizzie Stark and sons marketed two loads of porkers at Loup City Monday.

Iver Holmberg was seen taking out a new mower Monday.

Eli Fisher was unloading a car of lumber Monday.

Floyd Howard marketed hogs at Loup City last week.

The Big Four commenced to fix the road to the west bridge Monday, and when they are hired to make a road you can count on it that it will be made right. Will Hancock is the road boss and he knows a good thing when he sees it, and that is the reason he always has the Big Four do his road work when he can get them. It will only be a short time until every man will have to pay his road tax in cash and the work will be let by contract.

Ed Flynn, W. H. McLaughlin and Roy Conger were working the roads Monday.

George McFadden was the first one on Route 2 to commence stacking alfalfa.

Fred Daddow was the first one seen cultivating corn this year.

Mrs. William Murphy, from Grand Junction, Colorado, has been visiting at the home of W. O. Brown the past week.

Oliver Brodock autoted to Loup City Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Miller and family got storm bound at the home of Henry Bichel Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conger took in the Boyd Burrows show at Loup City Saturday night.

George Stork was called home suddenly last week from Bichel's. One of his children was quite sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bichel held another one of their pleasant dances last Saturday night.

Route 2 got another good rain Saturday night. Winter wheat and alfalfa had commenced to need it. Alfalfa cutting is the order of the day and is one of the largest crops ever raised in Sherman county. Winter wheat will soon be headed out. Rye is in bloom and will be a good crop. Oats have commenced to joint and are free of weeds and promise a big crop. Hay is almost as good now as last year. Most pastures are good now. Potatoes look good. Wild cherries, plums and grapes will make a full crop this year. Corn cultivation has commenced this week.

Lossi Bros. took home a new stacker Saturday.

Jim Roush killed a pocket gopher that had a handful of corn in the pocket in its neck.

Russell Curry attended the ball game at Loup City Sunday.

Fritz Bichel has over 100 acres ready to seed to alfalfa.

John Petersen is working the road east of Will Miller's this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Knoepfel and family got storm stilled at the home of Albert Snyder Monday night.

Miss Carrie Bogseth is down to Sycamore Springs, Sabetha Kans., with her sister who has been troubled with the rheumatism all summer.

A good many patrons on route 2 attended Boyd Burrows show last week.

John Gross is a new patron on route 2.

Geo. Wagner marketed a load of hogs Tuesday.

Dr. Bowman was out on route 2 Monday.

Will Hancock and men put in two culverts on route 3.

Willis Holcomb hauled out a load of corn Monday.

The mill race broke out last Friday and was repaired this week.

The river has been high since Sunday and as dirty as the old Missouri river.

Ernest Daddow and W. F. Howard with their families called at Ira Daddow's Sunday evening.

Ernest and Ira Daddow and Floyd Howard with their families and Mrs. Albert Snyder and daughter Lena took supper at Nick Daddow's of Austin last Monday.

Mr. Wilber Curry who formerly lived on route 2 lost a fine grey mare last week.

Another big rain covered route 2 Monday night it was the heaviest on the north half.

Mrs. Daisy Fletcher from near Hazard was trading at Loup City Monday. She reports that the wind did considerable damage down there Saturday night.

John Galloway had a horse struck by lightning Saturday night. It did not kill the horse, but the flesh on its body in a great many places was torn into shreds, some as long as 6 inches.

It may live yet. This was one of his largest and best horses.

Mr. Fred Johnson and daughter Anna, drove to Loup City last Sunday.

Mrs. Ackerman preached at Wiggle Creek last Sunday and visited at the homes of Don Holmes and Clark Allemen.

Messrs Ira and Ernest Daddow and families took dinner at Winnifred Hughes last Sunday.

Mrs. Anna Cash and family and Minnie Siedenbrug spent Sunday at W. F. Howard's.

Frank Grow was down to the big island after his camping outfit Sunday.

Art Wilson and sons were hauling wheat to town all last week.

Mrs. Andrew and little girl of Albion, Neb., is visiting her brother, Alfred Jorgensen this week.

Alice Jorgensen from Albion, Neb., is here on an extended visit at her brother's.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wagner, on June 2nd, a boy. Cigars please!

FOR BREAKFAST.

It was early in the history of the new household.

"What have we got for breakfast dear?" asked Mr. Justmarried.

"I was to have been bacon," she said, "but poor cook's burnt it."

"Poor cook! I should think so, indeed!" exclaimed Mr. Justmarried. "Confound her! Have you given her notice?"

"Oh, no; we mustn't be too cross with her, darling," said his wife. "She's so young and inexperienced. Won't you be satisfied with a kiss for breakfast?" she coaxed, archly.

"All right, dear," replied Mr. Justmarried, suddenly pacified. "Call her in."

A Love Story.
Prof. Henri Bergson, at a dinner in New York, talked of love with that gay and sparkling philosophy which has made him famous in Europe. "Love, in the sense of passion," he said, "love does not live long. There's a little fable above love which has a deal of truth in it. "Love, so the fable runs, bent over a beautiful maiden, when Cynicism sneered and said: "Oh, yes, her eyes are stars, and her mouth is a rose, but twenty years hence she will be fat and round-backed, with a double chin, just like her mother. You, though—ha, ha, ha!—you, though, will be blind eh?" "No," Love answered, calmly. "I simply shan't be there to see."

An Instance.
"If an edition of Shakespeare for cooks were to be published, I know of one reading it would have in it." "What is that?" "Give every egg for desserts and which would escape whipping?"

Their Lack of Style.
"It is queer that the outskirts of cities remain in fashion." "Why shouldn't they?" "Because nearly all of them have trains."

Financially Embarrassed.
"Just at present I'm so I can't speak above a whisper."
