A card received from Miss Frieda Ohlsen, dated New York, Tuesday, June 24, stated that the party had arrived in the city the preceding afternoon about four o'clock, and that they would sail for Germany the following day (Wednesday) at 11 o'clock a. m. She describes the big ship, "Imperator," on which they were to take passage, as simply grand and wonderful.
The fire laddies made a practice run last Thursday evening, that is, five of them did, but the rest were indisposed to take the exercise. And that brings forth the query as to just why so many join volunteer fire companies. Is it that they may save paying poll tax, as is generally understood, or really to make good in case of possible fires? If the latter, why is it that they are never on hand for practice, or hardly ever, when they can not become proficient without necessary drills.

The noted Cody, or Buffalo Bill, ranch near North Platte was sold recently. The purchaser paid an even $100,000 for 2,645 acres in the ranch. How much of this sum was paid for the land and how much for a noted name, is not reported. It is likely, however, that the land is worth all that was paid. The ranch improvements alone are worth a large sum.
Union Pacific railway is furnishing free alfalfa seed to farmers living along its right-of-way in western Nebraska. The conditions are that it must be sown in a strip of land not more than 200 feet wide along the railroad. The idea is to make good fire-guard along the track and to furnish a continuous back ground of alfalfa for the passengers who ride through that part of the state. It is likely to prove a profitable deal both for the road and the farmers.
Mrs. Frances Keeler and daughter, Miss Pearl Keeler, left this morning for a several weeks absence on the Pacific coast. They go from here to Aurora, where they are to be joined by Miss Elizabeth Leininger and Mr. George Houser, the party going direct to Denver, where they will remain over the Fourth. From there they go to Los Angeles, to attend the National C. E. Convention. Afterwards the party goes to San Francisco and from there by boat to Portland, Oregon, thence by rail to Seattle, Washington. Later the party expects to return to Portland, Miss Leininger and Miss Houser coming back east, stopping off for a visit at the home of Charles Leininger at North Platte and thence home. Mrs. and Miss Keeler return to Seattle and other points to visit for a season, and home by the Northern Pacific, stopping off to visit the Pilgers at Butte, Montana, and perhaps other friends at various places, the entire party to be absent from six weeks to three months as the spirit moves them.

Bound to Have It.
"He spent all his money on her and then she wouldn't marry him."
"No, she married the fellow who wouldn't spend his money on her. That was the only way she could get it."
Its Case.
"Revenge is a very paradoxical kind of affair."
"Why so?"
"Because a man who is on the outs with another has it in for him."
SHE HAD HIS NUMBER.

Blower certainly talks a great deal about himself, doesn't he?"
"Yes. He evidently believes that the most trifling topics may be made interesting if properly handled."

Following a Formula.
"People ought to choose their opposites when they marry."
"Well, did you do that?"
"Yep. She lived right across the street from me."
Can Snakes Fascinate Their Prey?
Mr. Fitzsimons answers this question in the negative. The belief in fascination is general, but there seems to be no real foundation for it. "I have had much experience of snakes," writes Mr. Fitzsimons; "and have made it my business to observe carefully their habits and ways, both in their natural condition in the wild state and captivity, and in no instance have I ever known a snake to fascinate an animal in the manner it is alleged to do." He has seen two species, which he mentions, many a time in trees surrounded by a crowd of fluttering, chattering, excited birds. But the birds were not, he says, "fascinated by the snake; they were endeavoring to intimidate it in order to frighten it from their haunts.—Westminster Gazette.

MRS. A. Z. ZEHNER, REFORM LECTURER.

IT must be a courageous woman who goes on the Chautauqua platform making more than seventy Chautauquas of a great Chautauqua System in less than ten weeks' time lecturing on reform. Mrs. Zehner is a woman of the South. She didn't know until she came to be quite a young woman that a Yankee might be a companionable person. And then she married one. Now she is a great exponent of the one country idea—the doing away with sectional feelings. She is a member of the National Suffragette League and is prominent as a temperance lecturer. She is dealing with problems that have to do with civic, state and national government affairs, particularly as they pertain to the interests of women. She is known as a reformer and an orator of great power.
