

WASHINGTON'S LATEST BASEBALL IDOL.

"Smiling" Joe Boehling.

Manager Clarke-Griffith's latest pitcher acquisition, Joe Boehling, is the latest idol of the Washington baseball fans. He recently established a record for himself by winning eleven straight games. He is popularly known as "Joe Bowleg" and is one of the youngest pitchers in the major leagues.

BIG CLUBS WANT KING COLE FANS TO SEE WAGNER'S MITT

Pitcher, who virtually won pennant for Chicago Cubs, has regained Old-Time Form.

Three years ago Leonard Cole was the most prominent pitcher in the National league. Three years ago he virtually won the pennant for the Cubs, working in 33 games and getting an average of .833, which gave him the leadership in the league.

He fell. His brilliancy faded. He was sent from Chicago to Pittsburgh. Fred Clarke believed he still had the winning stuff in him.

Fred was wrong. He released him to Columbus. That was last year.

Now see what happened. McQuillan of the Columbus club was the star of the A. A. until a short time ago. He was grabbed by Pittsburgh.

Up bobbed "King" Cole. He took McQuillan's place. He filled it so satisfactorily, in fact, that about a dozen major league clubs would like to grab him.

He pitched 58 innings in 17 days and allowed a trifle over an average of two runs per game in six contests. He won five of the six, one of which was a 17-inning affair.

Since his no-hit performance at Milwaukee a short time ago there has been a vast change for the better in his work.

Fans stick to Tinker. Joe Tinker stands ready to throw up the job of managing the Reds at any time Garry Herrmann wishes. It is said, however, that despite the poor showing of the Cincinnati the local fans are sticking to Tinker loyally.

They believe Tinker is fighting his head off to win, is making very few mistakes and is hampered by inferior support and a lack of the right winning spirit in some of the players. The home rooters recognize the fact that Manager Tinker cannot be blamed for the poor showing of the club. The Red leader is having a hard row to hoe, but he is keeping up his courage and may get there in time.

To Try Chinese Pitcher. Report has it that Robinson, one of the pitchers of the Chinese baseball team which has the longest string of victories to its credit of any club invading this country, will be given a trial by a Pacific Coast League club, presumably Los Angeles. Robinson is part Chinese, but he is the Honolulu club's star pitcher, with curves, speed and control.

Few Rapid Switches. Bobby Coulson has had some rapid switches this season. Starting the year with Brooklyn, he was sent to Kansas City, and from that club to the Portland Coast leaguers, from there to Portland of the Northwestern league, and now he has been sold to Spokane. It would be no surprise to see Coulson get another change within a few days.

Entitled to Fame. The fact that Walter Johnson has shut out the Athletics twice this season is sufficient reason for fame being thrust upon him even if he had not proven himself to be one of the world's greatest pitchers. It takes "some" pitcher to do that to the Mackmen.

LOYAL FANS OF WASHINGTON

Never Promise Themselves Much and There is No Reaction From This Happy Condition.

The remarkable success that Clarke Griffith has had with the Washington team this season has set all the experts to doting on the reason therefor and they are telling that it is because the "Old Gray Fox" understands pitchers and knows just when to use them and relieve them; or that it is that he knows baseball and has a faculty of imparting that knowledge; or that he has the spirit that inspires young players. And a few other reasons. However, Griff can't be presumed to have gained all these talents since the first of April; he must have had them last year—and he couldn't win at Cincinnati. Therefore, if we are permitted, it is suggested that there are two psychological elements in his success with Washington, says the Sporting News. One is that Griffith is back in the company he enjoys and the other is the difference in spirit between Washington and Cincinnati. In Redland they demand and promise themselves a pennant each spring. When the demand is not met and the promise flattens out they "grump." In Washington they take the other course. They never promise themselves much there and it is a happy condition which has no reaction. Aside from these elements Griffith also has a real ball team, which counts for something in itself.

ERROR MADE BY CLEVELAND

Bill Bernhard and Not Lajoie Should Have Been Appointed Manager of Team in 1905.

