WEDDING OF MISS JESSIE WILSON AND FRANCIS B. SAYRE

Mr. and Mrs. Sayre and East Room in Which They Were Wedded.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Jessie Woodrow Wilson, second of President Wilson's three daughters, was married to Francis Bowes Sayre at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The ceremony took place in the east room of the White House, and was performed by Rev. Sylvester Beach of Princeton, N. J., the president's former pastor and the close friend of the Wilson family for many years.

The entire affair was very simple, as had been requested by the bride, and the number of guests was rather small—distinguisngly so to many persons in official and social circles of Washington who had expected to receive invitations but were disappointed.

Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, eldest of the three daughters, acted as maid of honor to her sister, and Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, the youngest, was one of the bridesmaids. The three other bridesmaids were Miss Adeline Mitchell Scott of Princeton, daughter of Prof. William B. Scott; Miss Marjorie Brown of Atlanta, Pa., daughter of Mrs. Wilson's cousin, Col. E. T. Brown, and Miss Mary G. White of Baltimore, a college friend of the bride.

Dr. Grenfell is Best Man. Mr. Sayre was attended by his best man, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, the famous medical missionary to the fishermen of the Labrador coast. The two men have long been fast friends and Mr. Sayre spent two summers helping Dr. Grenfell with his work.

Wedding Gown of Ivory Satin. The bride's gown was of satin, of a soft ivory tint, trimmed with beautiful lace, both old and rare. It was made in New York and the women connoisseurs declared that it was a masterpiece. The lingerie in the trousseau is of the most dainty material and is all hand made.

Coming right in the midst of the chrysanthemum season, this was made a chrysanthemum wedding and that flower was used most profusely in adorning the White House. As the bride's favorite color is mauve, that was made the prevailing color in the decorations. The east room, and indeed all the rooms in the president's mansion, were beautiful indeed.

Depart on Their Honeymoon. After the ceremony was completed and the couple had received the congratulations of the guests, refreshments were served, and then Mr. and Mrs. Sayre departed for their honeymoon. Their plans include a visit to the home of Miss Nevin, Mr. Sayre's aunt, at Windsor Forges, near Churchtown, Pa., where they first met. After January 1 they will live in Williams-town, Mass., for Mr. Sayre is to sever his connection with the office of District Attorney Whitman in New York and become assistant to Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college.

Dog For Golf Discovers. A golf dog has been discovered. The animal, a rough-haired terrier, is quite self-supporting, and he helps to support the house painter and his family with whom he resides. He has roamed out as many as ten golf balls on a Sunday night, and in one week brought home 22.—Manchester Guardian.

Never Despair. Never despair, but if you do, work on in despair.—Burke.

There was one disappointment for those who attended the wedding, for the gifts were not put on display. It is known that these included many beautiful and valuable articles sent by relatives and personal friends of the bride and groom and of their families and by admirers of President Wilson. Handsome presents were sent by both the senate and the house, that of the latter being a diamond lavalliere which Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of the speaker, bought for the representatives in New York.

Those who were invited to witness the wedding were mostly personal friends and the number was kept down close to four hundred. The list was pared and revised several times, and as has been said, the operation resulted in many heartburnings. The streets outside the White House were as crowded as the police would permit with curious persons eager to watch the arrival and departure of the guests.

Something About the Groom. Francis Bowes Sayre is twenty-eight years old, and was born at South Bethlehem, Pa., a son of the late Robert Heysam Sayre, who built the Lehigh Valley railroad and at one time was assistant to the president of the Bethlehem iron works, since known as the Bethlehem steel works. He was also once president of the board of trustees of the Lehigh university.

Francis Bowes Sayre graduated from Lawrenceville school, Lawrenceville, N. J., in 1904, and from Williams college in 1909. He entered Harvard law school and graduated "cum laude." He was a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity, Gargoyles society and the Phi Beta Kappa at Williams. For the past year he has been working in the office of District Attorney Whitman of New York. During the summer he was admitted to the bar of New York state.

Mr. Sayre's mother is Mrs. Martha Finlay Sayre, daughter of the late William Nevin, who was president of Franklin and Marshall college at Lancaster, Pa. She is a descendant of Hugh Williamson of North Carolina, one of the framers of the Constitution of the United States, and is a sister of the late Robert Nevin, head of the American church at Rome, and a cousin of Ethelbert Nevin, the composer.

