It is rumored that D. S. Draper may buy his brother's (J. B. Draper) interest in the new brick building and go in with E. A. Draper in the harness and saddlery business. He has sold his interests at Spaulding and is taking life easy at present.
A young boy named Roy Fry lost a foot in a corn sheller at Litchfield Thanksgiving. He was driving a horse power, when in some way he lost his balance and stepped on the main drive wheel, crushing his foot in such a way that amputation was necessary.
Drs. Davis & Farnsworth of Grand Island, Neb., are prepared to treat all forms of chronic diseases, such as Rheumatism, Stomach disorders, Tumors, Cancers, Paralysis, Kidney diseases, etc. The doctors use, besides medicine and surgery, the x-ray, hot air baths, electricity and massage.
W. H. Brown, father of Mrs. E. G. Taylor, who has been visiting here the past two weeks, will return to his home at David City Saturday. Father Brown is highly pleased over the election of Roosevelt and Mickey, especially the latter. He is glad he lived to see old Sherman county wheel into the Republican line once more. Father Brown is an old veteran of the civil war, and remembers not pleasantly that he lost his vote for president while at the battle's front through Horatio Seymour, the then governor of New York. Of course the grand old man reads THE NORTHWESTERN each week and takes a lively interest in his old home, as chronicled in its columns fifty-two times each year. We acknowledge a pleasant financial and fraternal call. We like these silvery-haired Republican patriarchs.

J. S. Pedler left Monday for Idaho Springs, where his daughter is sojourning for her health, attended by her mother. Mr. Pedler will stay as long as possible, returning in time for court which is set for the 20th inst.
There was a big reunion of the great and good Draper family on Thanksgiving. There were Father and Mother Draper, E. A., D. C., J. B., Edgar and all the other sons and their families, besides an adopted son, John Thralkill, and family of Litchfield; Mrs. E. J. Massie, a sister of Mother Draper, from Greenfield, Iowa, and Martin Kaebler a brother-in-law of J. B. Draper, from St. Louis. It was a most pleasant affair.
Thanksgiving Day was observed by our people this year each to his own liking, there being no general observance of the day. The lovers of hunting were distributed over the prairies in quest of game. A number of our people visited in other towns and partook of the good cheer of friends, while good people of sister towns did the same here with Loup city friends. All in all Thanksgiving passed off pleasantly and the day was a joyful one with all.
Our German Verein friends gave a masked ball at the Pilger opera house, Thanksgiving night, and entertained the largest crowd ever in the opera house. Over one hundred masked couples participated in the festivities, and perhaps the same number of lady and gentlemen sightseers were present to witness the good time. Boone, the photographer, offered one dozen cabinet photos to the one having a festive costume, which was won by Mrs. Fred Jens, who was also one of the most graceful dancers on the floor. There were many excellent costumes worn, making a decision difficult. Jolly Jake Albers was captain of the evening, and aided by a number of faithful lieutenants and everything passed off in the very best of taste. Our German friends know how to do things up in the very best style.

Dr. Main will occupy rooms in the new bank building.
Tom and Jerry entertained a number of Loup City friends in this city, Thanksgiving.
C. W. Fredrick, the new jeweler, has rented the Garner cottage vacated by Clarence Penney.
Editor Brown and family formed a private dinner party at Mulick's cafe on Thanksgiving.
Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cooper entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fredrick at Thanksgiving dinner.
Mrs. Hugh Sleeth left for Omaha last week to join her husband, who is doing business in that city.
George Brill, son of Mrs. Judge Wall, is here from the west part of the state, and we understand will stay all winter.
W. D. Hover & Co. take this opportunity of informing their patrons that their holiday line of Rockers are here.
Will Bowman got his foot mashed by an armful of brick falling on it while working on the bank building, last Friday.
The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold their annual fair and bazaar at the opera house on Dec. 17th. Don't forget the date.
Clarence Sweetland was home from college for his share of turkey and some of mother's mince pie, returning to school Monday.
H. M. Mathew went to Broken Bow, Thanksgiving, where he had a big case in the courts, involving some thousands of dollars.
Geo. Scott was up from Council Bluffs last Tuesday, at the funeral of his aunt Mrs. Catherine Gray, returning home the following day.
There was a very good attendance at the reception given Pastor Wold last Tuesday evening. A good time was enjoyed by all present.
The Modern Brotherhood of America had a fine supper and program at the hall, last Friday evening. A good turnout and a splendid time was had.
Pastor Wold of the Baptist church will preach next Sunday on the following subjects: Morning: "Love;" evening: "The Death of Christ." All are welcome.
The following Loup City people celebrated Thanksgiving with friends at Arcadia: Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Smith, Albert Johnson and Charley Conhiser.
Tiling is being placed under the streets and alleys in connection with the big ditch over the city, and the drainage system of Loup City is now in first class shape.
We received a pleasant call this morning from Carl Anderson Carl recently add 15 acres to his farm just north of town paying therefor the neat sum of $1,000.
There will be services at the German church next Sunday, by the new German minister. A cordial invitation is extended to all the communicants and friends of that society to attend.
There was a family reunion at the home of D. C. Grow, Thanksgiving, all the children and the children's children gathered under the parental roof. A happy time was a matter of course.
Miss Jessie Culley entertained at dinner on Thanksgiving the following named schoolmates: Emma Outhouse Elva Zimmerman, Otis Hiser, Ben Swanson, Theo. F. Pilger and Arthur Brown.
Judge Wall returned from Broken Bow, Lincoln, Omaha, and other points, Monday evening. Despite the fact that the state papers have been full of mention of the judge for president pro tem of the senate, he distinctly states that he is not a candidate for that honor.
Arcadia Champion; Albert Johnson was elected township clerk of Loup City township by a majority of 160 out of 325 votes. Albert was on the Republican ticket and this fact, coupled with Albert's genial qualities, account for it. Looks like Albert was some pumpkins down there, all right.
We received Tuesday a fine sample of honey from W. H. Creery, who owns the fine bee farm near the mill in south Loup City. The honey was "home grown," so to speak, and is taken from among the many stands on his farm. The honey is from alfalfa fed bees, and is the finest we ever ate. Mr. Creery came here from St. Edwards, this state, last March, and has entered extensively into the bee culture, and is making a grand success of it. He has fifty stands of bees headed by imported pedigreed queens which cost him $5 each. He has this year sold 600 pounds of honey from his bees. Mr. Creery is an authority on bee culture, and will without doubt make grand success of his bee farm. It is a pleasure and a profit to hear his talk and knowledge of bee culture. Mr. Creery is an old printer, as well, and orders this paper to visit him hear after.