"Had William Bernhard been appointed manager of the Cleveland club in 1905 there is little doubt that they would have won the American league pennant."

The above statement was made by Charley Carr, manager of the Kansas City club, the other day.

"When the Cleveland club management appointed Lajoie as manager in 1905," said Mr. Carr, "it made a serious mistake to my way of thinking. Not that Lajoie was not a competent man for the position, but because it did not result in the harmony necessary on a team to make it a pennant winner. I do not want to infer that Lajoie was not able to handle the affairs or to keep the men in line, for every one had the highest regard for Larry, both as a man and a player."

"There were angles which caused some dissatisfaction and the players were not working together as they should have done. The man who could have had perfect harmony on the team was Bill Bernhard, for every man liked him and would have worked his head off for him. It was Lajoie himself who would have liked to have seen Bill in charge, for he stuck to him like a brother. It may not be known outside, but when Lajoie signed up with the Cleveland club for a long period it was with the understanding that Bill Bernhard was to be there and never receive a cent less than any other pitcher in the club. That is how strong I am for Bill."

"To my mind the Naps that year had one of the strongest ball teams ever got together, but it was lack of harmony that prevented them from winning the pennant."

RESERVE RULE IS ESSENTIAL

So Says John Montgomery Ward, Old-Time Ball Player—Needed to Maintain National Game.

John M. Ward, who probably knows as much about the workings of baseball as anyone, having been a player as well as a manager, says: "The reserve rule is essential. It must be kept in effect to maintain baseball. When the brotherhood was organized the fight made by the players was against a salary limit. The contract in those days contained a clause which reserved a player without his consent. But things are different now. The modern contract includes an agreement by the player to permit his employer to exercise an option on his services for the ensuing year. If it weren't for the methods employed by organized baseball the players would not be drawing such large salaries. The national agreement and the national commission are bulwarks of the game. Should they be abolished players who are demanding $15,000 would be forced to accept $1,500 instead."

Many Stars Gone.

Figuring along the same line of thought—how many of the wonderful Athletics of 1911 are gone? Eight of them—Livingstone, Hartsell, Lord, Krause, Danforth, Martin, Morgan and Derrick! And of them all Lord is the only one still in the majors. Then there are Thomas, Murphy and Harry Davis, whose playing days are fast drawing to a close. Yet two seasons gone they were members of a club heralded as the most wonderful baseball machine ever gathered together.

Carrigan Given Free Hand.

Jimmy McAleer has announced that Manager Bill Carrigan of the Reds has been given a free hand to do as he sees fit about the team.

WITH POPULAR GAUZE BUTTERFLY

NOW that it is a little too late to wear a straw hat, and considerably too early to buy a velvet or winter felt, a between-seasons idea has been launched in that dear Paris. It is the black or white satin hat and it is trimmed with a gauze butterfly. The "gauze" is fine maline, of course, but "gauze" goes better with "butterfly."

The satin hat and the gauze butterfly have made an instantaneous success. Already the manufacturers are getting daily telegrams from all points of the compass, and are laying wagers with each other as to which particular satin hat with a butterfly is ordered in said telegram.

These hats usually have soft crowns and somewhat flexible brims. They fit close to the head and are worn without a hat pin.

The liking for black is a reaction after the riotous vogue of riotous colors which is passing with the summer.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

PRETTY IDEA FOR MILLINERY

Hand-Painted Effects Are Among the Season's Novelties and Have Been Received With Favor.

The application of aniline dyes in hand-painted effects to millinery of the season is an entirely new device, and the result is unique. White ostrich feathers, long and thick, are decorated in flower designs in natural colors. The design runs upward with the quill and spreads out on the flues.

Another fancy is to paint the straw hat directly, just in the design the flowers would make, or fruit, were it placed upon it. On the brim or on the crown, or partly under the brim, or on its upturned edge. Here the pattern is traced in brilliant tones. White straw and "natural" straw are the only shades so decorated. Any surface or quality may be used. Garden hats are really pretty done in this way. A design of cherries in red with green leaves and gray twigs of stems is, for instance, especially odd.

Touch of Black.