Other White House Weddings. The wedding of Jessie Wilson and Francis Sayre was the thirteenth to be solemnized in the White House. The first was that of Anna Todd, a niece of Dolly Madison's first husband, and John G. Jackson. Then Mrs. Madison's sister, Lucy, was married to Judge Todd of Kentucky. The third wedding, that of Maria Monroe, daughter of President Monroe, to Samuel Lawrence Gouverneur in 1820 marked the first social use of the east room. Eight years later John, the second son of President John Quincy Adams, married his cousin, Mary Helen, in the blue room. While General Jackson was president there were three weddings in the White House, those of Delia Lewis to Alphonse Joseph Yver Pageot of the French legation; Mary Eaton to Lucien B. Polk, and Emily Martin to Louis Randolph. Many years passed before there was another marriage ceremony in the president's mansion, the next being of Nellie, the only daughter of General Grant, and Algernon C. F. Sartoris. In 1876 Emily Platt, a niece of Mrs. Hayes, was married in the blue room to Gen. Russell Hastings. The eleventh of this series of weddings was that of President Cleveland to Frances Folsom, and the twelfth that of President Roosevelt's daughter Alice, to Nicholas Longworth.

Immense Wedding Cake. Jessie Wilson's wedding cake was a triumph of the pastry cook's art. It was two and a half feet tall, counting the white orchids that were placed on top of it, and weighed 135 pounds. The first layer was four inches thick and 22 inches across. The cake contained 19 ingredients and its cost was about $500. Over the body of the cake was molded a thick white icing scroll work, on its top was a design for the initials of the bride and groom, done in silver, and around the sides were lilies of the valley in white sugar. This delicious confection was distributed in 2,000 dainty white boxes tied with satin ribbon and each of the proper size to go under the pillow of the recipient to bring dreams.

Trumped. "I wish I had never learned to play cards!" exclaimed a man who had been unfortunate at the game. "You mean you wish you had learned, don't you?" was his wife's sarcastic rejoinder.

Moonlight. The light of the moon is the time from new moon to full moon, and the dark of the moon is from full moon to new moon, or throughout the waning period.

Mrs. Sayre was born in Gainsville, Pa., twenty-five years ago. She attended the Women's college at Baltimore and was an honor member of the class of 1908, being also elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa. For two years after her graduation she engaged in settlement work in Kensington, Pa., and she is a member of the executive board of the National Young Woman's Christian association. She has delivered several excellent addresses in public.

In appearance she does not resemble her father as much as do her sisters, having rather the features of her mother's family, the Axsons.

Gift of the House. This is the diamond lavalliere which was the wedding present of the house of representatives to Jessie Woodrow Wilson.

Bandit Loots Bank. Laurel, Miss.—Unobserved, except by his victim, a robber entered the Bank of Heidelberg at Heidelberg, Miss., held the cashier up at a pistol point, got about $2,000, locked the cashier in a vault and escaped on a freight train that was passing. PROPERTY IS SAFE

AGUILAR PROMISES TO GUARD FOREIGN INTERESTS.

BLUE JACKETS READY TO LAND

Admiral Fletcher At Scene Prepared for Prompt Action if it Becomes Necessary.

Washington, D. C.—Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the American fleet on the east coast of Mexico, has cabled the navy department a message he had received from General Aguilar, the constitutionalist leader, who has occupied the vicinity of Tuxpan, giving assurances that American and other extensive oil interests in that territory would be protected.

Admiral Fletcher is under orders to take such steps as may be necessary to protect foreign lives and property, reports from Tuxpan having indicated that the constitutionalists were threatening to destroy the tanks of British oil interests.

This led to talk of the possibility of the landing of marines or blue jackets from the American battle-ships and developments in the situation have been awaited with intense interest.

General Aguilar's message, sent in reply to Admiral Fletcher's demand that no harm should come to foreigners of their property, said:

"I am governing on a constitutional basis, my attitude being to guard the interests of all foreign and domestic oil corporations existing in the territory I occupy, fulfilling in this manner the demands of civilization."

Officials here think this means there will be no trouble—some complications as a result of Aguilar's occupation of the oil fields territory. Destruction of the tanks would have endangered the lives of many Americans and other foreigners. Two British armored cruisers have been ordered to the scene, but in the meantime the United States had been asked to guard British interests.

Favor a Peaceful Adjustment.

Seattle, Wash.—The American Federation of Labor refused to adopt a resolution condemning armed intervention in Mexico on the ground that such intervention might be justifiable and desirable.

