A Call to Prayer.
We would call the attention of all Christian people residing in and about Loup City, to the fact that next Sunday there will be observed a day of prayer at the Baptist church. We expect to commence our service at 9 o'clock a. m. continuing until the regular hour for preaching service, when the pastor will deliver a sermon. The Sunday School will then be held as usual after which there will be a recess until 2 p. m. when the praise and prayer service will again commence. To continue as long as the interest is good. The young people's service will be held at the usual hour. A very hearty invitation is extended to all our friends to be present and participate in these services.
H. S. WOLD, Pastor.

Estray Notice.
Taken up as an estray on the old Andrew Baker place in Logan township, Sherman county, Nebraska, on the 4th day of June, 1905, the following described stock: Two dehorned Hereford cows, one with horse-shoe brand on right hip; one red and white spotted calf, and one red calf.
Owner will prove property, pay all costs and take same away, or stock will be sold according to law.

Death of A. H. Potter.

Adin Hiram Potter was born at Hampton, N. Y., Feb. 24, 1844, and died June 13th, 1905, being 61 years, 3 months and 19 days old at the time of his death. He was married to Diana Lawrence at Sycamore, Ill., Sept. 1st, 1868. He enlisted as private in the Civil war Sept. 5, 1861, in Co. D 6th regiment N. Y. Volunteers, serving 3 yrs. 9 mos. and was honorably discharged June 5, 1865. He was mustered as Comrade into Perryville Post No. 231 G. A. R. Dept. Nebr., June 10th, 1890. As a soldier his experience was varied and at times perilous. He was taken prisoner and languished in the Andersonville prison for eighteen months suffering the horrors of that terrible prison pen, here he saw so many noble comrades die of starvation and ill-treatment. These scenes he seldom spoke of except to his intimate friends. He has been a prominent business man in Litchfield for years and postmaster for eight years, discharging the duties of that office with fidelity and strict attention to its details, although suffering from the malady that culminated in his death and when he was finally stricken down while attending to the duties of his office. As a business man he was upright and honorable and a man of strong integrity and in his demise Litchfield loses one of its most prominent citizens. He leaves a wife and four children besides a host of friends to mourn his loss. One of his daughters preceded him to the land beyond several years ago, four children

Notice.

I have made arrangements to handle the Colorado sand stone for side and cross walks and would like to figure with you if you want a walk.
This stone is used in Denver, Colo., on the main streets, for walks, and some of the walks have been laid more than twenty-five years and are still in good shape.
I have samples of this stone at the store and will be pleased to show you same.
Respectfully yours,
P. O. REED.

Married, at the Catholic church last Monday morning at 9 o'clock, Mr. John Synak and Miss Mary Czaplowski, both of this city. The bride was gowned in pale blue silk and was attended by Miss Frances Kaslo and Miss Martha Czaplowski. The groom was attended by Mr. Jacob Synak and Joseph Czaplowski. The happy young couple will go to housekeeping at Farwell, where the groom is employed by the B. & M.

District court convened Tuesday with Judge Hostetler presiding. The present session is confined almost wholly to civil cases and no jury was called. No cases of general interest were up for hearing save the Lindall divorce matter which ended in Mrs. Lindall securing her freedom, the custody of her three children and $800 alimony. One of the most commendable features of our court matters is the dispatch with which Judge Hostetler goes through the docket and his business-like methods which prove our eminent jurist one of the best in the state. The session will probably end today.

Error of Telegrapher.

A recent cable from London to Montreal, reporting the speech of an English visitor to the latter city, considerably hurt the feelings of Canadians by stating that Montreal was "the most depraved" city. A later telegram, however, soothed the ruffled citizens by informing them that the words quoted should have read "the worst paved city."

P. O. Reed took a run out to Denver last week Tuesday, returning Saturday evening. As will be noticed in another column, Mr. Reed made arrangements for handling the Colorado sandstone for sidewalks, which will repay you to investigate.

Mrs. Arthur Minshall died Thursday, June 15th, at her home south of Litchfield. Deceased was born in Indiana, January 20th, 1867, and moved to this county with her parents while a girl. Her maiden name was Maria Duck. Her father, mother, one sister, husband and seven children survive her.

Arrangements are being made for a big celebration on the Fourth at Jenner's Park. Judge Wall will deliver the oration, while Robt. Mathew will read the Declaration of Independence, and a mammoth display of fireworks is booked for the evening. It will be a good place to celebrate.

A. P. DeLyster has started a feed store in the old Solms hardware building across the street from Gasteyer's store, where he will handle especially the milling stuffs of the Loup City Mills. A. P. will tell you all about it in the columns of THE NORTHWESTERN just as soon as he gets his stuffs all in and ready for business.

Troy Hale met with a serious accident last Saturday, which lays him up for a while, but fortunately did not end fatally. While working on a haystack on his farm north of town he missed his footing and fell to the ground hurting his back severely and running three times of a pitchfork deeply into his leg. He suffered intensely for a couple of days, but at present writing is on the road to recovery.

Robt. Mathew, the talented son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Mathew, returned home from Lincoln last Friday, where he graduated with honors from the law department of the State University, and will, we understand, begin the practice of law here in Loup City in his father's office. Mr. Mathew has been an earnest student of law and is a young man of whom our people have a right to be proud and we predict for him success from the outset.

Rockville is making arrangements for one of the biggest celebrations ever held in this section of the country. Last Thursday, Dr. L. E. Dickinson and Tom Lay, two of her brightest young business men were in Loup City making arrangements for the extensive advertising of their celebration, and assured us that they earnestly desired the presence of as many of our people and of the people of Sherman county as could find it convenient to be with them on that day, and guaranteed to treat them royally, as Rockville always does strangers within her gates.

Drs. Davis & Farnsworth of Grand Island, Neb., are prepared to treat all forms of chronic diseases, such as Rheumatism, Stomach disorders, Tumors, Cancers, Paralysis, Kidney diseases, etc. The doctors use, besides medicine and surgery, the x-ray, hot air baths, electricity and massage.

Frank Kuhn and family were over from Clear Creek last Thursday and Friday visiting Mr. Kuhn's cousin, Walter Smith, and family. Frank has sold his farm in that section, to give possession next April. Frank is a jolly fellow, and has been in this country for some twenty-six years, and is one of Sherman county's most widely known and respected citizens. He has no future location in view, but wherever he pitches his tent, he has the best wishes of everybody he knows and their name is Legion.

G. A. Curry returned last Saturday from St. Edwards, Boone county, where on the preceding Sunday he buried his younger brother, W. E. Curry, a prominent stockman of that county. Mr. Curry was called twice to the home of his brother, who had contracted severe stomach trouble, before the end came. The younger brother had made all arrangements to come to Sherman county and go into business with his brother here, when his sudden and fatal illness came, and was on the eve of buying large tract of land contiguous to that belonging to his brother. Thus it is that man proposes, but God disposes, and the sickle of death reapers all mortal plans powerless. Deceased left a beloved wife and four charming little daughters, the eldest being scarcely past her tenth birthday, but providentially left them plentifully supplied with this world's goods, living literally up to the Scriptural injunction of "He that provideth for his own," etc.
