Republican County Convention

Loup City, Neb., March 8, 1904.—The Republican electors of Sherman county, Nebraska, are hereby requested to send delegates from their respective townships to meet in convention at Loup City, Nebraska, on Tuesday, April 26th, 1904, at 11 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of electing delegates to the Republican State and Senatorial conventions for the year 1904, to elect a county central committee and the chairman thereof, and to place in nomination a candidate for county attorney and a candidate for Representative of the 57th district of Nebraska. Also to transact such other business as may properly come before said convention.

The several townships are entitled to representation as follows: the apportionment being based upon the vote cast at the last general election for the Hon. John B. Barnes, Judge of the Supreme Court, giving each township one delegate for every seven votes or major fraction thereof and one delegate at large:

Oak Creek	2	Logan	5
Washington	6	Elm	3
Webster	4	Loup City	23
Ashton	7	Rockville	5
Clay	5	Harrison	9
Scott	3	Hazard	7
Bristol	6
Total	85

It is recommended that the primaries be held at the usual voting place in each township on Saturday, April 23, 1904.

By order of the Republican County Central Committee.

R. J. NIGHTINGALE, H. SMELSER,
Secretary. Chairman.

The only Walt Mason will start a paper at Beatrice. It will be a humor, no doubt, and the Walt Mason fabric through and through.

The Smoot investigation is developing the incontestable fact that the Mormons as a class wink at the law and go right along with their polygamous relations.

Gov. Mickey has scored another victory. Last week he was allowed to name the delegation from his home county to the state convention. Sad news for ex-Oil Hayes.

Sutherland, editor of the Tekamah Herald, wants to be state auditor, but as he has to deal with Rosewater and with ex-Speaker Searns of his own county, who undoubtedly have it in for him over the ex-Treasurer Stuefer imbroglio of two years since, wanting is probably as far as he will get.

Seventy five prominent Iowa democrats met in Des Moines the other evening and launched a presidential boom for Gen. Miles. What about Gen. Weaver and his Iowa boomlet for Willie Hearst? The Iowa democrats should get together. There is hardly enough of them to make two factions in the state, even to be kept before the public eye with the most powerful microscope.

Ex-Oil Inspector Hays recently distributed a circular purporting to contain damaging evidence against Gov. Mickey, connecting him with the Standard Oil monopoly, and threatening if Mickey were renominated to defeat him at the polls. This brought out a published statement from the governor completely refuting the charges and showing that Hays was slightly in arrears to the state when let out and was compelled to cough up $124.80 which belonged to the state. Mr. Hays should not shy dornicks while he resides in so brittle a castle. The governor evidently only wore two-ounce gloves when he handed Mr. Hays that solar plexis knock-out blow.

Did you ever see a good fat office hunting a man?

Walt Mason thinks it would be a great joke on Dietrich if the investigation at Washington really proved to be an investigation.

Did you ever notice how many more patriots there were in a party whose friends desired their candidacy for office, when said party was in the majority, than when it was in the minority?

The land commissioner's office is a desired plum by several. Deputy Eaton was first in the race and had a big following before Manning of Wayne broke into the arena. Ed. Royle from the Big Sixth is said to be in the fight, but we have no sure authority for that, only rumor. It looks as though Eaton had the mortal cinch on the job.

In the Iowa legislature last week a bill was introduced giving veterans of the civil war or naval veterans the preference in all public service in the state of whatsoever kind. The bill passed the house but when it reached the senate the bill was laid over until another time as the opposition was too strong for its passage at the time. There was a hot debate over it. As the days go by remembrance of the boys who saved the country in '61-'65 is growing dimmer in the eyes of the hungry office seekers.

A. R. Keim of Richardson county, who was secretary of the senate, wants to be the next state auditor. The principle reason assigned for his candidacy seems to be that "the position of auditor is the only one there is any possibility of securing for Richardson county," and "if that is done Richardson county 'will continue' to be represented in the state house; if not, she will be left out in the cold." Great Caesar! what a horrible nighthorse to disturb Richardson county dreams. To say nothing of their man's qualifications, the quoted possibility alone of that county not continuing to be represented in the state house should arouse the people of the state to a pitch of madness and they should as one man rise in the power of their majesty and prevent such a contingency. Perish the thought. Richardson left out in the cold! Never, Dicky, never, so long as the other eighty-nine counties are all so well cared for in the state house "out of the cold." Never, well, hardly ever.

J. B. Dinsmore is out in a card stating he had read the signs of the times wrong when he thought this a propitious time to make the race for governor. He has found that the cry against Mickey is not of a serious nature, and thinks the popular demand is for the second term of the present incumbent. Exit Dinsmore. Iddings, also, gives it out that he is not after the governorship. With these gentlemen out of the race, there is yet Honorable William Henry Harrison after the job, but his little poemlet has all signs of premature decay, which promises by convention time to be so decomposed as to be unfit for presentation to the great body of intelligent Republicans in state session assembled. The man whom Mickey has most to fear is Judge Robertson of Norfolk, who we understand has finally decided to compete for the prize, with the belief that Mickey's nomination means his defeat at the polls. We believe the judge has been misled, but after years of acquaintanceship with Mr. Robertson and having the utmost faith in his honesty and integrity as a man, we have no doubt he is honestly mistaken, if mistaken he be.