The black lorgnette ribbon is a feature of this season's dress. The narrow black ribbon of moire silk has tiny gold or jeweled slides, and from it may depend, in lieu of a lorgnette or monocle, a locket, watch or any other trinket. The narrow line of black against a white bodice is particularly smart and effective. These ribbons are seen in navy blue, crimson, even in green and pink; but black is the correct monocle hue, and a sautoir ribbon of any other color is not correct form.

Suede Belts.

Wide suede belts of soft color to match the predominant shade in the printed design are worn with children's frocks of figured muslin. A usual trimming for such frocks takes the form of frills of white lawn scalloped in the color of the belt with mercerized cotton. These frills sometimes extend from neck to hem on each side of a tucked panel of white muslin. The belt buckles over the frills and the panel, and is held in place by narrow straps of the printed muslin.

Gloves Held Up.

I was considerably annoyed by my long gloves slipping down my arm after they had been washed once, writes a contributor to Good Housekeeping. But I have relieved the trouble by ripping a short place in the hems and running in narrow elastic and hemming down again.

For a Gloomy Piazza.

A dark piazza may be much relieved by the use of willow chairs in their natural state, with cushions of bright crimson. The bright red cushion in the white or green enameled chair is also very twisting and cheering.

Leading in Defalcations.

Once more Europe has demonstrated that when it comes to defalcation this country shrinks from its magnificent dimensions. Our natural resources, our private fortunes, our railroad accidents, and murder statistics may be unapproachable, but we rarely produce colossal embezzlers like the French citizen which is accused of making away with more than six million of other people's dollars. Nor is the case of M. Deperdussin an isolated instance. There is the recent affair of the Belgian railway director whose stealings ran into many millions, and not long before him Hungary produced a confidence man of splendid proportions. No need to go back to the Humbert case and Panama. We have produced the Wallingford, but Europe seems to furnish the most interesting examples.—New York Evening Post.

ERUPTION ON ANKLE BURNED

Kingsville, Mo.—"My trouble began eighteen years ago. Nearly half of the time there were running sores around my ankle; sometimes it would be two years at a time before they were healed. There were many nights I did not sleep because of the great suffering. The sores were deep running ones and so sore that I could not bear for anything to touch them. They would burn all the time and sting like a lot of bees were confined around my ankle. I could not bear to scratch it, it was always so sensitive to the touch. I could not let my clothes touch it. The skin was very red. I made what I called a cap out of white felt, blotting paper and soft white cloth to hold it in shape. This I wore night and day.

"I tried many remedies for most of the eighteen years with no effect. Last summer I sent for some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The very first time I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment I gained relief; they relieved the pain right then. It was three months from the time I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment until the sores were entirely healed. I have not been troubled since and my ankle seems perfectly well." (Signed) Mrs. Charles E. Brooke, Oct. 22, 1912.

Upward Strokes of Beauty.

When my little girl was born the old colored nurse I got for her told me that if I brushed her hair the wrong way it would make it curly, writes a correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Whether that was what did it or not I do not know, but her hair, while it never really curled, has always stood away from her head in a soft, pretty way. Mammy's instructions set me to thinking. I realized that all faces fall as they grew old, and I wondered why it wouldn't be wise to wash and dry the face up instead of down. I not only taught my little daughter to do this—she always wipes upward—but I began on myself. Today, at forty-seven, not a muscle in my face has fallen; there are no droopy lines in it, and no sagging shows at my chin. My eyelashes are always noticed because they curl upward so prettily (they didn't before I began the upward treatment), and my daughter's are just like them.

Best Use of Scent.

The best way to use scent, if you care to use it at all, is to put a delicate extract in an atomizer and spray yourself with it. Strong scents are offensive and the most subtle and elusive odor is that obtained from a generous use of sachet bags laid among one's lingerie, in the drawers with one's handkerchiefs, gloves and veils, and possibly fastened in the front of one's stays or in some inner fold of the bodice. One can buy many different kinds of powder for sachets, but whatever you choose, heliotrope, violet, rose or carnation, remember that the addition of a little orris powder will add to its strength and make it more lasting.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E.
