The list of attractions of the coming lecture course at the opera house is as follows: Shungopavi, Oct. 22; Col. Bob Seeds, Nov. 1; Original Strollers, Jan. 27; Woods Trio, Feb. 12 and Alvah Green, April 21. Tickets on sale at opera house any date. Adults, $1.50; children, $1.00.

Some special prices at the ten cent store. Peroxide 10-15-25c; 2 tablets for 5c; 6 mouse traps for 10c; 24 sheets wax paper 5c; 20 inch handle stove shovel 10c; padlocks 5-10-15c.

Shungopavi is a success. Comparatively few are so well qualified to interest the public as this intelligent and attractive son of the Moquis. His monologue is given in the best of English. He is an entertainer who easily wins the good-will and applause of his audience. At the Opera House, Oct. 22nd.

Accidentally Kills Himself

While in the act of lifting a loaded gun into a wagon. Wm. H. Hayward, a prominent business man of Whitman, was shot and instantly killed. Hayward, in company with his wife and father, had driven into the hills after grouse. The party had just finished dinner and was preparing to make an afternoon start when the accident occurred. Hayward had climbed into the buggy and, in pulling the gun in after him the weapon was discharged directly into his body. He gave a single cry and pitched forward dead. Interment took place in the Whitman cemetery with I. O. O. F. honors.—Chief.
