Death of Miss Sadie Pedler.

Perhaps never has the obsequies of any one in Loup City caused so much genuine sorrow in the hearts of our people as those attending the last sad rites to Miss Sadie Pedler, which occurred from the Methodist church on Tuesday of this week. On Thursday of last week a telegram was received from Phoenix, Arizona, that Miss Sadie had finally succumbed to the ravages of that fell pest, over consumption, and on the morning in question had passed into the Great Beyond. Some eight months since, Miss Pedler, who never possessed a rugged constitution, caught a severe cold which settled on her lungs and in spite of the tenderest care, her health began to decline. Her fond father and devoted mother shortly afterward took her to the bracing mountain atmosphere of Colorado, the mother remaining at her side, while the father only leaving her when demands of business made it imperative to return home for a season. A few weeks since, he returned to Colorado, Miss Sadie's condition becoming rapidly more alarming, and the parents sought the climatic conditions of Arizona, in the hope of beneficial results, but in vain, the dread malady ending the poor girl's life, as stated, on Thursday morning last. Mr and Mrs. Pedler arrived home Monday evening with the remains, a large number of sympathetic friends being at the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Cowell and were very impressive. The beautiful casket opened full length giving a view of deceased as though quietly sleeping, and death's mark seemed to rest faintly on the sleeper. Above the casket were banked in profusion most beautiful flowers, the whole forming a scene never to pass from memory's innermost chamber. Miss Sadie was the idolized daughter and only child of Mr and Mrs. J. S. Pedler. She was born in Loup City, on the 18th of September, 1886, and died at Phoenix, Arizona, on the morning of Feb. 23d, 1905, aged 18 years, 5 months and 5 days. The heartbroken parents have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

The bereaved parents desire us to extend their heartfelt thanks to all their kind friends for the expressions of sympathy and for their assistance and comfort during the illness and subsequent death of their beloved daughter.

The senate knocked out the "put-gasoline-in-red-cans" bill.

Tom Denison, the big Omaha gambler, has at last been taken to Iowa to answer for alleged complicity in the Pollock diamond robbery of years ago. Who don't believe him guilty? Don't all answer at once!

We have received numerous circulars from patent medicine vendors requesting us to write our senator and representative to help kill Bresser's anti-patent medicine bill. As we believe in taking whiskey straight, if taken at all, rather than a vile concoction under a patent medicine label, excuse us, and let the fight go 'wan.

Sixty-five farmers in the lower house of the Nebraska legislature are said to have bound themselves together in a hide-bound compact to block legislation unless they can get just what they want. Are we to have a modern legislative inquisition, or a Knights of the Golden Circle, or is something weird and spectacular? By the great horns! what possibilities! what possibilities!

"Czar" Rouse adjourned "his" house for two days last week, and then went over and instructed the senate to hold sessions on Friday and Saturday to get in days to even up the house number of sittings. And the senate did? Yes, they did—sit down on the "czar" and bid as they pleased, virtually informing the would-be dictator of both branches of the legislature that he was only "c" of the house, and the senate was capable of attending to it's own affairs, and George could go way back and sit down "How unkind?"

If we were a cartoonist, we would draw a picture of Czar Rouse on his throne (the padded speaker's chair) with a crown made from the $3 per day unconstitutional salary he receives as speaker, and with the employes of the house prostrate before him in Oriental attitude. Bah! what a pie-faced lot of employes the house must have, and what a meek and lowly lot of representatives the house possesses to allow their representative employes to be treated as underlings. Geo. L. Rouse, speaker of the house, is of the same mold as W. H. Harrison, who last session insulted every employe of both houses, while getting $3 per day unconstitutional salary himself as president pro tem of the senate.