Teachers' Convention at Aurora

Aurora is making extensive plans for the entertainment of the teachers of the Central Nebraska Educational Association on March 30th and 31st and April 1st. The key to the city will be thrown away and the drawbridge let down and spiked open for the goings and comings of the pedagogues. There will be addresses by notable speakers—such as Frank Roberson, the celebrated traveler and lecturer, and W. W. Stetson, state superintendent of Maine—besides a program of good interest and instruction. There will be good music, open hospitality, adequate entertainment at hotels and in private homes at a nominal charge, and the good people of the city will serve as a committee to see that every want of the teachers is supplied and every means served that will enhance the profit and pleasure of the session. Aurora is easy of access by railroad and the roads are passable for walking in case the school treasurer is short on funds. Every teacher should plan to go and be entertained, instructed and edified.

Obituary—Mrs. John Goldsworthy

The death angel entered the home of John Goldsworthy in this city last Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock and took the immortal spirit of the beloved wife and mother to its eternal home. The deceased was 55 years, 3 months and 23 days old and had only been confined to her bed about two weeks although she has been a sufferer for years. Mrs. Goldsworthy has been known since their residence with us by her patience and kindness. The funeral services were held in the Wiggle Creek school house owing to the quarantine regulations existing here, Rev. John Madely of this city conducting the services. Their many friends join with us in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

Eliza Daddow was born in Perranzelabou county of Cornwall, England, November 21st, 1848. She was the eldest of a family of nine children, seven boys and two girls; all survive her except one brother who died in 1893. At Pontsbury, county of Selop, she was taken to wife by John Goldsworthy. To this union were born seven children five girls and two boys, all living but one son, John, who died at the age of two years and five months.

She came to America with her husband and baby girl in 1869 locating in the lead and copper mining districts of Wisconsin and Michigan where they remained for three years and returned across the Atlantic. In those days a trip across the sea was not made in a few days, but in weeks according to the weather. On this voyage there were two children, both girls. In 1885 they again crossed the briny deep, this time with six children, the oldest then a young lady of eighteen. They located in this county where her father, mother and entire family lived. Here they remained until Mr. Goldsworthy, being a life long miner, decided to try his luck in the Colorado gold fields and Mrs. G. and six children followed him in 1890. In 1900 Mrs. G. was brought back to this place a physical wreck, the doctors thinking she could live no longer in so high an altitude. She soon became stronger and during the summer months enjoyed fairly good health but in the winter suffered much.

At last she was called from this world of toil and strife to that home beyond the skies and a husband and a host of relatives and friends will miss her here but feel that she has entered into the joy of her Lord who will say to her "Well done good and faithful servant."

The children are: Mesdames E. A. Brown, N. T. Daddow, F. V. May, A. W. Throckmorton, B. W. Parkhurst, all now residents of this county and Mr. W. J. Goldsworthy of Denver Colorado.

SHATTERING OF A ROMANCE.

Girl's Answer Ended Love's Young and Rosy Dream.

For several minutes the young man did not speak. His heart was too full. It was enough for him to know that this glorious creature loved him; that she had promised to share his fate. With a new and delighted sense of ownership he feasted his eyes once more upon her beauty, and as he realized that henceforth it would be his privilege to provide for her welfare and happiness, he could have almost wept with joy. His good fortune seemed incredible. Finally he whispered, tenderly:

"How did it ever happen, darling, that such a bright, shining angel as yourself fell in love with a dull, stupid fellow like me?"

"Goodness knows!" she murmured, absently; "I must have a screw loose somewhere."

Dressed Just as Well.
The lawyers were swapping yarns the other day during a recess in the district court. A lawyer whose wife is marked for her good dressing told how he had come to be such a good provider. Soon after he was married his wife said to her that she wasn't as well dressed as she used to be before marriage. "Oh, you are mistaken," said the wife. "I am wearing the same clothes I did then."

Newspaper Work in Russia.
Newspaper work in Russia is not pleasant. The government spends more money on its press censors than on its schools. Last year eighty-three papers were suspended for various periods, and twenty-six were forbidden to accept all advertisements, while 259 editors were told they could have a short vacation in Siberia if they continued their methods of reviving various public questions.

Danger Signals.
Persistent insomnia, unvented irritability and dream of grappling with business problems are danger signals of general nervous breakdown.

Just the Same.
Mount Colima is again thoughtlessly spouting in Mexico, just as if it were a spellbinder under a campaign contract.—Indianapolis News.

PATIENCE.

If, when morning breaks
Clouds obscure the sky,
Fear not; God who makes
Clouds, has sunshine nigh.
Be patient.

If the garden parch,
Thirsty for the rain,
Know April follows March—
Showers will obtain.
Be patient.

When Mary's other beau
Calls before you do,
Don't get mad and go;
He'll get tired, too.
Be patient.

If the good wife frown,
Wait a little while;
Keep your temper down,
Soon will come a smile.
Be patient.

When you're out of health—
If you're feeling sick—
Do not dose yourself.
Get a doctor quick.
Be patient.

The Wind.
The wind went forth o'er land and sea,
Loud and free;
Foaming waves leapt up to meet it;
Stately pines bowed down to greet it;
While the wailing sea
And the forest's murmured sigh
Joined the cry
Of the wind that swept o'er land and sea.

The wind that blew upon the sea
Fierce and free,
Cast the bark upon the shore,
Whence it sailed the night before
Full of hope and glee;
And the cry of pain and death
Was but a breath
Through the wind that roared upon the sea.

The wind was whispering on the lea
But the white rose felt it pass,
And the fragile stalks of grass
Shook with fear to see
All her trembling petals shed,
As it fled
So gently by the wind upon the lea.

Blow, thou wind, upon the sea
Fierce and free,
And a gentler message send,
Where trail flowers and grasses bend,
On the sunny lea,
For thy bidding still is one,
Be it done
In tenderness or wrath, on land or sea!