The convention unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"The American Federation of Labor condemns attempts being made by American and foreign corporations and certain jingo newspapers to force armed intervention by the United States government in Mexico and urges upon the president of the United States the continuance of a policy looking to the peaceful adjustment of the conflict among the Mexican people, and that the president and secretary of the American Federation of Labor be instructed to transmit the position of the federation upon that matter to the president of the United States."

U. S. Mail Cars Kill Many.

New York.—The right of the United States government to operate its mail trucks in city streets regardless of speed restrictions that may be prescribed by the board of aldermen, was defended by Joseph Stewart, second assistant postmaster general, before the aldermanic committee appointed to consider an ordinance withdrawing the mail trucks from the class of vehicles now exempt from speed control. Fourteen persons have been killed here this year by mail carrying automobiles.

Laurel, Miss.—Unobserved, except by his victim, a robber entered the Bank of Heidelberg at Heidelberg, Miss., held the cashier up at a pistol point, got about $2,000, locked the cashier in a vault and escaped on a freight train that was passing. The cashier was liberated within half an hour and gave the alarm.

Des Moines, Ia.—Dr. George H. McCall of Chicago, who was indicted by the last federal grand jury on a charge of using the mails to distribute fake medicines, was sentenced to the county jail for thirty days by Judge McPherson here.

Washington, D. C.—Retail prices of food were higher August 15 than at any other time during the last twenty-three years, according to figures of the bureau of labor statistics.

Winnipeg, Man.—The Algoma Central steamer Lenfield was lost in Lake Superior with her entire crew during the recent great lakes storm, according to the version of Captain Baird of the Harmonica, who has arrived here from Fort Williams.

Washington, D. C.—Representative Booher of Missouri has asked the house to appropriate $200,000 for experiments toward the prevention and cure of hog cholera.

ERUPTION SPREAD ON FACE

810 East Elm St., Streator, Ill.—"A running sore broke out above my right eye, which spread over my entire face. It started as a small pimple. I scratched it open and the contents of this small pimple ran down my face. Wherever this ran a new sore appeared. They itched and burned terribly; I couldn't touch my face it burned so. It disfigured my face terribly and I couldn't be seen for everyone was afraid of it. It looked like a disease of some kind; it was all red and a heavy white crust on it. Everybody kept out of my way, afraid it would spread. I lost rest at night and I couldn't bear to have anything touch my face, not even the pillow. I had to lie on the back of the head. I was always glad when morning came so I could get up. It was extremely painful.

Short of Winning a Battle. Short of winning a battle, nothing could have more delighted the Kaiser than the news that of all the ten various liners which hastened to the help of the Voltuino, the largest number of its passengers were saved by the Grosser Kurfurst (or Great Elector). But the name will have recalled to him the greatest disaster that ever befell the nascent German navy. This was the ramming of the ironclad Grosser Kurfurst by the Koenig Wilhelm off Fokstone in May, 1878, and the sinking of the vessel with a loss of 280 lives—the rest of its crew of 497 being picked up by the Folkestone fishing fleet. Two days later, when suffering acutely from this catastrophe, the old emperor was shot at and wounded by the Socialist Dr. Nolling.—London Chronicle.

Should Have Laughed. Newlywed—Did you spend as much money as this before I married you? Mrs. Newlywed—Why, yes. Newlywed—Then I can't understand why your father went on so when I took you away from him.

Affirmative Answer. She—Has Jack's auto got him into any serious trouble yet? He—Well, I understand he has become engaged to the girl he's been taking out in it.—Boston Evening Transcript.

FULLY NOURISHED Grape-Nuts a Perfectly Balanced Food. No chemist's analysis of Grape-Nuts can begin to show the real value of the food—the practical value as shown by personal experience. It is a food that is perfectly balanced, supplies the needed elements for both brain and body in all stages of life from the infant, through the strenuous times of active middle life, and is a comfort and support in old age. "For two years I have used Grape-Nuts with milk and a little cream, for breakfast. I am comfortably hungry for my dinner at noon. "I use little meat, plenty of vegetables and fruit, in season, for the noon meal, and if tired at tea time, take Grape-Nuts alone and feel perfectly nourished. "Nerve and brain power and memory are much improved since using Grape-Nuts. I am over sixty and weigh 155 lbs. My son and husband seeing how I had improved are now using Grape-Nuts. "My son, who is a traveling man, eats nothing for breakfast but Grape-Nuts and a glass of milk. An aunt, over 70, seems fully nourished on Grape-Nuts and cream." "There's a Reason."
