ALONG ROUTE TWO

Mrs. James McBeth is quite ill. Fritz Bichel sold over $2,000 worth of horses last week. Pete Ogle was out on Route 2 last Friday. Mrs. E. W. Thompson spent Tuesday at W. O. Brown's. Emma Wilson has been working at Hans Obermiller's the past week. Sheriff Williams was seen going to Litchfield last Saturday. Why are autos like the sandhills? Because they have lots of blowouts. Henry Beck was seen on his way to Loup City last Saturday. W. O. Brown and Clint Outhouse spent last Sunday at Fritz Bichel's. Mrs. John Gross spent last Friday at Jessie McFadden's. E. Daddow and family spent last Sunday at the home of James Rousch. Lawrence and Will Rutherford and families visited Sunday at Arcadia. The leans say they can beat the fats for the ice cream. What say you to that? School opened in No. 36 on Monday. Miss Mabel Daddow teacher, with 23 pupils enrolled. Oliver Brodock went to Polk Tuesday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Emma Johnson—and a friend. A. V. Westcott commenced his fourth cutting of alfalfa last Friday. It will be a fair crop. We had so much fun at the picnic Labor Day. Let's make it an annual affair. Ashley Conger, Frank Grow and John O'Bryan had an outing down on the river the past week. Tom Garner's wheat threshed out over 20 bushels to the acre and it tested 66 pounds to the bushel. Schools commenced in the Schwaderer, Obermiller and Fred Johnson districts last Tuesday. Nick Daddow and family and Mrs. Alvira Daddow and family took dinner at Henry Goodwin's last Sunday. Otto Henning sold some cattle to Tennis Biemond and delivered them a few days ago. The Walter Woznick threshing outfit have been threshing the past week on lower Wiggle Creek. Chas. Johnson attended state fair last week and also visited relatives while there. Geo. Stork finished his contract of painting the Hawk school house last week. Chris, Johnson helped George Stork paint the Hawk school house the last week. Anyone wishing post card views of the route picnic see Edgar Foster Saturday. From the 10th to the 25th of September is the best time to sow winter wheat. The carrier would appreciate it if patrons would see that their mail boxes are in good shape for the winter. Art Wilson had one field of winter wheat that made 28 bushels per acre, the best the carrier has heard of on the route this year. Miss Bernice Casteel came home from her eastern visit last Wednesday, putting in two days at the state fair on her way home. Will Doner and Jim Bowman fixed two chimneys and did some plastering for Casteel the past week. W. H. Gunn has been up from Kearney the past week. He reports everything in bad shape around Kearney. Mrs. Richard O'Bryan of Kearney and Mrs. Joe Thompson of Loup City spent Thursday at the home of W. O. Brown. Carriers from Hazard and Ashton were at Route 2 picnic Labor Day; also carriers Williams and family and Foster, from Route 3 and 1, Loup City. The patrons and carrier on Route 2 were surprised and hurt that Loup City's band and their photographer were not on hand to meet them when they arrived with the parade last Monday. Dick Brodock will be a patron on Route no. 2 next year, having rented the farm farmed by Art Wilson this year. Art Wilson will move to his holdings in the northwest part of the state. The Iossi brothers' wheat went over 16 bushels per acre, machine measure. The wheat is a new kind and they expect to keep it all for seed, as the berry is fine and plump. George McFadden, wife and daughter, Ruth, returned home from their trip to several eastern states. They report crops in bad condition, while crops looked better in Sherman county than anywhere in the state. The carrier was phoning to a party in York and they reported that there would not be forty bushels of corn in the entire county—all burned out. Land in York county is $100 to $200 per acre. Lots of fields in Sherman county will go 35 bushels to the acre. Supt. and Mrs. J. H. Burwell and family moved to Loup City the past week. Carrier and patrons on the route will certainly miss them as they were always willing to help in everything to make it a success. Route 2's loss is Loup City's gain. The Ondrake threshing outfit on their way to Tom Garner's just west of York. Licks got stuck in a muddy draw last Wednesday. Their engine was buried clear up to the fire box. It took some time to find their way out of the trouble. Some one suggested putting the cable they had around one of the big wheels and the other end to a post set in the ground about 20 feet in front. This they did and soon came out all O. K. George Stork perhaps saved the life of Harry Taylor's little 3-year-old child last Saturday morning, while working on the Hawk school house. He heard two bulls, one in the Hawk pasture and the other in the Nordstedt pasture, bellowing and looking up the road west of the school house saw about 200 yards away a little child with a red dress on and drawing a red wagon towards the school house. He ran to the little one's assistance, and by the time he got there each bull had heard of cattle were crowding the fence trying to get out at the little one. The bulls were bellowing frantically and pawing the earth making frantic efforts to get out and if the fences had given way before Mr. Stork got there the little one's life could not have been saved. Mr. Stork put his coat over the red dress and started for the home with the little sisters who had come shortly afterward. The little one had run away from home and was going to Loup City it claimed. The family lives a mile west of where the baby was found. Route 2 is 33 miles long and every family except eight were at the picnic Labor day. The carrier appreciates this, for it was one of the worst days

Loup's Citizens Register Kick

Yesterday Grand Island had a man here to bill their aviation meet, beginning next Tuesday and continuing five days. As this covers the dates of our county fair; as our fair was dated in advance of the date of the Grand Island affair; as Loup City and Sherman county have always generously supported Grand Island celebrations, and as we have always carefully avoided clashing dates with all neighbor towns, especially our high friend on the south, we feel we have a righteous kick to register against the action of the town and people who get a big income year after year from our too generous people.

Wrestler Miller Injured in Training

While in training the first of this week Warren Miller met with a severe injury to his left shoulder, which has had the effect of cancelling his wrestling bout with Jack Meyers of Omaha, which had been staged for the new opera house the first evening of the county fair.

For $25,000 High School

Last week there was put in circulation a petition calling for signatures for the holding of a bond election for $25,000 for the erection of a new high school building. The petition is progressing nicely. The members of the school board have all shown their interest by signing the petition and stating in positive terms that they are in favor of it. Both banks have given the petition their support, and most of the heavy tax payers have signified their appreciation of the need for more room by signing the petition for an election. About six copies of the petition have been circulated and according to the estimates of those who should know, all but about forty of the qualified voters of the district have signed up to this time, and others will sign when given a chance. The known crowded condition of our public school building, a practical demonstration of which has been shown by the opening of the present school year, with over eighty little people crowded into one department, necessitating the dividing of the number in two divisions, each having only half of the day at school, and the further fact that all other grades have to meet with only fractional smaller conditions and embarrassments has been an eye-opener to our people, and will undoubtedly result in an overwhelming majority in favor of the bonds.

for dust storms we have had this year, at times you could not see across the street when the parade was passing. Carrier knew the parade would be a big one from talk every where, but was surprised, because it was even larger than he had figured it would be. You will never know how much he appreciated that long line of teams and autos. The effort that you all made in decorating your rigs, fixing up floats, etc., of all kinds. From the looks of the different rigs you must have had several brain storms to have thought of so much. We would like to mention how each float looked, but there were so many that the paper would have to get out an extra edition to do so. With such a great throng of teams as was there that day, not one accident happened to mar the day, either in the parade or at the park. It would have been impossible to have held the picnic that day, if it had not been for the sheltered location of Jenner's Park. Carrier appreciates the Jenner brothers' efforts in helping him entertain his patrons. All in all the picnic was such a grand success that the Carrier has decided to make each Labor Day an annual picnic. Carrier was sorry not to see more carriers and their families present. Again we thank you all.
