It cost the tax payers $170,000 to run the last legislature, or about $70,000 more than preceding sessions. The added pay for legislators took part of the extra, while a larger list of employes and many junketing trips cost the balance. By the above you might be sure that it was a democratic legislature.

Annual School Election
Monday, June 30

Next Monday will be the annual school meeting and election of directors. For several years past no interest has been taken in the school election, and the result is a state of affairs which can be remedied only by immediate and concentrated action by the entire school district. Several subjects of importance to the whole district are to be or should be brought before this meeting, and the presence of every parent in the district is desired. The education of the young is a paramount issue and one of which the full value is rarely realized. Let every attend this meeting and show by their presence that the desire for better school facilities is the chief consideration.

What Jenner's Park
Means to Loup City.

In company with H. M. Bushnell of the Lincoln Trade Review, and upon invitation of Mr. Jenner, we paid a visit to the Park a few evenings ago, and were surprised at the splendid improvements that are being made in that popular place of amusement. During the evening, Mr. Jenner turned on the electric lights, which made the park look beautiful, the myriads of lights shining softly through the foliage like so many stars making the scene most impressive. Mr. Jenner has added a large number of new lights and is still adding them in numbers, so that by the evening of the Fourth the effect will be most splendid even to what it was then. The fact is, the people of Loup City do not realize what the park means to them, or even grasp the amount of work and expense to which Mr. Jenner has been during the number of years he has been bringing that amusement resort up to its present standard of perfection. We who are here and see the park from time to time do not realize what it means to our city and people as do those from a distance who visit it for the first time or even semi-occasionally. Mr. Bushnell readily acknowledged that nowhere in the state has he found such a splendid and up-to-date park in any interior town near the size of our own beautiful city.

A good rain up in that locality the first of the week put the crops in splendid condition. The rye between Rockville and Boelus is elegant and on the way to Loup City the wheat was never better for 15 years.—Grand Island Independent.

A business man of this city suggests the renaming of our streets along more sensible lines. Instead of giving our streets high-sounding titles, he thinks a most desirable thing would be to name our streets one way alphabetically, commencing at capital A, B, C, and so on, while cross streets be numbered with 1, 2, 3, and so on. This would not be a bad idea, and certainly is most simple and primitive. We drop the idea into the mental coffers of our people, with the idea of think it over.
