

If you are going to do any fencing this spring, remember I handle the Grand Island Field Fencing with barbed wire at top and bottom, which keeps your stock from creeping under or crawling over.

Respectfully, yours, P. O. REED.

Cowell, who is ill, and the body was laid to rest in Verdure cemetery, where two of Mr. DeLyster's children are buried.
A most enjoyable affair occurred last week Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cooper, that worthy couple giving a surprise party on the evening mentioned in honor of the 24th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Cooper's brother, Mr. Burt Fancher, at which were some twenty invited guests. An elegant supper in three courses was provided by Mesdames Cooper and Fancher, after which the evening was passed in music and progressive finch, till the wee sma hours o' morn admonished the delighted guests that all pleasure must have a close. It was a complete surprise to Burt who came from the store in no prescribed evening costume to find himself confronted by a galaxy of beauty and masculine beauty ideal. Guests present were Messrs and Mesdames Victor Johnson and Fickus, the Misses Cora and Jessie Leininger, Tony and Libbie Erasm, Effie Moon, Lucy Grow, Ernie Odenbahl and Nettie Conger, and Messrs. Jim Depew was taken down with the grip Tuesday, and his good friends around town sent him a letter of condolence signed by the undertaker. When Jim gets up and around again a new undertaker and the funeral of those sympathetic friends may confidently be expected.
We see by the Falls City Journal that Geo. and John Benschoter and families are moving up on their ranch near Schell, Neb. The boys have traded their lively business at Falls City for a big sandhills ranch and will go into the cattle business on an extensive plan. We wish them all sorts of good fortune.
Adventist Church. Three stirring addresses by Elder A. T. Robinson, of Lincoln. Friday evening, Feb. 17th, "Is the world growing better, or getting worse?" Saturday evening, Feb. 18th, "The Millennium, or Armageddon, Which?" Sunday evening, Feb. 19th, "The Eastern question: Must the Turk leave Europe? What will 120,000,000 Mohammedans do about it? What does the settlement of this question mean to the world?" Public cordially invited.
The joke is on Dr. Main, but he fails to appreciate as much as might be were the experience another's. Last Thursday he attended a call some distance east of this city, and the roads being inaccessible to teams, was obliged to make the trip on horseback. On his return, in making a short cut across the prairie, he mistook innocent looking snow covering a deep ditch for a safe road, and only found different when his horse plunged nose down into the drift, landing the doctor head over heels in several feet of the beautiful. This was not so bad, but when the equine lit out for home without even a "Fare ye well, Bro. Watkins-ah," leaving the doctor to flounder a couple of miles homeward, you can imagine the rest.
