E. F. Jones, in the employ of Truelsen & Mellor, well diggers, met with a severe and painful accident on the Harrington place, yesterday. In lowering a pipe into the well, his hand became entangled in the chain, tearing off the top of a little finger and bruising the third finger badly. He was brought to town where Dr. Long dressed his hand.

Frank Dennis arrived from Trenton, last Monday, to take charge of the Northern Milling Co.'s interests in this city, vice D. C. He will not move his family here till later.

Frank Tkywart was over on Clear Creek last Sunday, visiting his mother and sisters. They will shortly come to live with Frank, as they have disposed of their farm there and most of their stock. Mrs. Tkywart may shortly buy or build a home in Loup City. Frank says much excitement exists over the Haddix-Butler killing over on Clear Creek, and threats are prevalent that Haddix were safer not to return to the scene of the trouble.

We received a pleasant call from Mr. Will Albers of Litchfield last week. Mr. Albers advanced the subscription of our good friend Chas. Haller another year. Thanks.

The M. E. fair and chicken-pie supper last Friday evening at Society Hall gave the ladies some $63 and a little over for their trouble, and the event was good as is always the case in whatever the ladies attempt.

B. M. Gasteyer had a finely decorated show window at the store last Saturday with a hen and brood of young chicks, the first of the season. It formed the nucleus of much interest among the young people and older ones as well.

Mr. George Scott was called from his home at Council Bluffs, Iowa, last week by the serious illness of his good mother. He returned home Saturday to attend some business, returning to his mother's bedside the first of the week.

E. M. Johnson of Rockville was among the boys who were up Tuesday to ride the Woodman goat. He escaped without serious injury, all because he became insured as a reader of THE NORTHWESTERN before attempting the difficult feat. Erick is all right.

A. E. Charlton informed us Monday that he had just let the contract for building two cottages on his lots north of J. B. O'Bryans residence, to Wm. Howe and work would begin at once. They will be of six rooms, story and a half, and there will be a 75 foot frontage to each.

News has been received from Dr. A. S. Allen, of Chicago, that he has lately undergone an operation for appendicitis, and that he is rapidly recovering. He graduates in the dental school at that city, May 4th, and will be in Loup City to open his dental office about May 15th.

Dr. Kearns is the first of the season with a handsome flower bed of hyacinths and tulips in full bloom. Near by is a bed of pansies just peeping forth, the whole bearing the sweet incense of spring. Each year Dr. Kearns' garden is a bower of beauty, and this season he will have several new varieties, one a bed of Japanese variety, said to be most bewitching when in bloom.

Rev. Cowell's usually docile horse engaged in a very undignified runaway last Saturday, making kindling wood of the preacher's chaise. While the reverend was visiting at the bedside of Mrs. Scott, who was quite ill, the animal became frightened at some cause and took a spin for his health. When found, he had divested himself of all his paraphernalia and was quietly browsing at though nothing out of the way had happened.

We are indebted to Supt. Hendrickson for a fine picture of the graduating class and teacher, of the Balsora school, whose commencement exercises we attended some weeks since. The two young lady graduates of No. 60, who joined with the Balsora school, were not taken with the group, owing to the distressing accident sustained by one of them in a runaway at the close of the exercises, and the other young lady refraining through courtesy to her classmate.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion among the business people with whom we have talked and with our people generally, that Loup City should have another Carnival this fall. Last year, with the shortest of time for preparation, Loup City had a Carnival and Street Fair which was pronounced by all to have been a success from start to finish, even with most execrable weather a portion of the time. Now, what do our people say to having a meeting at an early day and make arrangements for a Carnival? Let us hear from those interested.

Double Wedding.

A very pleasant wedding took place at the residence of H. S. Wold, Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. Fred Sardh was married to Miss Louise Winberg and Mr. Carl Winberg was married to Miss Signa Sandh, Rev. Wold officiating. After the ceremony, dinner was served and all had a very enjoyable time. These young people will all settle down on farms near Balsora.

Big Woodman Time.

Last Tuesday night was a gala time in Modern Woodman circles of our city. On that evening some twenty or more of the best young men of Rockville and Loup City and vicinity of these two towns were initiated into the mysteries of woodcraft as taught by that good order, Modern Woodmen of America. For some time past State Deputy J. O. Burgess of Hastings and District Deputy Geo. A. Heikes of Central City have been here working up interest in Woodcraft, which culminated in the taking in to the order some twenty new members and the renewal of those who had laps d. On the evening in question the hall was filled to overflowing with "the boys" to see the new comers do the act. Neighbor Burgess had charge of the most impressive part of the work, assisted by Neighbor Heikes and the officers of the home order and everything passed off in fine shape and to the eminent satisfaction of all present. Those who took their first lessons in Woodcraft were: From Rockville—Erick and Erank Johnson, Chas. and Clarence Wilson, Peter Peterson, Jesse Gray, Ira Pugh, Chas. Reiland, Chas. Butler, Frank Hendrickson and Fred Brammer. From Loup City—W. W. McCullough, Jay Carr, Jacob Winklemann, Elmer Burkner, Lee Burnett, Art Ogle and Harley Hedge. The "old boys" who came up from Rockville to see that the boys from that section had fair treatment, were: Neighbors Geo. Brammer, Sam Carpenter, Henry Reiland, Lewis Butler, Frank Ofield, Peter Larsen, Jacob Koch, El Ogle, Jos. and John Heil and Clark Heil of Cairo.

Let's see. It rained Easter Sunday, which according to the old saw gives us seven rainy Sundays to follow.

We are indebted to Mrs. J. A. Gilbert for advance subscriptions for her paper and the copy sent to her daughter, Mrs. V. W. Krise in Oregon.

Married at the court house by county Judge Angier, Wednesday, April 26, 1905, Mr. Wm. E. Johnson, of Custer county, and Miss Rosetta C. Bennett, of Valley county.

Will Wharton was severely injured at the U. P. engine-house, last Thursday, and now indulges in a rather undignified limp to his walk. He will be all right shortly as you can't keep a good man down.

What is Loup City going to do on the dog question? There are more measy curs roaming about town and making night hideous with their unearthly howling and barking than is conducive to the health of the average citizen. We hereby call the attention of the village trustees to the dog nuisance, and ask them to take some action toward abating it. We have no objection to valuable specimens of the canine creation, if they are properly restrained, but to the thousand and one worthless curs that infest the village, we mildly(?) protest against their receiving the keys of the city and making festal occasions when humanity desires rest and sleep. What action will the trustees take, or if any.