War in the East

PART OF SHERMAN COUNTY

Wednesday morning a telephone message was received by County Clerk Gibson from Justice John Smith of Ashton asking for the county attorney and stating that another chapter of the Zalinski-Fast feud had occurred.
The county attorney being absent, the case was conducted by the judge himself for the state and R. J. Nightingale represented the defense, resulting in the holding of Jacob Zalinski and his wife to district court.
The facts seem to be that Mrs. Fast and her daughter Anna were driving in a buggy along the public highway which passes the Zalinski farm and were seen by old man Zalinski, who was husking corn. He unhitched his horses, got one and his wife took a knife and a club with her, caught the horse by the tail for assistance in her flight, and the two sailed through the cornfield and headed the women off. They beat them with a club until the girl Anna was knocked from the buggy. The horses then ran away, taking old Mrs. Fast with them, and the fight proceeded with the girl. She was pretty badly bruised and had a cut on the thigh over two inches long which the doctor says was made with a sharp instrument, probably a knife.
Constable John Goe of Ashton was dispatched for the Zalinskis and after some trouble with the fiendish temper of the old woman, landed them before the court.
The Harry Kimmel Company, which was here last night in "Who Could Blame Him," gave a very faithful interpretation of the play. The opera house was fairly well filled, and the audience well pleased withal. Mr. Kimmel has with him a very capable company, and our people make no mistake in patronizing it. They give the well known drama, "Saved," tonight, and judging from last night's performance it will be well worth witnessing.
Say, everybody! come and see THE NORTHWESTERN office in its new clothes. We have been re-painted, re-papered, re-plastered and re-fixed (or the office has) until scarcely recognizable. Republican times. See.
Clear Creek Chat.
A baby girl at Henry Beck's.
Corn husking the order of the day.
John Mead sold steers for $36 per head.
Corn is of good quality and yields 25 to 45 bushels.
Threasion is building a fine barn on the Gowen quarter.
John Beck, out at Grand Junction, Col., is the daddy of a baby boy.
John Mead and A. Bent go to the Chicago international stock show.
W. Garnett moves to town and expects to run a free delivery route east of Litchfield.
Balsora Items.
The Balsora school wishes to return thanks to Mrs. and Miss Ella Foster for a large number of copies of Youth's Companions and other interesting magazines, which were kindly contributed to the new school library.
The new library arrived at the Balsora school Monday—forty-six volumes of choice literature. We are proud of it.
Mrs. John Fagen went to Iowa last week to be at the bedside of her sick sister. At last accounts the sister was better.
Frank Evans is hauling corn to town this week.
Mrs. Nordstrom entertained the teacher royally last Wednesday night.

Do you read THE NORTHWESTERN? If not, why not? Less than 2c per week.
Patronize the "Days of the Week Bazar" at Pilger's Opera House, Dec. 10th. Useful and ornamental articles on sale for each day of the week. Supper served from 5:30 to 8 o'clock. Be sure to leave your subscriptions at the Ladies' Home Journal Booth.
When you step into this office and see how nicely it has been fixed up, give credit for the paring to the "long and short" of it, P. H. Goebelz and E. F. Jones; for the carpenter work to jolly Charley Rowe; the plastering to the only St. Peter Rowe, and the painting so far done to his satanic majesty of this office. All well done.
Stewart McFadden took the editor to task this week, on account of failure to receive his paper regularly. And we will give the secret. We supposed Stewart was so well known that it was not necessary to give his first name on the list, and simply put it on "McFadden," and that's the good truth—or else we forgot to put on the Stewart prefix, just as you please. Anyway the cigars are on us, and Stewart will hereafter get his just rights.
